GO-BETWEEN IN KIDNAPING TRAPPED

Today

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THIS WAS written on board a train, northbound through Florida, and the journey helps to explain how men, or thinking animals like them, may contrive to live on other planets, under conditions of heat, cold and atmosphere that we should call impossible.

YOU SEE that it is very hot, as you look through the car window, but you live in an "air conditioned" environment, the temperature artificially reduced by twenty or more degrees, air washed and freed of dust. The Florida sun of May glares through the car windows, and your compartment is almost too cold.

RAILROAD TRAVEL is not what it used to be before the air-brake days, when railroading was adventure. The engineer would whistle "down brakes," the brakeman would throw open the front door, letting the winter wind sweep through the car, and turn the icy, snow-covered brake wheels with his hands. Those were the days when the greatest railroad president said of Westinghouse, air-brake inventor, "if that man thinks he can stop a railroad train with air, he can't know much about railroading."

Some other great railroad men talk about as intelligently, if you tell them to compete with motor buses and trucks, not by shedding tears, but by using light equipment, in smaller units, going 150 miles an hour, at a quarter of a cent per passenger mile, and less.

They will see that and more wonderful things, as they now see the air-brake working. The streamline train is a beginning.

MILLIONS AND millions of fertile acres, unused, are on both sides of the tracks, through state after state, acres that could feed tens of millions and build up national wealth, as other acres have done, and we keep out ambitious immigration except when it bootlegs itself in.

One million workers from Northern Italy would add billions to the wealth of Florida. Go to California and see what the Italians, Swiss and French have done there.

Who planted the steep slopes of those high hills? They did.

SAMUEL INSULL lands in Chicago, facing prosecution and possibly jail. How many "important respectabilities," safe on their yachts or in their counting houses, might look at Insull and say what the great Bohemian said, looking at a poor drunkard in the gutter: "But for the grace of God, there lies John Huss."

What Insull did, others have done, on a bigger or smaller scale. The market happened to break under them. They happened not to get caught.

THE NEW Stock Exchange law may bring business and balm to worried bankers, that now look upon their pitiful, huge piles of "liquidity," alias ready money, unable to lend it because they are afraid of everything that calls itself "security." That is as bad as having a cow and being afraid to milk her, lest she kick.

The definition of a banker as one who "lends you an umbrella when the sun is shining and takes it back when it rains" is not just. The sound banker is one who does not lose his bank's money. How can he lend it, when he has not the faintest idea what anything or anybody is worth and he does not even know what a dollar is worth?

A LAW compelling stock speculators to margin their gambling by forty or more per cent may stimulate bank loans. The banker may say to the speculator and broker: "I'll add twenty per cent cash to that margin, or even forty per cent, because I love you both, only I must have a first lien on the entire business." What could the virtuous, reforming brain trusters do about that?

CONGRESSMAN R. A. GREEN predicts, on a reasonable basis, that a canal across Florida, connecting the Atlantic with the Gulf, would handle greater tonnage than the Panama Canal, within five years after its opening. It should do so within five months, for it would stimulate coast-wise shipping, which is a monopoly of American shipping for a wonder. It would help every state, it would give cheaper transportation to the whole Mississippi Valley, and save millions of miles of useless sailing through the hurricanes around Key West.

A TEXAS candidate declares his congressional candidacy anonymously, refuses to give his name, but issues a photograph of himself as a boy six years old, with "button shoes and a suit forty years old," saying, "judge me by this."

That picture is apt to deceive the public. At the age of six almost any human being looks intelligent, honest, pleasing. But forty years of time, politics and scheming often change that.

Even a baby gorilla, or chimpanzee, in infancy looks human, almost as though he might be elected to Congress later. Then his forehead goes back, his jaws come out, he's spoiled.

Those whose appearance improves as time passes are rare, although great men are nearly always among the exceptions. For instance, Huxley, Gladstone, Wagner, the late Pope Leo were infinitely more beautiful in old age than in childhood.

COUNTY ACTS ON RWD JOB REFUSALS

Seeks to Thwart Men Who Prefer Relief To Working

County officials today launched a plan to put an end to the refusal of men to take Relief Work Division jobs because they would rather live "on relief."

The move was made suddenly today on suggestion of County Commissioner C. M. Barr in an attempt to speed up the completion of RWD jobs being done for the county.

These jobs have been slowed up in the past by failure of men to report for work after they had been assigned to certain projects, according to T. O. Hasley, county planning director.

JOBS UNDERMANNED

He said:

"This has resulted in most of our jobs being constantly undermanned. The only reason we can see for men failing to come to work is because they would rather remain on relief than take wages paid on government-financed work projects.

"A personnel clearance director to check up on these men is to be named at a meeting this afternoon."

Hasley said that neither the director nor the County Commissioners could strike the names of men from the relief rolls, even if it was found they turned down RWD jobs.

MEN TO BE LISTED

But reports of their refusal can be turned over by the new director to the Emergency Relief Board for proper action, Hasley stated.

Resumption of Relief Works Division activities in Allegheny County Friday will mean re-employment for several hundred men, officials said today.

WIFE KILLS SELF OVER RIVAL

Suicide Laid to Mate's 'Unchained Love' For Another

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—A young wife was dead today, apparently driven to end her life because of her inability to accept her husband's philosophy — that there should be no chains on loves, not even in marriage.

This was the statement made last night to police by the 26-year-old husband, Kenneth Hamm, who admitted in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nelson, another young couple, that he was "in love with Mrs. Nelson."

Hamm found his wife's body in their home, he said, after he returned from a "date" his wife knew he had with Mrs. Nelson. She clutched a revolver in her hand.

Police quoted Hamm as saying:

"From the things I have learned in reading and studying and from the people I have known, I have acquired the philosophy that there should be no chains on love—not even in marriage.

"I discussed this matter with my wife several times within the last year. She felt badly about the affair, but she was calm about it. She asked me if I wanted a divorce, but I said not yet, because my affair with Mrs. Nelson might blow over and I didn't want to lose my wife until I was sure I loved Mrs. Nelson."

Nelson remained unperturbed. He said he had discussed the affair with Hamm, but had made no move to terminate it, hoping it would "blow over."

The Hamms had been married three years, the Nelsons six.

NOTE TELLS WHERE GIRL WAS TAKEN

Mexican Couple, Third Man Hunted in June's Abduction

TUCSON, Ariz., May 9.—(AP.)—Detention of an unnamed man in the kidnaping of June Robles, 6-year-old heiress, was reported to the Associated Press today by an authoritative source.

From the same source, came information that the man described as a Mexican, had given officers details of the plot and named a man and a woman, both Mexicans, and another man, whose nationality was unknown, as accomplices in the kidnaping of the girl here April 25.

'CONTACT MAN'

The man who was said to have been in custody for a week although not formally under arrest, was described as the "contact" through whom the family of the girl was to deliver $15,000 ransom for her return.

It was learned that the man first came under suspicion during the time official investigation of the case was suspended. He was picked up and held without charges the Associated Press was informed, thus forestalling an opportunity for collection of the ransom.

The ransom money has been waiting the abductors' call in the home of Bernabe Robles, reputedly wealthy grandfather of the girl. Efforts to establish contact with the kidnapers have failed.

PLANS REVEALED

A document, giving the details of the plan, was reported to have been found. The ransom money, this plan disclosed, was to have been obtained within the first 12 hours after the girl was kidnaped on her way home from school. At the end of that time it was planned to spirit the child to Cananea, 55 miles south of the border.

For several days after the kidnaping, the suspected contact man was reported seen mingling with officers and searchers in and near the courthouse here. He was supposed to have gained much information concerning the search.

TIP FROM CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—An anonymous telephone call sent detectives to the Congress Hotel today on a hunt for a clue to the missing June Robles, kidnaped Tucson (Ariz.) girl.

A man's voice, traced afterwards to a telephone booth in the Union Station, said to the Oak Park police:

"Are you interested in the Robles case?"

The sergeant said he was.

"The kid is in Chicago and is alive and well. Tell her parents to come to Chicago and have them see Ben Franklin of the Congress Hotel. Have them bring $25,000."

Skeptical of the tip, the police went to the hotel and found a Bernard Franklin registered but absent.

7 HELD, RIFLES SEIZED IN RAID

Raiding a Hill district house reported to be the lair of a robber gang, county detectives arrested seven persons and seized an arsenal of rifles and shotguns early today.

Two men escaped in the raid, fleeing a shower of bullets fired by County Detectives Walter Monaghan and Peter Conners.

The detectives reported clothing and slot machines that were said to have been stolen in several robberies were found in the rear of a house at 70 Roberts street.

Before the raid, detectives arrested two men in an automobile at Twenty-second and Carson streets, South Side. The officers said they found rifles and shotguns in the machine. The men were docketed as Richard Miller, 64, of 70 Roberts street, and Joe Goldberg, 79 Miller street.

After these were arrested, the officers raided the Roberts street house and arrested Rice Jones, 40; William Adams, 25, and Carrie Walker, 40, all Negroes; John Dzikowski, 26, of Dinwiddie street, and Gabe Shaperio, 23, of Webster avenue.

All were lodged in the County Jail on District Attorney's detainers.

North Side police later identified 16 rifles and shotguns taken in the raid as those stolen from National Stores, Inc., 201 East Ohio street, over the week-end.

Indorsement of Pinchot Tabled at Labor Meet

Governor in Hall as Delegates Wrangle Over Politics

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(AP.)—A resolution indorsing the candidacy of Gov. Gifford Pinchot for the United States Senate was tabled today by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor at its annual convention here.

It was pointed out by delegates that the resolution can be called up at any time during the convention sessions, which end Friday.

The resolution was introduced by Charles Cook, of Altoona, while Gov. Pinchot was on the platform after delivering an address on labor activities of his administration.

Some delegates explained the Federation was desirous of withholding all indorsements, pointing out that two prominent labor leaders are in opposing factions of the Democratic party.

The delegates named these as Thomas Kennedy, of the United Mine Workers and candidate for lieutenant-governor on the Guffey-Earle Democratic slate, and Norbert J. Fitzgerald, of Erie, a railroad official who is a candidate for Secretary of Internal Af-

6 FEARED LOST IN PLANE DIVE

CROYDON, England, May 9.—(AP.)—Searchers in airplanes reported sighting the wreckage of the Air France passenge plane, Golden Clipper, floating in the channl 18 miles west by north from Boulogne. Boats started out from Boulogne toward the wreckage.

Four Frenchmen and two Englishmen were believed killed when the trimotor passenger plane plunged into the channel.

It was flying between Dieppe, France, and New Haven, England.

'Target' Plane Crew Escape in Crash

FLINT, Mich., May 9.—(AP.)—A Selfridge Field plane serving as the "target" for four pursuit planes in battle practice crashed and burned this morning near here, but the two-man crew jumped to safety with their parachutes.

LEAPS TO DEATH OFF SPAN HERE

Leaping 210 feet from the center arch of Bloomfield Bridge, John Byrne, window cleaner, of 1722 Nevada street, Swissvale, crashed to his death this morning on the side of a steel coal car.

He had been despondent over business conditions, according to his son, John Byrne, Jr., 21, who identified the body.

Witnesses saw the 52-year-old man climb over the rail. A second later his body lay twisted and broken across the edge of the coal car on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks beneath the bridge.

The force of the fall, as his back struck the steel coal car threw both his shoes approximately 20 feet and bent several keys he was carrying in his pockeet.

Three hundred school children and adults looked on as Coroner's men removed the body. Motor traffic on the bridge was halted several minutes by the crowd.

This was the second fatal leap from Bloomfield Bridge within the past six weeks, police said.

The body of a man identified as Alex Brocksh, 45, of Voskamp street, was recovered last night by River Policeman Charles Snyder. He had leaped from the Sixteenth Street Bridge a few hours before.

Ex-Senator and Son Escorted to Prison

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 9.—(AP.)—In two automobiles with a machine gun and an automatic rifle, Luke Lea and Luke Lea, Jr., were started for North Carolina today to receive penalties imposed for bank law violations.

Tennessee Supreme Court turned the former United States Senator and his son over to North Carolina officials. Lea, Sr., is under a six to 10-year prison sentence. His son has the alternative of paying a $25,000 fine and costs or serving two to four years.

Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt Now Mother of Girl

Son of President Wed Texas Girl After Divorce

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 9.—(AP.)—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt here last night. The grand-daughter and daughter-in-law of the President were reported "doing nicely today."

Mrs. Roosevelt was formerly Miss Ruth Googins of Forth Worth.

The second son of the President married the Fort Worth society girl at Burlington, Ia., last July 22, five days after his first wife, Elizabeth Browning Donner, Philadelphia heiress, obtained a divorce at Minden, Nev., on a charge of extreme cruelty. The decree was granted on a cross complaint after Elliott had established residence in Nevada and filed the divorce suit. A son was born to them November 17, 1932.

Young Roosevelt and Miss Googins were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Swiler, of Burlington, Ia., aunt and uncle of the bride.

They met at a rodeo in Fort Worth a year ago last March while Elliott was en route West after resigning from a New York advertising firm. The President's son went to California where he became an executive of an air line for a time.

He made several trips back to Fort Worth to see Miss Googins and within four months after their first introduction they married.

The former Miss Googins is the daughter of the late John B. Googins, who was Texas manager of Swift & Co. She was educated in Fort Worth schools and at Wellesley College.

East End Searched For Wandering Baby

Anxious parents, neighbors and East End police today were scouring the Morningside district in search of a baby wanderer.

PIRATES, PHILS OPEN SERIES

FORBES FIELD, May 9.—The Pirates were making an effort to record a triumph that would make it six in a row as they took on the Philadelphia Phillies this afternoon in the first clash of the season between the two clubs. The Phils, under the leadership of their new manager, Catcher Jimmy Wilson, are in town for four battles with the Buccos.

Red Lucas went to the mound to face the Quakers in the initial fight. Manager Wilson had Southpaw Jim Elliott in readiness.

Ford Negotiating to Buy Foster Birthplace Here

The two-story frame dwelling that was the birthplace of Stephen C. Foster likely will find a place in Henry Ford's museum.

Negotiations are under way, it became known, for purchase by Ford agents of the house at 3414 Penn avenue, now occupied by several families, from St. John the Baptist Catholic Church, owner of the structure for a quarter of a century.

At the rectory of the church, of which the Rev. A. J. Wigley is pastor, it was said consent of Bishop Boyle would first have to be obtained and that approval of the congregation also would be sought.

J. A. Gribbin, realtor, is handling the transaction for the church, it was said.

No objection to sale of the famous composer's birthplace is anticipated.

Ford is reported to have seen a sketch of Foster's home on the back of one of his compositions and immediately became interested in adding it to his historic collection of early American relics at Dearborn.

When the deal is completed the house will be dismantled and removed. Ford recently moved the McGuffey home in Washington County, birthplace of the McGuffeys—of the old "reader and speller" fame—to Dearborn.

PROBE PRESSED INTO RED TEACHINGS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

BILL PROVIDES FEALTY OATH BE REQUIRED

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Aroused over reports that Communist doctrines were being taught in many public schools of the larger cities, Representative Kenney (Dem.) of New Jersey said today he will demand early hearings on his resolution forcing teachers to swear allegiance to the Constitution.

He said he would ask the Education Committee to consider the resolution next week, at which time he will submit letters and other documents to prove his contention that many public school teachers are unsympathetic to the present form of government.

Determined to stave off at all costs any opportunity for Congress to inquire into the operations of the recovery act before it is given a fair chance to show its qualities, Administrator Hugh S. Johnson today had successfully "put the bee" on House members advocating a congressional inquiry into the code proposed by the text book publishers to drop their plan.

He assured Representative Johnson (Dem.), of Oklahoma, who proposed the investigation, the code was absurd and would not be approved. Representative Johnson on his motion for an inquiry.

Lehman Ponders Signing Teachers' Oath Bill

ALBANY, N. Y., May 9.—Hundreds of letters are flooding Gov. Lehman's desk approving or opposing the Ives bill, which would require public school teachers to swear allegiance to the state and federal constitutions.

It is the measure which brought unexpected opposition from 700 teachers after the Legislature passed it.

Close associates said the Governor had offered no indication whether he would sign or disapprove the bill. He has failed to call public hearings on it. The bill merely requires teachers to take this oath:

"I solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States of America, the Constitution of the State of New York, and that I will faithfully perfom all duties of my position to which I am now asigned."

700 TEACHERS PROTEST

A petition signed by 700 teachers, however, declared the measure would tend to "destroy academic freedom." The petition was circulated by the teachers anti-war committee, of New York City, which is affiliated with the United States Congress Against War.

The last-named organization includes numerous Communists among its list of supporters, among them such names as William Z. Foster, Robert Minor and Gilbert Green.

Fealty Oath Proposed For Illinois Teachers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9.—(Universal.)—Aroused by opposition of New York school teachers to legislation requiring their oath of allegiance to the Constitution, the State House acted to preserve the patriotism of Illinois teaching forces.

A bill requiring all teachers in publicly supported schools to take an oath for the support of the basic law of the land was introduced, with passage by an overwhelming vote apparently assured.

Backed by Gov. Horner and other Democratic leaders, and by spokesmen for the Republican party in the state, the bill was co-sponsored by Representatives Hugh Cross, Jerseyville Republican, and William J. Connors, Chicago Democrat.

MORE ON RELIEF THAN YEAR AGO

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—The Department of Commerce reported today that the number of families on relief as of April 1 was larger this year than at the same time last year.

In its monthly survey of current business, reporting generally improved conditions in most sections of American business and industry, the department noted:

"Notwithstanding the progress made in recent months in absorbing into industry a portion of the unemployed, the number without work remains large."

"The survey reported substantial gains in employment and payrolls between the middle of February and the middle of March, with 79 out of 90 industries studied showing improvement in this line.

ELECTION FRAUD CASE NEAR JURY

Defense witnesses were being heard today in the Federal Court trial of Joseph Forte, judge; Frank Audia, inspector, and August J. Manfredo, clerk, in the Third District, Third Ward Election Board, on a charge of conspiracy to alter and falsify ballots cast at the general election in November, 1932. The case may reach the jury late today or tomorrow morning.

The government closed its case late yesterday after calling 60 witnesses. Among them was Jack Robinson, a Negro, a duly elected minority inspector on the board. He testified that when he reported the morning of the election involved he was efused permission to serve. He told of appealing to Judge James H. Gray, of Common Pleas Court, from whom he obtained a written order directing that he be allowed to sit on the board.

Maurice A. Nernberg, handwriting expert, a government witness, said that X-marks on some ballots were made by more than one person.

ROUTLEY, BENZ APPEAL ARGUED

Argument on the appeal of James E. Routley and Cedric C. Benz, who were convicted in Criminal Court on a charge of conspiracy, was continued today in Superior Court.

Benz and Routley were accused of using gasoline paid for by Allegheny County.

Counsel for the pair asserted yesterday the furnishing of gasoline for use in the automobiles of the two men was done on order by the late Joseph G. Armstrong, County Commissioner. It was also argued that the acts complained of started five or six years before the indictment.

Both Benz and Routley were sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and serve a six-month term in the County Jail by Criminal Court.

G. O. P. Elated By 'Backfire' in Mellon Tax Suit

By JOHN P. COWAN
Sun-Telegraph Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator Daniel O. Hastings (Rep.), of Delaware, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, on learning of the result of investigation in the Mellon tax case, made this statement:

"The result confirms my opinion that this prosecution of Mr. Mellon was an outrage."

Hastings as well as other Republicans in the Senate and House declared that the case against Mellon had been rushed through the grand jury with a view of affecting results in the Pennsylvania primary elections next week, and the Federal prosecutors, instigated by Democratic leaders, had hoped for the return of an indictment.

The result took the breath away from Democratic leaders, it was apparent early in the day, but they hesitated to comment, preferring to wait on the Attorney General to speak the cue for their expressions.

ROOSEVELT'S VIEW

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—President Roosevelt expressed the opinion today that the income tax proceedings against Andrew W. Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury, were on the same basis as if they had been against any one else.

Beyond that, there was no comment at the White House on the refusal of the Pittsburgh federal grand jury to return an indictment against Mellon for tax evasion.

REGISTRATIONS BREAK RECORD

The heaviest registration in any off year, and exceeded in Pittsburgh only by the County Commissioners' fight more than two years ago, has prepared 515,000 electors in Allegheny County for the primaries next Tuesday.

Registration commissioners pointed out the interest in voting, stimulated partially, perhaps, by the new permanent system, was unprecedented. The highest previous total for state election was 470,000.

The rise of the Democratic party is history making, it was pointed out, with approximately 85,000 registered in the city. Previously, the entire county had many less than this, and in a comparative election four years ago, 6,400 Democrats were registered in Pittsburgh.

HELD FOR COURT IN EVICTION RIOT

Echoes of the April 18 eviction riot in Woods Run were heard in Morals Court today when Roy Bellic, 40, of 72 Ontario street, was held for court on a charge of attacking Patrolman John Scanlon.

Scanlon told Magistrate J. W. McGowan that Bellic had kicked and beat him after Scanlon had been knocked to the pavement by the mob. Several other police officers and deputy sheriffs corroborated Scanlon's testimony.

Bellic was wounded by Scanlon. He was just released from the hospital. Seven others arrested in the rioting were discharged April 19.

'STRINGS' MARK ROOSEVELT'S SILVER O. K.

Favors Reserve Plan But Wants Control In Own Hands

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—President Roosevelt has tentatively approved proposed legislation which would put Congress on record in support of the ultimate objective of a 25 per cent silver monetary reserve, but would leave the actual steps in the hands of the President or the Treasury Department.

The President would regard such legislation as both mandatory and permissive—mandatory in declaration of a policy to be ultimately carried out, and permissive as to when the move should be made.

PITTMAN DRAFTS BILL

Senator Pittman (Dem.), of Nevada today gave to Herman Oliphant, special assistant to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, a rough draft of a proposed silver bill. It was understood that the bill would direct the Secretary of the Treasury to establish and maintain a metallic currency reserve, of which 25 per cent would be silver.

Silver would be created into a "primary basic currency." The bill will provide, it was understood, that if silver goes over $1.29 an ounce, the Secretary of the Treasury will be authorized to sell, replacing silver later when the price falls.

Indications were that the bill would be presented to the President within the next few days.

SEEKS NEW POWER

Mr. Roosevelt feels that the powers under which he acted to take over all gold reserves of the nation does not operate with regard to silver, and that legislation would consequently be necessary. Under present tentative plans when, and if the President should act to take over silver stocks, only bullion would be commandeered. The people would still be allowed to keep silver dollars in circulation.

No definite decision on the matter of nationalizing silver has been made.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized today that there is nothing new in the idea of an increased silver reserve. Silver reserves of the nation were much larger during the McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt administrations than they are now, he pointed out. The administration recognizes, he said, that half of the world is on a silver basis, and feels that this nation's silver stocks, now running about 12 per cent in total monetary value, could well be increased.

INDICT 22 IN U. S. COURT

Fifteen true bills, indicting 22 persons for various alleged violations against the government, were returned here today by the federal grand jury.

J. Ray Molleston, former assistant cashier and paying teller of the First National Bank of Verona, Pa., was charged in one of the true bills with the embezzlement of $5,048.10 in a two-year period ending March 4, 1933.

Seven of the indictments returned by the jury of 23 men were for violations of the internal revenue laws for illegal manufacture of liquor.

In one of these, Heimy Cohen, frequent prohibition law violator, was named with four others. Cohen made a spectacular escape over rooftops when federal agents raided a Mt. Pleasant (Pa.) building last December.

In one of the other true bills, John Alvin Shelar, former letter carrier at Beaver Falls, Pa., who was decorated for heroism in the World War, was indicted for forging government checks.

G. O. P. SENATOR TURNS GUNS ON ROOSEVELT

Charges Congress Has Abdicated in Favor Of 'Dictator'

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—In a direct attack on the President, Senator Patterson (Rep.), of Missouri, today accused Mr. Roosevelt of breaking a score of definite campaign pledges.

Patterson told the Senate the President had violated his promises to balance the budget, reduce expenditures, to establish rigid economy, to impose tariffs free from executive interference, to abolish useless commissions and to strengthen the anti-trust laws.

He charged the President too with abandoning the Democratic form of government and initiating a government based upon a combination of Fascist, Communist, feudal and ancient Roman principles.

It was the first direct attack on the President at this session of Congress.

CONGRESS ABDICATES

The Missouri Senator declared Congress had abdicated and given Mrs. Roosevelt dictatorial powers. He also assailed the National Recovery Act as a scheme which "fostered monopoly and gouged consumers" and called the Agricultural Adjustment Administration an "entering wedge to control farmers by force."

Patterson said there has been a revival of business in the last year of the Hoover administration, but that all gains were lost when Roosevelt was elected. Since then, he added, conditions have grown worse.

Patterson recalled how Diocletian, Roman emperor in the Fourth Century, tried to revive Roman industry. He said Diocletian, surrounded by a "brain trust," authorized huge expenditures which ended in huge taxes. He added that Diocletian even ordered the "plowing up of one-third of the vineyards" in order to restrict overproduction of grapes. In the end, he added, Diocletian was forced to abdicate and the Roman Empire collapsed.

LIKENS U. S. TO ROME

Patterson said:

"Truly the 'New Deal' is an 'old deal.' The confidence of the Roman people in their government was shaken. The credit of the government was impaired. Rome never recovered. The empire fell.

"I do not expect the American republic to fall. We will survive the present plague of mistaken remedies for our ills. The American people are awakening to the danger of the un-American program of this administration and soon will effectively stop its destructive course."

'ATTACK OUR LIBERTY'

Patterson said he believed "recovery would come from restored confidence in national economic forces and not through wild speculative and socialistic experiments that destroy confidence and bewilder and frighten the American people." He added:

"The admanistration's program abandons thep rinciples of Democracy in favor for a system that partakes of the Fascism of Italy, the Communism of Russia, the ancient feudal system of England that was discarded 400 years ago, and the planned economy of Diocletion that resulted in such disaster to the Roman people. It is not a progressive program. It is reactionary. It turns the clock of progress back thousands of wears. It is an assault on human liberty."

Weather Conditions

Two highs—one off the Middle Atlantic coast (Atlantic City, N. J., 30.38), and the other over the North Pacific coast and inland over Idaho (Boise, 30.46)—are separated by a trough of low pressure extending from Manitoba (Winnipeg, 29.50), southwestward over the plains to Arizona (Phoenix, 29.82). Light to moderate rains have fallen over the Middle and West Gulf states, in the upper lakes region, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Montana and Northern Wyoming. Weather is generally fair along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, in the far Southwest and the southern plains. It is warmer in the Upper Mississippi and the Ohio valleys and the lake district and cooler over the plateau, the Northern Rocky Mountains, and the Canadian Northwest.

River Conditions

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 1.4 feet; Lock No. 7 (Mon.), 11.1; Pittsburgh, 10.5; Dam No. 4, 9.5; No. 6, 7.9; No. 10, 8.9, and No. 12, 7.7. The dams are up.

Married?

MARJORIE C. WELLMAN

WEDDING WON'T BALK JUSTICE

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—(AP.)—Whether Marjorie Crawford Wellman and R. C. (Danny) Dowling are married won't make any difference when the latter appears for arraignment on kidnaping charges preferred by the actress, the District Attorney's office has announced.

Attaches of the office said a wife must testify against her husband if she is the injured party.

Mrs. Wellman charged Dowling, a studio dance director, kidnaped her from her Hollywood home and drove her to Yuma, Ariz., after threatening her with a pistol. He was bound over to Superior Court at his preliminary hearing.

Neither would confirm the reports that they were married when they appeared arm-in-arm at a boxing match last night. Dowling said:

"I will say I desire to marry Mrs. Wellman, always have for that matter, but I cannot confirm what my friends say about my alleged marriage."

M'LEOD PAYOFF MOVE SPURRED

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The possibility that the Steagall substitute plan of aiding depositors in closed banks may fail as a result of opposition to the bank guaranty extension bill today spurred backers of the McLeod 100 per cent depositors' pay-off bill to new efforts to obtain a House vote.

The Steagall substitute, authorizing the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to "thaw" deposits in closed banks, is embraced in the administration measure to continue temporary deposit insurance and postpone the effective date of the full guaranty system for one year.

Although the measure was passed by the Senate and requestd by the President, the House Banking Committee is still struggling with it.

The petition for a vote on the McLeod bill continued to gather names. With 113 members backing the demand for a House vote on May 28, the petition lacked 32 names of being complete.

Representative McLeod (Rep.), of Michigan, author of the bill, planned to address a mass meeting in Atlantic City Friday night in behalf of the measure.

FRANCE SEEKING DEBT BARGAIN AT CAPITAL

Roosevelt Will Hear Pleas of 'Nations In Distress'

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—Coincident with a statement by President Roosevelt that the United States expects full payment on war debts in June, unless there are convincing reasons for a reduction, Andre de Laboulaye, the French ambassador, conferred today with State Department officials on that country's obligation of nearly $4,000,000,000, on part of which she is in default.

His visit with William Phillips, under-secretary of state, added to the general belief that important developments on the war debts question may be expected soon—before the President sends a message to Congress dealing with the issue.

Phillips confirmed that the Ambassador had visited the State Department to discuss the debt question but said that he had made no definite communication or offer from the French government.

The Ambassador, Phillips said, like envoys of several other debtor nations who had called within the last 10 days, was interested in learning this government's official attitude toward the debts in general and the payments due next month in particular.

President Roosevelt emphasized today that the United States stands for collection of war debts but will grant a hearing to nations in distress who ask for reduced payments.

Whether token payments—which have been made in the past by Great Britain and some other debtors—will be accepted in June, will be decided upon the merits of the individual case, the President said.

Debtor nations which have made token payments—a part of the obligation owed—have been exempted so far from the terms of the Johnson bill barring financial transactions with the United States by defaulting debtors.

Meanwhile Secretary Hull approved plans for a congressional investigation of tin which would study the advisability of trading war debts for new supplies of the metal.

RABBI CAPTURES BUNCO SUSPECT

Although police of the nation had conducted a long search, it took Rabbi Herman Hailperin, of Pittsburgh, to capture a man he says is a gay, swindling Lothario, after a street chase in Washington, last night.

According to reports from Washington, Dr. Hailperin, seated in a sight-seeing bus, spotted a man he charged had swindled several Pittsburghers, including a young woman to whom the man was engaged, and a hotel.

Dr. Hailperin declined to discuss the case and refused to furnish the name of the young woman, said to be prominent here, even to police.

Pittsburgh detectives, however, said they had two complaints on file for an alleged swindler giving the name of Dr. H. Moss, who posed as a rabbi. He is charged with swindling the woman of $300 and with having left a large hotel bill here unpaid.

Dr. Hailperin is in Washington attending the convention of the United Synagogue of America.

SUGAR CONTROL BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—President Roosevelt today signed the Sugar Production Control bill.

He expects to sign the $417,000,000 revenue bill tomorrow.

He also declared that the rate of the sugar processing tax "must not exceed the amount of the reduction" in the tariff. He said, a formal statement:

"This means that the proceeding or compensatory taxes not increase, in themselves, the price to be paid by the ultimate consumers and at the same time our own sugar producers will have the opportunity to obtain in the form of benefit payments, a fairer return from their product."

$75,000,000 Federal Aid For Schools Approved

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—Legislation to permit grade and high schools in financial difficulties to draw on a $75,000,000 federal fund and keep open next year has been approved today by a House education subcommittee.

The Emergency Relief Administration would administer the fund with the advice of the Office of Education. Private non-tuition schools would be eligible to apply for aid, no institutions above high school rating would be eligible.

Representative Douglass (Dem.), of Massachusetts, introduced the bill. He said:

"I think that this is the best present solution of the crisis of education, and we are hopeful it will have the approval of the White House."

The measure provides there shall be no federal control of education in states.

Douglass emphasized that the bill was drafted to make sure it could not be construed as other than an emergency relief measure, was limited to one year "and in no sense shall it be considered as the beginning of any permanent policy of the federal government to assist the states in education."

'First Lady' Sees Gains, Not End of Depression

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has taken issue with a former member of the so-called "Brain Trust" as to whether the depression is ended, but asserted that it had brought about "some measure of reform."

Speaking at a luncheon of the League for Political Education, the First Lady listened carefully as Prof. A. A. Berle, now New York City Chamberlain, referred to the ending of the depression. She brought the matter up in connection with the subject of adult education. She said:

"I think with the depression—which Mr. Berle thinks is over, but which I'm not so sure of, with ten million still out of work—that we have had some measure of reform.

"We have learned a fundamental of education, namely, that we cannot go happily and prosperously ahead when there are sore spots in our country. I don't think we can go on with sore spots in other parts of the world."

Mrs. Roosevelt asserted that the courage to ask any question of governmental authority and the courage to accept a truthful answer should be regarded as the primary aim of adult education. She said:

"It is foolish to fold our hands and look up to our Republican leaders, if we are Republicans, or our Democratic leaders if we are Democrats, for our decisions."

INSULL SPIRIT BREAKS AS HE SLUMPS BEHIND JAIL BARS

AGED MAGNATE IN WARD WITH BOY KIDNAPER

Hope That Friends Will Raise $200,000 Bail Consoles Prisoner

BULLETIN.

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—Judge Will M. Sparks, of the United States Circuit Court of Affairs, granted a habeas corpus writ for Samuel Insull this afternoon and agreed to hear a petition tomorrow for the reduction of his $200,000 bond.

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—Samuel Insull slumped on a cot in the county jail hospital today—an ill, forlorn old man of 74.

The one-time utilities Croesus was a prisoner because he couldn't raise bail of $200,000. His keep is costing the government, which charges him with mail fraud and bankruptcy law violations, 85 cents a day.

Insull will be arraigned in Federal Court Friday, it was announced today, to be charged in the two federal cases against him.

The jail bars seemed to break his spirit. To add to his troubles, the jail physician, Dr. Francis W. McNamara, examined him and said his condition was "bad." Dr. McNamara attended Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop during her trial and conviction for murder.

For neighbors in the hospital ward Insull had six other prisoners, including 13-year-old George Rogalski, accused of kidnaping and causing the death of little Dorétte Zeitlow, 2½ years old.

IGNORES BOY COMPANION

Insull went to bed at 6 p. m. without making any effort to chat with young Rogalski. The boy sat on his own cot and eyed the former multi-millionaire in silence.

For consolation Insull had nothing except the loyalty of his son, Samuel, Jr., and the thought that perhaps some of his friends would come to his rescue with enough money to permit his release on bond.

Judge Samuel Alschuler in United States Circuit Court of Appeals refused today a motion by Insull's attorney to reduce the $200,000 bond.

The appeals judge held the matter was not properly before him.

Attorney Floyd E. Thompson said he would press for a reduction of bond before another judge and expected also to seek Insull's release by habeas corpus proceedings.

INSULL ON WHEELCHAIR

Meanwhile at the county jail Dr. McNamara insisted that Insull be brought into the dispensary on a wheelchair, remarking that his general condition was still bad and must not be aggrevated.

He was dressed in pajamas, slippers and a maroon bathrobe. Insull cheerfully volunteered that he felt much better. He said:

"The doctor told me I must not smoke, and I've followed orders."

His shock of white hair had been cut by the jail barber.

How did he like his surroundings? Insull wouldn't talk about that, nor of his family—family affairs were never mixed with business, he explained. He had not conversed with any of the fellow inmates. He explained:

"I have purposely refrained from talking to anyone about why they are there."

He would not discuss the charges against him.

Someone asked:

"What is the real story back of it all?"

Insull answered:

"I'm not going to tell it."

Then he went on:

"Many people seem surprised how a man of my age can go through all this. I can go through it, because I know that I have never had a dishonest dollar in my possession. If a man can look himself in the face in his room and know he has done nothing morally wrong, it isn't any trouble for him to face a crowd."

Bulky Ballot Slows Count in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, May 9.—(AP.)—Except in a few isolated instances in yesterday's primary elections, the balance of Gov. Paul V. McNutt's political power in Indiana was still unknown today.

So bulky were the ballots cast in the state's 3,842 precincts that only scattered returns in the contests for Republican and Democratic nomination for Congress in the 12 districts, for the Indiana Legislature and for city and county offices had been tabulated this morning.

Pet Chow Attacks Father Cox' Aide

Brother Andrew, assistant to Father Cox at Old St. Patrick's Church, is in Mercy Hospital recovering from the attack of his Chow dog.

The dog, never before known to be vicious, attacked him unexpectedly, lacerating his right forearm from the wrist to the elbow. Doctors counted more than 70 wounds. The dog has been penned up under observation.

6 Men, Woman Slain In Strike Rioting

ATHENS, May 9.—(AP.)—Police and troops turned machine guns upon strikers today, killing six men and a woman during disturbances in Kalamata Harbor. An undetermined number of persons were injured.

Despite the fire, the strikers held their ground. The bodies of the dead lay in the streets. Authorities asked for additional soldiers.

INSULL STORY 'HIT' ON STAGE

International News Service.

CHICAGO, May 9.—James L. Kilgallen, staff writer for International News Service, made a hit at the Palace Theater last night when Walter Winchell, noted Broadway columnist, called him to the stage to relate his experiences "covering Samuel Insull abroad and returning with the celebrated prisoner aboard the steamship Exilona."

Winchell and Kilgallen collaborated in a "pewspaper man's act" which went over big with the audience of 5,000.

Kilgallen also went on the air over station WENR of the Chicago Evening American, graphically describing his experiences in "bringing Insull home."

Robert Sherwood Seeks Reno Divorce

RENO, Nev., May 9. — (AP.)—Robert Emmet Sherwood, nationally known author and magazine editor, said last night he will file suit for divorce from Mrs. Mary B. Sherwood following a six weeks stay here.

Sherwood is residing in a fashionable Reno hotel and said he arrived "last Thursday" and retained Lester D. Summerfield as his attorney.

Divorce Judge's Own Marital Bonds Cut

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—(AP.)—Judge Guy F. Bush, who has presided over numerous divorce hearings, obtained a divorce for himself yesterday. He said Mrs. Bush, whom he married in Detroit November 24, 1910, "showed clearly that she thought more of her friends than of her husband."

SPEED QUEEN DEFIES THREAT

MONROVIA, Cal., May 9.—(AP.)—Kidnaping threats will not hamper the activities of Loretta Turnbull, 21-year-old girl outboard racing champion.

The girl whose exploits in slender, tricky power boats the past few years have brought her international fame, has been threatened with abduction unless her father, Rupert B. Turnbull, United States bankruptcy referee in Los Angeles, complies with a demand for a large sum of money.

Turning his ranch into an armed camp, Turnbull said today:

"Loretta and her three brothers were all taught the use of firearms and how to shoot straight and rapidly while very young. We feel that we are able to take care of ourselves."

Miss Turnbull is scheduled to appear next week-end in a series of races at Lake Yosemite. She said the threats will not deter her.

Prosecutor Pictured With Gunman Loses

GARY, Ind., May 8.—(INS.)—Prosecutor Robert G. Estill of Lake County, victim of a "petting party" picture with John Dillinger, today conceded defeat in yesterday's primary election in which he sought a third term.

Estill was beaten by former State Senator Fred A. Egan, who distributed thousands of handbills with the Estill-Dillinger picture and who adopted the campaign slogan of "no fraternizing with criminals."

The prosecutor gave up hope when returns from 25 of the county's 170 precincts gave him only 853 votes and Egan 1,512.

NEW 'HOT TIP' ON DILLINGER COLLAPSES

Police Watch Auto, Find Man From Missouri

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—Five squads of Dillinger chasers armed themselves to the teeth this morning and went forth on a "hot tip."

John Dillinger or "Baby Face" Nelson had left an automobile at a South Side corner.

The detectives surrounded it. There was no one aboard. Noting license plates, a straw hat, jacket and overalls in the tonneau, the police withdrew to ambush the driver.

He showed up. He said:

"I'm from Missouri."

The detectives looked at his credentials, were forced to believe him, and let the man go.

Dillinger's Stroll With Jailer Told to Jury

CROWN POINT, Ind., May 9.—(INS.)—Testimony that Ernest Blunk walked down the corridor of the Lake County Jail with one arm around John Dillinger's waist on the day the desperado escaped was given today by a witness at the trial of Blunk. The witness was James Posey, a prisoner at the jail at the time.

Posey told how "Johnny," as he referred to Dillinger, stuck something into Jail Turnkey Sam Cahoun's side and ordered him to get into the cell with the officers.

Then, Posey testified, Cahoun said:

"All right, Johnny."

Then, according to the witness, Dillinger took Cahoun down the corridor with him, returning with the officers they found in the jailhouse. These were locked up and then, Posey testified, Cahoun turned to Dillinger and said:

"I can't go through with this."

So Dillinger, Posey said, took Cahoun down the corridor and they came back with Blunk. It was then that Dillinger and Blunk returned down the corridor.

NEW SENTENCE FOR VOLPE

Joe Volpe, 19-year-old brother of the three gangster-slain Volpes, today suffered the worst set-back at the hands of the law any of the clan ever experienced.

He was sentenced by Visiting Judge Norman T. Boose to serve three years in the workhouse and fined $1,000 following his conviction on a charge of violating the state firearms act.

He also has to serve six months imposed yesterday by Judge W. Heber Dithrich, after young Volpe had pleaded guilty to transporting liquor.

Volpe had withdrawn a plea of guilty on the firearms charge yesterday and elected to stand trial. The jury brought in a guilty verdict today after brief deliberation.

State highway patrolmen testified a revolver had been found in the car Volpe was using to transport liquor, when he was arrested in Penn township last January 7.

Second Quake Jars Devastated City

CALCUTTA, May 9.—(INS.)—A severe earthquake tremor today shook Muzzaffarpur, the city in the foothills of the Himalaya Mountains which was devastated by a quake last January.

The comparatively few buildings remaining in the city were shaken and many residents were injured by falling debris.

BOOK BORROWER LECTURED BY COURT

Library Asks Judge Free Boy Held for Book Mutilation

A high school senior accused of mutilating Carnegie Library books was arraigned in Morals Court today to hear that mutilation and theft of books cost the libraries more than $5,000 a year.

Magistrate J. W. McGowan was told that if he fined the youth, Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, would pay the fine himself, although Col. Church had filed the complaint charging malicious mischief. The boy was discharged with a reprimand.

Miss Martha Wirth, executive secretary of Carnegie Institute, appeared at the hearing. She said that last year 1,800 reference books were stolen or mutilated, entailing a loss of between $5,000 and $6,000.

The youth, whose name will not be published by the Sun-Telegraph because of his age, admitted he mutilated a book in the Wylie avenue branch of the Carnegie Library because he wanted the material for school purposes. Miss Wirth testified students stole or damaged the books instead of copying the material they need.

WESTERN GANG ROBS N. Y. BANK

International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 9—After intensely questioning all witnesses New York police decided today that it was a Middle Western band of bank robbers, probably from Chicago, who introduced the Dillinger technique and robbed a Brooklyn savings bank of $22,000 with machine guns.

The one variation from the Dillinger plan when the bandits raided the Prudential Savings Bank yesterday was the presence at the wheel of the get-away car of a young woman. She drove like mad and disappeared with the four robbers in spite of New York's famed patrol of radio equipped automobiles which came rushing to the bank from all directions with sirens screaming.

Detectives concluded the bandits were from the West from two scraps of their conversation with their victims in the bank. One bandit said:

"Do as you're told—if you don't, we'll show you how we work in Chicago."

Another said:

"Lookout for us. We're real Americans and not foreigners."

THALIA MASSIE SAILS FOR U. S.

GENOA, Italy, May 9.—(AP.)—Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, pronounced "completely restored in mind and body" by the head of the Genoa clinic where she was taken a month ago after a nervous breakdown, sailed for the United States yesterday aboard the S. S. President Van Buren.

Every effort to maintain secrecy regarding her departure was made by United States Vice Consul John Palmer and Consul John R. Putnam, who have supervised her affairs.

Questioned about Mrs. Massie's condition, however, Dr. Dario Borelli, superintendent of the clinic, said:

"I would not describe her as being in the best of spirits. This is a little too much to expect.

"However, I would not have authorized her discharge if I had not thought her completely recovered from acute neurosis and that her bodily strength had been built up well."

JOAN BLONDELL 'BEST BABY'

International News Service.

HOLLYWOOD, May 9.—Joan Blondell, pretty blonde film actress, today was awarded the 1931-32 achievement trophy by the Wampas Club, an organization of Hollywood publicists.

Wampas voted that in its opinion Miss Blondell, star of numerous pictures, had made the most progress on the screen since she was named a "Wampas Baby Star."

Other leading candidates were Gloria Stuart, Ginger Rogers, Karen Morley, Mary Carlisle, Patricia Ellis, Marian Marsh, Rochelle Hudson, Sidney Fox, Frances Dee, Dorothy Wilson and Constance Cummings.

The trophy was presented by its donor, C. W. Nash, automobile manufacturer, to Miss Blondell.

Only yesterday Miss Blondell said that she was expecting a visit from the stork in a few months.

Salesman Slain, Woman Suspected

MATTOON, Ill., May 9.—(AP.)—Carl Thompson, of Indianapolis, a casket salesman, was shot to death today in the Hotel U. S. Grant, and police took into custody a woman, who identified herself as Ann Sandstrom, of Indianapolis.

Coroner F. S. Schilling said the woman admitted having brought to the hotel the gun with which Thompson was killed.

REVIVED DOG STILL GAINS

BERKELEY, Cal., May 9.—(AP.)—Dr. Roderick Krider, assistant to Dr. Robert E. Cornish in his revivification experiments, said today the dog which the scientist asphyxiated and revived April 13, continued to show improvement.

University of California authorities said they had not received an official request from the young research biologist for permission to use the old anatomy building several days more.

Dr. Cornish was ordered to vacate the building on the ground he had made public the results of his experiments to revive the dog, after clinical death, before presenting them to the university's scientific staff for consideration.

Requested to move as soon as possible, Dr. Cornish said he would ask the university authorities for permission to remain temporarily, as he said he feared the removal of the animal would cause it to catch cold.

WAITRESS HELD IN $1,500 THEFT

A 21-year-old waitress was arrested at New Alexandria today after Detroit detectives informed county detectives here she is wanted at Detroit on a charge of grand larceny of $1,500.

The girl is Stella Gasinski, 21, of Russellton. County detectives said she denied knowledge of the charge against her.

George W. Murren, chief of county detectives, received a telegram from Detective Chief Fred W. Frahm, of Detroit, stating a warrant had been issued against the girl.

County Detectives Frank Malone, David Carlin and Michael Ford went to the home of the girl's father in Russellton and learned she was working in New Alexandria. She was brought to the County Jail and held on a district attorney's detainer.

'MOTHER'S DAY' STORY SEARCH ENDS IN COURT

Woman in Clash With Son Over 'New Love' That Claimed Him

By DALE HARRISON
Associated Press.

The editor said:

"Next Sunday is Mother's Day. Write a 'mother' piece for the papers. You know—mother love, self-sacrifice, supreme devotion; something with a heart throb; sob stuff——'

The reporter wrote:

NEW YORK, May 9.—Mrs. Rosalie Sternfels knows today what all mothers eventually learn: That no matter how devoted a mother may be, there must come some day another woman, young and with a newer love, to snatch her son from her arms.

Her son, Mark, 29-year-old veterinarian, had her arrested yesterday—had his mother arrested. He charged her with disorderly conduct.

She retorted in court that he was not a loving son; that he "didn't know how to treat his mother."

RIGHT TO LIVE OWN LIFE

He said, and his wife of nine months joined him in the statement, that all they want is "the right to live our own lives—to have a family of our own—to raise children."

The young wife added:

"But his mother won't let us."

The mother, who is 56 years old, said Mark had always been a good son "until he met this girl and she took him away."

She added, bitterly:

"Now he is dead to me. I never want to hear of him or see him again."

She continued:

"I make $2,000 a year as a city employe. It is not enough. I need the extra money, the $40 a month, he always has given me. Ever since he got married the payments have dropped on that. They are spending it on themselves; certainly not on his mother, who raised him.

"No more money for father and me. No more automobile rides. He's interested only in her."

The son spoke:

"Just a few weeks ago I opened a dog and cat hospital. My wife's mother put up $1,000 to help me get started. My mother came to the place and upbraided me and addressed a customer, saying, 'My son doesn't even know how to treat his mother, let alone how to pluck your dog.'

"My mother has constantly abused my wife, and has importuned me for money which I did not have to give. I have been helping my mother all I could, and will continue to give what I can afford."

SON DEAD TO HER

The magistrate asked Mrs. Sternfels to promise to leave her son and his wife strictly alone. If she promised, he said, the son would drop the charges against her.

The mother finally promised, and the son dropped his charges. She said:

"To me, my son is dead. He is dead."

Dear Editor: I hope this will do for that "mother" piece you wanted. It isn't the usual kind, but that's how it was.

STAVISKY ECHO IN GIRL MURDER

PARIS, May 9.—(AP.)—Mme. Michel Henriot, 19-year-old wife of a cousin of Deputy Philippe Henriot, was found mysteriously slain today in her farm home near Lorient.

She was shot to death while apparently telephoning for help.

Police saw no political significance in the crime, although Deputy Henriot, who is a Rightist, was a violent critic of the recent Chautemps government over the Stavisky scandal.

Mme. Henriot's husband returned from a hunt today to find his wife dead on the floor with a telephone in her hand.

Beside her was one of her husband's rifles with which she had been shot six times.

PARIS, May 9.—Perhaps if Paris had better tailors, Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford might not have separated.

This was indicated today by a close friend of America's most noted movie actors, who revealed the culminating circumstances of the Fairbanks-Pickford rift.

Douglas, this friend declared, had a tiff with Mary in the Hotel Crillon here because he wanted to go to London to get 12 new suits of clothes. He could not buy the clothes here, he contended, because London is the only place in Europe where a man can have made a good suit.

Mary wanted to stay in Paris, always known as the "woman's town," whereas London is known the world over as a "man's town."

Doug had been [illegible] while Mary had been reveling in the delights of Parisienne shops. Doug tried various pretexts and finally hit upon the need for a dozen new suits as a perfect reason for going to London.

But Mary, the friend said, told Doug he had enough clothes and suggested the new suits idea was just an excuse to get away.

They did not really quarrel about it, for America's foremost film couple never really quarreled, but a coolness developed. Not long afterward Doug dashed off to China, returning to the United States with ideas for a Chinese picture based on the life of Confucius. It did not materialize, and he came to Europe, where he since has remained.

Incidentally, Douglas got the 12 new suits. He sent to London for a tailor to fly to Paris with samples.

LIFE OF LENIN BRINGS REBUKE TO WIDOW

MOSCOW, May 9.—(AP.)—The widow of Nikolai Lenin was taken severely to task today by the newspaper Pravda, Communist party mouthpiece, for making the father of Bolshevism appear "soft and sentimental" in her books of reminiscences.

The widow, known simply as Nadezhda Krupskaya, was accused of making "political mistakes" in her writings. Pravda asserted that, "of course it is not true" that Lenin was "soft and sentimental," and that, moreover, Mme. Krupskaya fails to devote enough space in her writings to her husband's association with Josef Stalin, who succeeded him in the Soviet leadership.

Misrepresentation of Lenin's activities in the second party congress and in the peace negotiations at Brest Litovsk, which took Russia out of the World War, also was attributed to the widow. Pravda said:

"Many corrections are necessary if the book—the first three volumes of which were published last year—is to be a valuable contribution to Bolshevik history."

Mme. Krupskaya, now 64 years old, long has been noted for her independence of thought and action. For some years it was rumored that there was a coolness between her and Stalin, but this appeared to have been patched up last January when she delivered an address praising him to the All-Union Communist party congress.

BARS ON TRADE CALLED 'CURSE'

READING, Pa., May 9.—(AP.)—Bureaucracy, "one of the curses of the nation," is cited by Representative Joseph B. Shannon (Dem.), of Missouri, as a barrier to industrial recovery. He told the Pennsylvania Gas Association last night:

"The nation has gone mad within the last 25 years, creating commissions, bureaus and other expensive and useless institutions. Government must cease these activities if private industry is ever to be restored to prosperity."

H. O. Castner, of New York, president of the gas association, said "unwarranted political attacks, drastic legislation and mounting taxes" threaten the industry's record for employment and wage payments. This record, he asserted, was bettered by only one industry.

FIREMEN BACK AFTER OUSTER

Leetsdale's fire controversy had burned down to dying embers today as a result of a meeting of the Borough Council.

Although practically every member of the volunteer fire department was fired at the meeting for staging a "whoopee" party in the firehouse recently, about 75 per cent of them were rehired before adjournment.

Hereafter the Leetsdale firefighters will be paid on an hourly basis while on calls, Councilman Harry Neuman said today. The rate has not yet been set.

Harvard Professor Speaks on Crime

Society waits until the criminal is made before it acts to aid him, Sheldon Glueck, professor of criminology at Harvard University, declared in an address at last night's session of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Boys' Club of America, in the William Penn Hotel. He bases his statement on a five-year study of 1,000 juvenile delinquents who received treatment at the Boston Juvenile Court.

Children Braver Than Adults in Dental Chair

KANSAS CITY, May 9.—(AP.)—The adult is a greater coward in the dental chair than the child, says Dr. Arthur C. Wherry, president of the American Dental Association. He told a meeting of dentists here:

"There really is painless dentistry today. The trouble with adults is they had some bitter experiences when they were youngsters and they can't forget."

Bellevue Pharmacy Is Damaged By Fire

Damage estimated at $1,000 resulted late yesterday when fire broke out in the basement of Denslow's Pharmacy, Lincoln and Balph avenues, Bellevue. Origin of the blaze is undetermined.

PA. SALES TAX TO BE FOUGHT

HARRISBURG, May 9.—(AP.)—Pennsylvania retailers will map plans for a fight against any proposal to renew a state sales tax at their second annual convention tomorrow.

Speakers will include Charles A. Waters, State Treasurer, and Dr. Kenneth Dameron, deputy NRA administrator. National Retail Associations will be represented.

Duquesne Man Gets Life for Holdups

TAMPA, Fla., May 9.—(AP.)—Kenneth Anthony, 32, of Duquesne, Pa., was one of three men sentenced to life terms here yesterday. All were arrested in holdups here last December.

Union Husbands, Or None, Say Fair Labor Delegates

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 9.—(AP.)—Two young women—the only feminine members at the Tennessee Federation of Labor convention — have set notions about husbands.

Her husband, if and when she marries, must be "a union man," said Miss Ruby Ledbetter, of Dyersburg.

Gasoline Attendant Robbed, Prisoned

Two armed men early today robbed R. F. Jain, night attendant at a Standard Gas Service Station, Braddock and Penn avenues, of between $12 and $15, locked him in a cupboard and escaped.

WOMAN SHOT, MAN SLAIN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 9.—After she had been shot in the breast, police reported, Myrtle Sanford, 25, clubbed Jack Hoskins, 54, to death in his shack at Outcrop. Both are Negroes.

Hearing that Hoskins had barricaded himself in his cabin, state and county police, heavily armed, approached the place and called on him to surrender. They found him dead.

The woman told police that she and Hoskins had quarreled over money. Police said they learned Hoskins shot her and she hit him with a poker and the butt end of his gun. She is in Uniontown Hospital.

Robbed, Hurled To Street, Man Says

Two men and a woman who early today persuaded Marco Polito, of 39 Clay way, to enter their automobile in Congress street, robbed him of $4 and threw him out of the car, he reported to police. He was treated at Passavant Hospital.

To switch you to GEM Blades

25¢

with 2 blades

You can't use Gem Blades until you own a Gem Razor—therefore we've authorized retailers to distribute 7,000,000 special sets at the incredible price of 25c.

He sells you the finest razor that Gem has ever produced, the exact full-chrome, rust-proof razor featured in Gem's $5 model. So quit mauling your skin with incorrectly shaped frames and uncertain blades—spend a quarter and let your beard begin to enjoy life.

Gem Micromatic alone works with a full-contact barber-shop stroke—its slanted bevelled design compels you to shave at an angle which brings the edge against the stubble at root level—takes up the slack in wrinkles and folds—and reaches all whiskers that usual razors miss.

A Gem once-over leaves the blackest jowls smooth and clean for 24 hours.

And only Gem Micromatic Blades are keen enough to do that. Thick beards that take the heart out of fragile, shallow edges can't stand up against the 50% thicker surgical steel which Gem strops 4840 separate times to produce a tugless, scuffless, ouch-proof blade.

Dual Alignment (Gem's great patented feature) guarantees a non-scuffing, skin-safe shave. You can't injure yourself with a Gem Blade because Dual Alignment levels it tight against the guard and holds it unbudgingly with a five-point lock. The blade can't creep, wobble or scratch. Dual Alignment permits the use of either single or double edge blades and Gem makes both to fit the same holder.

Gem's clever head is so filled with new features that it's hard to believe it's the simplest razor on earth—a mere twirl of the deeply fluted handle does everything. Made in one piece with no clumsy, take-down parts. Guaranteed unbreakable forever. Can't clog—rust-proof and bust-proof.

Gem Micromatic Blades last so much longer that there's less shaving and no saving in substitutes at any price. If you try them once you'll buy them forever: that's why you can have one of these sets for 25c. Get it today.

PRESS FREEDOM FIGHT URGED FOR PRIZE

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Award of the 1933 Pulitzer prize for meritorious public service to all the newspapers of the country for their fight for a free press clause in their NRA code was recommended by the jury but rejected by the Columbia School of Journalism advisory board, it was reported today in Broadway and newspaper circles.

The reports were that the jury proposed making the award to several organizations of newspapers in behalf of their members.

The advisory board chose the Medford (Ore.) Mail Tribune for the prize because of its fight against unscrupulous politicians in Jackson County, Ore.

JURY RECOMMENDATION

The advisory board was reported as having considered the jury's recommendation that the medal be given the American Newspaper Publishers Association, Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and other newspaper organizations, but that the board decided this was not possible under the terms of the award.

The conditions of the award provide it must be given to a specific newspaper.

"Freedom of the Press" was the subject of two editorials cited by the board for honorable mention to the authors, Casper S. Yost, St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and Bainbridge Colby, writing in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, New York American and other Hearst newspapers.

Newspapers insisted upon a definite "freedom of the press" clause in their NRA code. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson objected to it, contending it was unnecessary, but agreed to its inclusion.

President Roosevelt's formal acceptance of the newspaper code called the clause "pure surplusage" and added "while it has no meaning, it is permitted to stand merely because it has been requested." He declared also that freedom of the press was guaranteed by the Constitution.

LETTER TO I. N. S.

The President commented further on freedom of the press, in a letter to the International News Service, dated April 13, and published during the conventions of newspaper publishers and editors in New York, stating:

"I do not believe it would be amiss here for me to say that I personally find high satisfaction in the knowledge that it is possible in this land of ours for anyone to establish a newspaper or a news service and to enjoy the freedom of operation guaranteed by our fathers and which, I am glad to say, still prevails. I am glad, too, that our government never has seen fit to subsidize a newspaper or a news service and I dare to make the prediction that it never will."

KING APPLAUDS SOPHIE TUCKER

LONDON, May 9.—(AP.)—The King and Queen joined in rousing applause tonight which greeted Sophie Tucker, American blues singer, who was among the stars in a "command performance" of leading vaudevillists in behalf of the Variety Artists' Benevolent Fund.

Sophie sang the old jazz favorites, "Some of These Days" and "Louisville Lady" to draw a storm of cheers and handclaps which wouldn't die down until she was recalled.

The show is an annual one in which their majesties are especially interested and they nominally "command" performers to contribute to the program, having a list of the artists and their acts submitted beforehand for their approval.

Air Line Adds Detroit to Route

Extension of its service in and out of Pittsburgh by including Detroit in its route and more frequent flights was announced today by the Pennsylvania Airlines Inc. The new service will be inaugerated in celebration of the beginning of the company's eighth year of operation.

Detroit will be included in the route between Washington, Pittsburgh, Akron and Cleveland. C. Bedell Monro, executive vice president, said that instead of the present two round trips daily, three, and later four trips will be flown.

U. S. to Aid Firms Dealing in Russia

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(INS.)—Federal aid to American business trading with Soviet Russia will proceed despite the adverse ruling by Attorney General Cummings on defaulting debtor nations, it was stated today at the office of George N. Peek, special foreign trade adviser to the President.

The ruling does not affect government assistance to individual concerns seeking to finance their trade with the Soviet, it was held, despite Cummings' classification of Russia as a defaulter.

Heifetz Returning With 'Baby' Violin

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Jascha Heifetz, violin virtuoso, returns from Russia tomorrow with two prized possessions of his childhood—his first violin, a tiny quarter-size instrument, and a small bag of coins.

Both had been left behind when the Heifetz family fled the Russian revolution and came to America, but an uncle of the young musician saved them for French, plans to pay the English and French, and let the Americans wait, in accordance with a well-established European custom. President Roosevelt is said to have informed Germany that he does not favor this discrimination.

He might stop the German nonsense by informing Mr. Hitler's government that until he treats his American creditors exactly as any others, the ports of the United States will be closed to German products, and, if necessary, to German ships also.

This country doesn't need Europe, and Europe does need this country.

"STEEL" IS looking up, the output being at a higher level now than any time since June, 1930.

Incidentally, in Geneva, where world news and war news centers, it is learned that "the nations are strengthening every military branch of their government."

If all this getting ready should end as it usually does in Europe, you would see United States steel production go up fast. Many million tons of iron would be needed for killing.

It is to be hoped that this time our government will not send ten thousand million dollars to enable Europe to pay for her killing machinery, as was done last time.

OF 123,000,000, four million, seventy-eight thousand, six hundred and forty have informed Uncle Sam that they have income tax to pay for 1933. That is half a million more than the 1932 figure. It means more prosperity, also more caution among tax-dodgers.

FRANCE KNOWS that the way to avoid trouble, or, at least, minimize it, is to be ready for it and the French are building "more forts, more airplanes, more tanks, more submarines. Soon they plan to increase the army, which numbers now about half a million actually under arms."

All this is called "A reply to the German Menace."

IF THE UNITED STATES believes, as other countries apparently do, that this second, hideously destructive war is coming, it would do well to make itself independent of other countries, and arrange for conditions that will enable us to produce anything we like, or get along without that which we cannot produce.

One thing is certain, this country will not finance that next war, and will not ship over millions of young Americans to take part in it. Any country that wants to fight with young Americans will have to come over here to do it.

HAD GOOD TIME, 'LOST' BOY SAYS

Tired and bearing a few scratches, 5-year-old Billy Polachek was safe at his home, 12 Columbia avenue, West View, today, after a six-hour excursion into woods and fields while his parents, police and volunteers searched for him late yesterday.

Billy took a short nap yesterday afternoon. Later he decided to take a walk. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Polachek, missed him when he failed to appear for dinner. A search was started and a description broadcast over the police radio system.

Last night Billy was found wandering near a home on the Perry highway, three miles away. He was taken to his rescuer's house, given food and made to feel at home. Telephone calls to various police established his identity.

At his home today Billy said:

"I had a good time. I saw lots of autos and a man let me play with his motorcycle."

SHRINES OF '76 TO BE VISITED

The Peters Creek Valley Association of the Pennsylvania Society, Shrines of the American Revolution, will sponsor a patriotic mass meeting in the Library Baptist Church, Library, Pa., at 11 a. m., Sunday, May 20.

Thirteen graves of Revolutionary War veterans in the Peters Creek Cemetery at Library and 60 in the Peters Creek Valley, preserved as Revolutionary War shrines, will be marked and decorated.

The program also includes R. T. Wiley, author and historian, and Philip Murray as speakers.

Following the meeting, the society will make a pilgrimage to the site of Fort Cox, Union Township, a stronghold in pioneer days, to unveil a temporary marker. Flag standards of patriotic organizations participating in the exercises will be decorated with the society's official streamer.

CROPS WITHER IN DROUGHT

International News Service.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The spectre of an acute crop shortage became more threatening today in the drought-ridden Middle West with forecasters offering only a scant hope of rainfall.

Local showers, inadequate to moisten the dry subsoil, were predicted for approximately one-third of the sun-baked drought region which has spread from Ohio to Wyoming and from the Canadian wheat belt to Texas.

Heavy, drenching rains are needed to save the withering crops from destruction, Forecaster C. A. Donnel pointed out here, but the showers that are in sight are insufficient.

Continuous for 25 days, the dry period has proven one of the worst spring droughts in history, Weather Bureau records here showed.

THAYER POWER DEAL RELATED

ALBANY, N. Y., May 9.—(AP.)—How the Associated Gas and Electric Company, buying a utility plant from Senator Warren T. Thayer for $87,500, authorized its agent to pay Thayer an additional $20,000, was described to the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday by the agent.

Thayer's counsel contended that the additional amount was called for by a "gentleman's agreement" made at the time the company was sold.

Wallace E. Pierce, who was the agent for the Associated, testified that Thayer refused to sell the controlling interest in the Chasm Power Company unless he was either retained for five years as its general manager or remunerated for the salary he would have earned.

Paul McCauley, conducting the committee's inquiry into Thayer's relations with Associated, asserted that there was nothing in the contract for sale of "the company providing for such continued employment."

The inquiry into Thayer's official conduct was prompted by disclosure before the Federal Trade Commission that Thayer had corresponded with the Associated in 1927 and 1928 when he was head of the Senate's committee on public utility legislation.

Truck Upset Kills Driver, Helper Hurt

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., May 9.—Clifford Dillits, 40, the driver, was killed, and Morris Strange, 26, helper, was seriously injured when their truck overturned early today on the Brodhead road, near here. Both are of South Bend, Ind.

UTILITY LOBBY HIT IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—Assertions that a powerful lobby was trying to wreck the Johnson bill, which would take away from utility companies the right to appeal to federal courts against rates imposed by state commissions, had sprung up today in the House.

Representative O'Connor (Dem.), of New York, opposing the Lewis substitute to allow utility companies to use either state or federal courts but prohibit the transfer of their appeals from commission decisions from one court to the other, said:

"The utilities lobby knows something is coming to them.

"They prefer to go half-way rather than take their licking. So, they will favor the Lewis bill."

As the Johnson bill came from the Senate it would require utility companies to contest their cases in state courts with the right of appeal only to the United States Supreme Court.

Five Dollar Prize Winner

MRS. H. G. RENQUEST,
611 Fourteenth avenue, Munhall.
MAIDS OF HONOR

One-half cup butter.
Two eggs.
Three-fourths cup sugar.
Two cups flour.
Three-fourths cup chopped walnuts.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One cup fruit jam or finely chopped dates.
One cup whipped cream.
Makes one dozen cakes.

Cream the butter and sugar. Add the beaten eggs and beat until very light. Stir in flour, salt and baking powder sifted together. Form into balls the size of a walnut, then press evenly over the bottom and up the sides of greased muffin tins. Fill the centers with the jam or dates and nuts and bake in a quick oven 425 degrees F. for about 10 minutes. Serve topped with whipped cream.

Five $1 Prize Winners

MRS. R. D. MITCHELL,
R. D. No. 2, Care Rosser's Garage, Tarentum.
PEPPY BEAN FRITTERS

To one cup of cooked navy beans (mashed as fine as possible), add one egg, well beaten, one-half teaspoon celery salt, one-quarter teaspoon salt and little pepper.

Beat well and drop by tablespoon in deep fat, or margarine (about one-quarter inch deep in skillet), and when nicely browned on side, turn and serve immediately, with butter, or catsup.

As a time and money saver, use left over soup beans from the day before, which have been cooked thick. This recipe will make the main dish for a meal.

MRS. EDWARD DOWDEN,
RYE BREAD

One pint milk.
One compressed yeast cake.
One pint water.
One teaspoon salt.

Scald the milk, 180 degrees, being careful not to allow it to boil. Scald the water and add to milk. When the mixture is lukewarm, add the yeast dissolved in four tablespoons of cool sterilized water, the salt, and then stir in sufficient rye flour (about one quart) to make a stiff batter. Beat continuously for five minutes, lifting dought into the air and folding it over. Remove the spoon and scrape down the sides of the bowl, cover, and stand in a warm place for about three hours. By this time the mixture will be light and spongy. Stir in slowly sufficient rye flour to make a dough. Turn this out on the bread board, which has been slightly dusted with flour, knead continuously until the dough is soft and elastic and has lost its stickiness. With a sharp knife cut the dough into four portions; mold each into a loaf, put in greased pans and cover, stand in the same warm place one hour, or until the daugh has doubled its bulk and feels very light when lifted. Brush tops carefully with warm water and bake in a moderate oven (360 degrees) for three-quarters of an hour.

MISS M. ADAMS,
620 Dick street, Carnegie.
FIVE O'CLOCK CREAM CAKES

One-fourth cup butter.
One-half cup boiling water.
One-half cup flour.
One whole egg.
One egg yolk.
One cup cream.
One-fourth cup sugar.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
Currant preserves.
Chopped pista-chio nuts.

Make a paste with the butter, water, flour and eggs. Drop the paste by the teaspoonful on a buttered baking sheet. Bake about 20 minutes. When cold open the cakes on one side and fill with the cream, sugar and vanilla, beaten until firm; let the cream mixtures show on the open side. Set a little of the preserves on the top of each and sprinkle with the chopped nuts.

MRS. EARL HOLSING,
R. D. 2, Tarentum.
COD FISH VALENCIA

One pound salt cod fish.
Two cups cooked buttered rice.
Two medium sized tomatoes.
One small Spanish onion.
Two hard cooked eggs.
Two tablespoons butter, browned.
One-fourth cup fine crumbs.

Soak cod fish over night in cold water, drain and cook until tender, then flake the fish. In a buttered baking dish place a layer of the buttered rice, then a layer of the flaked fish, a layer of sliced tomatoes, and a layer of rounds of fried onions. Cover with a second layer of rice and surround with quarters of hard cooked eggs imbedded in the rice. Sprinkle with browned butter and crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) 20 to 30 minutes. Serve very hot.

MRS. J. S. RICHARDSON,
1103 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg.
PARTY SALAD

Three medium alligator pears peeled.
One-half pound cottage cheese.
One cup finely chopped pecans or walnuts.
One teaspoon minced chives or parsley.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One cup shredded ripe olives.
One head crisp lettuce.
One cup French dressing or mayonnaise.

Select firm pears and peel them carefully; cut each one in half lengthwise and remove the seed and any membrane attaching, taking care not to crush the fruit. For the filling mix cottage cheese with chopped nuts and olives, minced chives or parsley and salt. Fill the hollowed pear halves with the cheese mixture; press two halves together firmly. Wrap each filled pear in waxed paper, twisting the ends of paper to hold pear halves more firmly in place. Chill well. Just before serving unwrap pears and cut each in crosswise slices. Serve three slices on a bed of lettuce for a portion with French dressing or mayonnaise. Serves eight.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Wall Street Touts Predicted Slump In Stocks

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Stock market touts started passing around the tip 10 days ago that the market was soon to begin a major downward movement.

All the worst and some of the best Wall streeet houses wired their clients, advising the sale of stocks and transfer of the money into high-grade bonds. The tips were not confined to a select circle.

Only two deductions can possibly be drawn from that fact. Either the Wall streeters, in unison, simultaneously discovered dangerous flaws in the business situation, or else they got their heads together and decided for political reasons of their own to sing the Wall street blues in a chorus.

FACTS

Certain non-partisan economic experts have been running around Washington the last few days trying to find out what flaws exist in the business situation.

They have discovered these things:

Inventories are large in some lines; the 60 per cent steel production is somewhat abnormal, being based on the desire of all steel consumers to stock up before the price increase July 1; a few orders for automobiles have been canceled.

They have not been able to find any good authority who will say that such discoveries are sufficient justification for the sag of the market, especially in view of the three proposed amendments to the Securities Act; the fact that industrial production continues to increase moderately and the fact that the wages and employment situations are improving, although not nearly as much as expected.

REPUBLICANS

The saner Republicans here lean toward the idea of making Ralph Williams a stop-gap chairman of the national committee until after the congressional election.

They are wise enough to see that they are now too far in advance of the next presidential elections to know what kind of a chairman they want.

BORAH

The Republican problem, as viewed from the inside, is to win back the West. They cannot win a presidential election or control of Congress without the farm belt. The Democrats have the South and will keep it. The East may go Republican, but that will not be enough for Republican victory unless the farm states tie themselves again to the G. O. P. elephant's tail.

As one of the big fellows said the other day:

"If Senator Borah were 10 years younger he would be the man for the chairmanship. As it is, he will have to be consulted and pleased.

NAMES

This line of inside talk has brought out only a few names of western possibilities for the chairmanship. Ex-Governor Kohler, of Wisconsin, is one. Senator Nye another. Neither fits perfectly into the picture. Kohler would be a red flag to the Progressive bulls. Nye's political inexperience will be held against him.

TOKENS

It was Mr. Roosevelt himself who wrote the language into the Johnson bill declaring that token payments of war debts hereafter would be taboo.

The fact did not get out at the time that a draft of the Johnson bill was sent to Mr. Roosevelt for his personal inspection. With his own pen he added the language "or any part thereof," describing defaulters as those who default on any part of their debt to us.

NOTES

The boys who should know say that Mr. Hoover has no candidate for the charmanship of the Republican National Committee . . . Clarence Darrow sent Mr. Roosevelt two letters along with his scorching report on NRA policies. One letter demanded the resignation of Mr. Sinclair, who declined to sign the Darrow report, and the other asked the President pointedly whether Darrow should make his scorcher public or whether the President would do it . . . James Warburg's new book, "The Money Muddle," has greatly annoyed the New Dealers. They consider it implies that the White House did not know what it was doing about the money question. As the first expose (a very mild one) of the London Economic Conference by one of the President's advisers there, it will probably cause a political rumpus.

(Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon.)

MR. JOSEPH H. CHOATE, JR., DIRECTOR OF FEDERAL ALCOHOL CONTROL ADMINISTRATION, RELAXES FOR A MOMENT FROM THE SERIOUS BUSINESS OF LIQUOR CODE PROBLEMS.

MR. CHOATE, LAWYER, HARVARD, SANDY-HAIRED, TALL, LEAN, AND GENIAL IS MUCH CONCERNED OVER BOOTLEGGING. HE SUGGESTS A FIVE-POINT PLAN TO COMBAT ILLEGAL LIQUOR:—

1. BETTER ENFORCEMENT
2. PROPAGANDA AGAINST BOOTLEGGING
3. CHEAPER LIQUOR
4. LOWER TAXES AND TARIFF
5. REMOVAL OF RED TAPE IN SALES CONTROL

Some of the greatest work has been done because a man has wanted to be honored, famous and well known. Few of our great painters, singers, composers and architects get what they are worth for their services.

In many cases, they donate their talent to the world, just for the love of doing it. Some people say they must express themselves. Music, for instance, comes so naturally to some men, and has in the past, that they compose beautiful melodies almost without effort. The music is in them. They want others to hear it.

Most of the great paintings are in art galleries or museums. But the beauty stored up there is not hidden where only a few can see it. Men can take pictures of the painting. Other artists study it for inspiration. Soon, copies of the painting are scattered over the world. Soon much of the beauty in the painting is making homes and buildings beautiful all over the world.

Think of the thrill a great writer must have in writing a book that becomes world famous. A book so great and so true, and so well done, that thousands buy it and libraries lend it to thousands more so that soon what it says is known across many states. And its influence is felt in the farthest corners of the world.

Rewards for doing a great thing, for producing something truly beautiful and inspiring, cannot be counted in dollars. Pleasure for the artist is in doing something worth-while.

We all need money to live, yes, fellows. But over and above the money, we can all have the fun of doing something extra fine. Indeed, we hope that every Junior Patrol member will try to do something more than he has to do. For instance, the next time you hold your Junior Patrol meeting, ask every member to bring something beautiful for all the members to look at.

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

Now-a-days, women of all ages simply have to be looking slim and young, and the way they do it is to keep a slightly watchful eye on the calories—and wear frocks like this! The frock is the biggest part of the secret. A good one, as you see, simply covers up curves with a cape and misleads the eye with such tricks as those slenderizing points at the hips. But don't suppose that it neglects that essential matter of smartness. It is really charming in foulard, sheer cotton or the ever popular georgette or chiffon.

Pattern 1779 is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3¾ yards 39 inch fabric and ¾ yard 2½ inch lace. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send 15 CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

THE LATEST EDITION OF THE PATTERN BOOK features all the best seasonal styles for adults and children. Send for your copy of this interesting, helpful book and be chic. PRICE OF BOOK 15 CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, 25 CENTS.

CROCHETED ACCESSORIES

Crocheting Is Popular Needlework

Crocheting, that needlework that always employs the same simple stitches, is the highnote in style this spring. It blossoms out in these dainty and perky collar and cuff sets that make you want to take crochet hook and cotton and quickly smarten up some dress. The beret—always flattering and so practical—is effective in chenille or heavy cotton, its ribbed effect adding a new note to crocheted headwear. In the round collar and cuff set, the cuffs are equally practical on a dress or to add that newest note to gloves, the crocheted cuff. They are just sewn on to a fabric love and it is easy to see what a dainty touch they give the entire costume. The arrangement of the stitches in this set seem to give it a perkiness that is most desirable. The simple crocheted medallion that adorns the edge of the bib collar and cuff set give it a pet-like effect. Made of net or georgette, the set adds a dainty touch to any dress.

Pattern 698 contains directions for making the two collar and cuff sets and beret as well as a pattern for the bib collar and cuff set and material requirements.

You've Still Time to Win Rushmore Competition

Just 600 Words—And America Has Lasting Epic

Just 600 words — written by some man, woman or youth—are destined to bespeak America's epic in letters 13 feet high from the shining granite side of the country's greatest monument—Mount Rushmore National Memorial—in South Dakota.

The Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission has given the Sun-Telegraph and associated Hearst newspapers the honor of sponsoring a nationwide competition in quest of these 600 words. In turn, an invitation is extended by the Hearst newspapers to every person to submit a text expressing their views on how nine specific episodes of history developed America and the United States into the greatest nation in the world.

Leaders in national affairs, educational, civic and patriotic life everywhere have recognized the significance of the project. Here is the opportunity for the people themselves to share in the creation of the greatest monument—a cenotaph estimated to exist for 1,600,000 years. The privilege to write a text that might be selected as the basis of the final inscription is extended to you.

The competition closes May 30. However, there is sufficient time for every one to enter today. If you have not already read the rules, they will be published in tomorrow's Sun-Telegraph. Clip them out for reference after you have carefully studied the nine points of history that must form the basis of your text.

Cash awards, scholarships and medals are among the prizes to be distributed in the four separate classifications of entrants. These classes are—adults; college students; high school pupils, and grade school pupils. None compete against each other for the awards but all have equal opportunity to produce the final winning honor.

Complete List of Prizes For Mt. Rushmore Epic!

Following is the complete list of prizes and awards for the competition inaugurated by the Hearst newspapers in connection with the inscription for the Mount Rushmore National Memorial.

These awards will be made by a national committee of which President Roosevelt is chairman, in accordance with the rules of the competition published elsewhere on this page.

Adult man or woman not an enrolled student—First prize, $1,000. Second prize, $500.00.

Best in any college—$500.00 yearly scholarship for balance of his or her college four-year course.

Second best—$300.00 scholarship for balance of his or her course.

Third best—Gold medal.
Fourth best—Silver medal.
Fifth best—Bronze medal.
Best in each college—Certificate of merit.

Best in any high school—Four-year scholarship at $250 per year or $500 in cash.
Second best—Gold medal.
Third best—Silver medal.
Fourth best—Bronze medal.
Best in each high school—Certificate of merit.

Best in any grammar school—$25
Second best—Gold medal.
Third best—Silver medal.
Fourth best—Bronze medal.
Best in each school—Certificate of merit.

Each school or college reporting 25 competitors—Certificate of merit for patriotic cooperation in Rushmore memorial campaign.

JUNIOR BIRDMEN OF AMERICA

Junior Birdmen Membership Nears 50,000; Many Applications for Squadrons Received

By J. JAMES MOORE, Pittsburgh Wing Commander

Greetings, Junior Birdmen. Here's good news from national headquarters. The Junior Birdmen of America already has reached a national membership of over 40,000 and by this time we may have already reached the 50,000 mark! We are growing by leaps and climbs and every one of your air-minded boys and girls should be proud to be one of the early members of this great youth movement! Our activities and features have an appeal to every spirited and ambitious young man and young woman and through the organization of our flight squadrons we now promote another fine and noble sentiment—friendship!

While the Junior Birdmen activities will give you many opportunities to make new friends when attending field days, model meets, and other local wing events, your membership in a Junior Birdmen Flight Squadron will gain you many a new life-long acquaintance, not only with members of your own unit, but with members of other units with whom your Flight Squadron might bring you in contact with when challenging them to model plane contests and other events of a like nature.

While Junior Birdmen members do not have to become affiliated with a Flight Squadron, every boy and every girl is used to organize a unit or become associated with one already organized in your neighborhood.

Hundreds of applications for Junior Birdmen Flight Squadrons are pouring into local wing headquarters throughout the country, and within a short span of time thousands of such units will be conducting their own meetings and activities under the guidance of the local wing commanders and the sponsorship of the National Junior Birdmen of America.

While it is too early to give you any news of our local Flight Squadrons, as our staff is still busy writing out charters and preparing to send them through the mails to you boys and girls who have already sent in applications to form your own unit, I will, in a few days, give you the real low-down on who was first to send in an application and the names of all members who have already applied for Flight Squadron charters.

Organize your own Flight Squadron today or join a unit already organized in your neighborhood at once!

Air Dictionary List Number 7

You will remember that on Monday, because of the details published for the inauguration of our Flight Squadron plan, I had to omit the air dictionary list. Today I give you both list number seven and list number eight. Here is the first:

Angle (dihedral) — Dihedral is to be found in the main supporting wing of a plane. It is the angle caused by the slight tilting upward of the wing from the centear to each tip, forming a low "V."

Anti-drag wire—A wire primarily intended to resist forces acting forward in the chord direction. It is generally enclosed in the wing.

Approach light—A light, usually green, designed to indicate a favorable direction to a landing field for the landing of aircraft.

Area (propeller)—The area of a blade times the number of propellers.

Area (propeller-disk) — The total area swept by a propeller. The area of a circle having the same diameter as the propeller.

Air Dictionary List Number 8

Area (Stabilizer) — The total area of the stabilizers. Obtained by multiplying the length by the width of each stabilizer and adding total area of both together.

Area (Wing)—The total area of the wing. Obtained by multiplying the length by the chord (width) of the wing. If wing is divided into two sections, add the wing area of both sections to get the total wing area of the craft.

Arresting Gear—The gear incorporated in aircraft and in the landing area to facilitate landing in limited space.

Artificial Horizon—A device on the instrument board that indicates to the pilot the attitude (tilt) of an aircraft in flight wth respect to the horizon. It may be a liquid level, pendulum or gyroscope.

Atmosphere (Standard) — An arbitary atmosphere used in comparing the performance of aircraft. The standard atmosphere in use in the United States at present represents very nearly the average conditions found at latitude 40 degrees.

Attitude—The position of an aircraft in respect to the earth.

Attitude of flight—Inclination of the three principal airplane axis to the wind. The three axis are the longitudinal axis, the lateral axis and the normal axis.

Autogiro—A type of rotor plane whose support in the air is chiefly derived from airfoil- rotating above the craft. Its chief advantage is an almost perpendicular take-off and landing.

Automatic pilot—An automatic control mechanism for keeping an aircraft in level flight on a set course. Also referred to as a gyro pilot, mechanical pilot or a robot pilot.

There are several terms which, alphabetically, should be included in the above lists. However, because of their technical nature, I shall wait until the end of our feature when you will be more familiar with the primary terms. I will then include them in the addenda.

Our Daily Mail

Our daily mail brings many interesting letters into this office and I know that you should like to read some of them. Tommorrow I am going to devote most of our column space to the publication of excerpts from these letters and other news of interest to members of our local wing of the Junior Birdmen of America.

Friday, don't forget, we will have the first article in our official Junior Birdmen Model Builders Course for Beginners!

now! 5 YEARS PROTECTION on the MONITOR TOP mechanism FOR ONLY $1 A YEAR

Matchless Mechanism, Distinguished Styling and all modern Convenience Features in 1934 G-E models

- New Monitor Top of modern design with smooth gleaming walls.
- So quiet you can scarcely hear it.
- Requires no attention, not even oiling.
- Freezes more ice faster.
- Uses less current and is fully powered for even unusual demands.
- All-steel cabinets with glistening white porcelain interior and either porcelain or Glyptal enamel exterior.
- Large, roomy freezing chamber of stainless steel . . . no chipping, no rusting.
- Control for fast or slow freezing.
- Automatic defroster, refrigeration uninterrupted.
- Sliding shelves adjustable in height for greater convenience in storing foods.
- Automatic interior lighting . . turns on when door opens, off when it closes.
- Auxiliary foot-pedal door opener.
- Container for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp.

Come in and see the new 1934 refrigerators. There is a size, model and price to exactly meet your requirements. Prices as low as $119

You buy mechanical performance when you buy a modern refrigerator. Without a mechanism built for long years of trouble-free uninterrupted service, beauty and convenience features are of little value to you. 70% of your investment in any modern refrigerator is in the mechanism. Look to its performance record to assure you greatest satisfaction in its use year after year.

In the famous Monitor Top General Electric built a matchless mechanism that has earned universal recognition as the standard of excellence for household refrigeration. Sealed in walls of ageless steel it requires no attention—not even oiling.

The G-E Monitor Top—first electric refrigerator with a 2 year guarantee, then a 3 year guarantee, then a 4 year service plan—now gives you 5 years protection. You get the standard 1 year warranty—plus 4 more years protection on sealed-in-steel mechanism for only $5—a dollar a year!

Before you buy any refrigerator ask this one question: "How long will you protect me against any replacement cost due to possible failure of the mechanism for as little as $1 a year?"

A Deluge of Dollars

Is Being Pumped Out of Pennsylvania To Be Distributed To The South and West

Whether you are a job-holder, merchant, business man, banker or one engaged in a professional pursuit, you are paying these dollars—and at an average rate of

$100 GOING OUT FOR EVERY DOLLAR THAT IS COMING BACK

The question you have got to decide is whether you are going to have able, experienced and courageous representation in the U. S. Senate in these all-important matters, or representation that has pledged itself to "yes" to proposals, good or bad, in which you are made the object of some new experiment.

Normally Pennsylvania pays one-tenth of the whole national tax bill. So, when the Federal Government hands out ten billions of dollars in various kinds of subsidies, a billion dollars of that sum is a mortgage upon Pennsylvania and must be paid by the people of this State.

How much is a billion dollars? It is the equivalent of a dollar a minute from the beginning of the Christian Era to the present time.

And that mortgage already has been created against this State and its people. Directly and indirectly you will shoulder that burden when we begin to "pay the fiddler" through crushing taxes that will bear down upon every man and woman in this commonwealth.

BUT THAT IS NOT ALL

The Federal Government (under A.A.A.) has embarked upon a constantly expanding program of paying the large producers of Cotton, Wheat, Corn, Hogs, etc., to curtail production. The object of this curtailment is to increase the prices of the agricultural products.

The money for this particular subsidy does not come from the general tax fund, but is derived from special taxes imposed upon the processing of these subsidized products. These taxes are added into the retail prices of foods and clothing.

In other words, prices that already have been raised through controlled production, there is added another increase to pay for the subsidy which caused the first increase.

If you buy food and clothing, there is no way that you can escape your share of the 100-to-1 ratio in which Pennsylvanians are being assessed to finance this subsidy.

HERE ARE THE GOVERNMENT'S OWN FIGURES ON THE SUBJECT

For every dollar that Pennsylvania consumers pay in A. A. A. taxes, the people of this State get back, in A. A. A. benefits, the munificent sum of ONE CENT.

But Arkansas is the State of Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic leader of the Senate; and for every dollar the consumers of that State pay, they get back $26.57.

Mississippi is the State of Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate; and for every dollar the consumers of that State pay, they get back $23.20.

Proportioned to what they pay in, Arkansas gets back 2657 times the amount that Pennsylvania receives; Mississippi gets 2320 times what Pennsylvania gets; and so it runs, throughout the list of southern and western non-industrial States.

THOSE ARE SOME OF THE FACTS THAT ARE JUST COMING TO LIGHT

Few States are so vitally affected by national legislation as Pennsylvania, and no State has greater need for a U.S. Senator who, in ability, courage and experience, is fitted for the rigorous requirements of looking after his State's diversified interests.

In these circumstances, failure of Pennsylvania to retain Senator David A. Reed in the U. S. Senate would be almost inconceivable—and especially so since his principal opponent for the Republican nomination has pledged himself to ALL the policies of a Democratic administration, irrespective of their consequences to the people of this State.

Senator Reed is rounding out 12 years of service in which he not only has acquired invaluable experience, but also a seniority by which he is the ranking member of the powerful Finance Committee and an acknowledged leader in the upper branch of Congress. Outstanding members of both political parties characterize him as one of the ablest members of the Senate, and that ability is an asset of highest value to the people of this State.

In the Primary, on May 15th, Senator Reed will be a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself. We urge you to vote for Senator Reed and thereby help Pennsylvania to retain the advantage our people have in his ability, experience, seniority and position of leadership in the United States Senate.

FIGHT LEAGUE, URGES LAWYER AND OFFICER

Calling attention once again to the huge propaganda machine which is attempting to force this nation into the League of Nations and the World Court, Attorney Robert Mellin, in a radio address, appealed to patriotic and loyal Americans to combat this propaganda with protests to the United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee against any move to bring this nation into the league or its court.

Attorney Mellin is a captain in the Chemical Warfare Service Reserves in Pittsburgh. He is also past president of the Pittsburgh Chapter, National Sojourners, an organization of former and present Army and Navy officers. In his address over radio station WCAE yesterday, Capt. Mellin deplored the weakness of our national defense and declared that our policy of unpreparedness, instead of fostering the spirit of peace in other nations, has resulted in the creation of greater military establishments among them than at any other time in the world's history.

DEFENSE APPEAL

Speaking of adequate national defense, Attorney Mellin declared:

"Our Federal Constitution, wisely contemplating the ever present possibility of war, declares that one of its purposes is to provide for the common defense. Therefore, our own country has not only the right, but the bounden duty to make such preparations for self defense as it may consider necessary."

Capt. Mellin urged every citizen and patriotic group to sign the petitions being circulated by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers. The petitions, protesting entrance of this country into the League of Nations and World Court, are to be presented to the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate one week from today when the committee conducts hearings for those opposed to entry into the league or court. Already approximately 1,500,000 persons have signed the petitions.

STILL TIME TO SIGN

There is still time to obtain petitions and have your friends sign them. Petitions are available at the Sun-Telegraph. When signed they should be returned immediately to the League Court Editor, Sun-Telegraph, who will forward them to Washington for presentation to the Senate Committee.

Two more prominent speakers will speak against entry into the league tomorrow. At 12:15 over station WCAE, Maj. William A. Kimble will speak, and at 6 p. m., over the same station, Dr. Albert Bayard Wright, Dean of the School of Business Administration, Duquesne University, will speak. Both men will give their reasons why this country should remain free of any foreign entanglements.

PETITION AGAINST PARTICIPATION In the LEAGUE of NATIONS and World Court

If you want to save America from European entanglements and keep your country out of foreign wars, and foreign wars out of your country, sign this petition:

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

We protest AGAINST the United States participating in the League of Nations or in the World Court of the League of Nations, with or without "reservations."

We petition our Federal Government to keep our United States "free from foreign entanglements," as the Father of Our Country wisely enjoined.

We urge our Congress at Washington to keep our government from meddling in foreign affairs, and to keep foreign nations from meddling in our American affairs.

As loyal American citizens, we ask our loyal representatives to keep our country out of foreign conflicts and complications and to keep foreign conflicts and complications out of our country.

NAME	ADDRESS

Additional names may be added to this petition by pasting a sheet of paper hereto. PRESENTED through the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

NIPPON DEFIANT IN POLICY TALK

International News Service.

TOKIO, May 9.—"Japan's basic policy is building up Manchukuo with imperial guidance and a well-prepared army," War Minister Gen. Senjiro Hayashi declared in a speech before an important gubernatorial conference held in a heavy military atmosphere today.

Gen. Hayashi stressed the need of close co-operation between the army and the civilian population in order that Japan may achieve her goals. He added:

"Japan is undergoing a difficult task which has been entrusted to us by the will of God.

"The nation must unite in a gigantic effort to accomplish the purposes for which it has set out. We cannot be held back under any circumstances."

JAPAN SCORES BRITISH QUOTAS

TOKIO, May 9.—(AP.)—A formal protest against Great Britain's newly-imposed quotas on Japanese imports likely will be the first gun fired by Japan in the Anglo-Japanese trade war, it was indicated in high government quarters today.

A majority of the foreign office officials believe the British restrictions on Japanese trade infringe upon the most favored nation clause of the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty.

For this reason, a high government official said, legal experts are studying the quotas to determine whether Japan's rights have been infringed upon.

The official said Japan will refuse to make any peace overtures.

David Harum Hotel Swept by Flames

HOMER, N. Y., May 8.—(AP.)—Fire today badly damaged the century-old hotel where old Dave Hannum traded "hosses" before Edward Noyes Westcott put him, under the thin pseudonym of "David Harum," between the covers of a novel that became world famous.

In Dave's days the hotel was "The Mansion House," but success of Westcott's novel, brought out in 1901, led the proprietors to change the name to "David Harum Hotel."

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

CLIVE BROOK, VANITIES -:- Musical Cruiser, Baron Munchausen -:- ON RADIO TONIGHT

Dramatize Love Story Series

Clive Brook, Leslie Howard, Roland Young and other popular screen stars come to the air to play the leads in a new series of love story dramas, the first of which is heard over KDKA tonight at 9:30.

Brook is featured in the first performance—a radio version of Michael Arlen's "The Three Cornered Moon." Young, Howard and numerous other Hollywood headliners will be heard on successive Wednesdays.

* * *

"Coronation," a short story by Mary Wilkins Freeman, is dramatized over WJAS tonight at 10 by a radio cast headed by Parker Fennelly and Camilla Crume.

The drama involves a lovable old man who has 50 cats and as many troublesome relatives who are after his money.

* * *

Andrew P. Berger, campaigning for T. W. Phillips, gives a political address over WCAE at 10:30 p. m.

* * *

* * *

Messages from practically every Europ an country are rebroadcast over WJAS this afternoon at 4 o'clock during the weekly "Spanning the World" demonstration.

* * *

New Director

David Olson, whose Yankee twang in radio sketches has earned him the title, "Seth Parker of Pittsburgh," has been appointed program director of WCAE. He succeeds Ed Harvey who left for Milwaukee station WISN last Saturday.

Frances Langford and the Three Scamps supply the music.

* * *

* * *

* * *

The second edition of Everett Marshall's Broadway Vanities is billed on WJAS at 8:30. Ohman and Arden are among the musicians heard on the program.

* * *

The Straight Eight, a double male quartet, sing over KQV at 7:15 p. m. They are directed by Emma Steiner, vocal teacher at Taylor Allderdice School.

McNamee to Describe Battle

By AIRCASTER

Graham McNamee, it seems, is entitled to the tile of "the irremovable big fight announcer."

There are many people who think Mac is too picturesque and not technical enough to be at the ringside; there are many people who prefer spontaneity, color and a dramatic voice for the calling of uppercuts, and other forms of assault, and these are McNamee devotees.

But whether or not you like McNamee calling the blows, it's McNamee who has been picked to do the Max Baer-Primo Carnera battle next month.

Aware of the divided audience with regard to McNamee's descriptions, the sponsor who will air the big battle auditioned all last week for the purpose of selecting the best possible man for the ringside mike—but not one of the aspirants came through with the required sparkle.

* * *

GETS THE JOB

That is, not one did, except McNamee. So he has been designated to handle the job—and the fact that he is announcing Maxie Baer's current sketches, will both help and hurt him.

There will be those who believe that the time spent in a training camp, with the American fighter, will help Mac's background. But others may wonder whether friendship established there might sway McNamee to the Baer side of the fence.

* * *

The Arctic Circle is going into broadcasting. It's station, located at Vadso, Norway, will be on the air soon, and when it begins aircasting, there will be a WJAS-CBS relay to the United States.

* * *

Permission has just been granted by Speaker Rainey, of the House, for an NBC broadcast of the final proceedings of this session of Congress when adjournment is taken some time the latter part of the month.

Microphones will be installed on the speaker's rostrum and in the well of the House.

BRIDEGLOOM

"Singin' Sam," as most everyone knows by now, got himself married recently and journeyed to a remote town in Indiana for a nice quiet honeymoon.

Sam has been off the air quite a spell and as often happens, just at the wrong moment, a prospective sponsor wanted to get in touch with him. The client appealed to the Columbia Broadcasting System for help in finding Sam.

Behind the scenes in radio and at WABC, "Singin' Sam" is referred to by his own tag, Harry Frankel. So the WABC executives telegraphed a message to him and addressed it to Harry Frankel.

Several times within an afternoon, the telegraph company wired back that no such person could be found at the honeymoon hotel. Then a WABC fellow telephoned the hotel and asked for Singin' Sam.

"Oh why didn't you say so in the first place," said the phone gal. "Sure he's here. We thought you wanted a guy named Frankel."

Apropos of the Cantor-Radio Editors controversy (if any) the only people I've known to pan the banjo-eyed egotist have been the radio listeners. And that's as far as this column is going to become involved in a publicity racket.

Sports Broadcast On WCAE

Globe Trotter

Hello, Ladies and Gentlemen:

A letter from a Globe Trotter recites that there is one of man's most faithful servants which is not appreciated as it should be—the cat.

It is not so easily adapted to good stories as some of the other animals and partly because of this it has become the "forgotten man" of the animal world.

The letter then goes on to tell the value of the cat in ridding farms of rodents and thereby cutting down the damage of these rodents to food and grain. It adds:

"Even the alley cat does its bit by keeping down the rodent population in the neighborhood."

Therefore, ladies and gentlemen, we must not forget the cat. Let's do what our correspondent suggests:

"Place an old pan filled with water outside the back gate every day. It would do a lot of good during the hot weather ahead of us. It is bad enough to be hungry but it is worse to be thirsty—even for a homeless alley cat.

* * *

The editor asks for information about the first roving swarm of bees located in or near Pittsburgh.

If he could use the crows. I could tell him about Glenn Germon, Dormont, a student at the Kelton avenue school. Glenn has a pet crow. Well, Glenn calls it a pet, but when I invited him down here with the bird to broadcast, he told me that the crow had just finished chewing him up and wasn't as much of a pet as he had been. The radio visit has been deferred two weeks.

Melvin Good, Woods Run, has been investgating again and this time he comes through with the Japanese cherry trees along the Potomac basin at Washington. Melvin says that contrary to public opinion, the first Japanese cherry trees in Washington didn't come from Japan but from West Chester, Pa.

Mrs. William Howard Taft in 1909 sent a hundred Japanese cherry trees to Washington, and it wasn't until later that Tokio sent 3,000 to be planted along the Potomac.

Local Highlights on WJAS Tonight

The Weston Sisters fill another new schedule spot, being billed from 7 to 7:15.

Night Press Rate

CHICAGO, Ill.

Sent you the insurance check today . . . Be sure and tell F. F. . . . His plans worked beautifully . . . Keep rushing me copy each mail . . . I see that the suggestion in the column about advertisers offering $5,000 reward for capture of criminals like Dillinger was grabbed by the press agent of Universal, Smott guy . . . He made front pages big here, blazing headlines, and it probably won't cost his boss a dime—for Dillinger is going to be Vincent Coll'd.

Ashton Stevens drama critic here, did a rave on Gordon & Revel . . . He said their real names must be Gilbert and Sullivan . . . Stevens, by the way, is plotting a book of his career with a honey of a tag, to wit: "When Cabs Wore Horses."

Find out latest developments between Harriet Hoctor and Danny Dare . . . When somebody asked Clyde Beatty if it were true that he got $200 a week to fight those lions and tigers in a cage—he sadly replied: "I wish it were that much" . . . Has anything been printed about the Street Singer flying to the Coast to forget his marital mess? . . . Helen Kane is now bigger than ever because of newspaper publicity over her lawsuit . . . Find out if John Cohen, Philly lawyer, ex-Warner's man, socked one of the Mdivanis at a Hollywood party.

Sherman Billingsley, owner of the Stork Club, has bought three brownstone houses on fashionable part of Park avenue to build swanky spots . . . Marc Lachman says that Hollywood is merely "Tobacco Road" lit up by Kleig lights . . . Mrs. Russell Erskine (one of the Howard Twins from Tulsa who married into the Studebaker tribe here) was back stage with her mother-in-law . . . Is she beautiful? Well, she's playing hookey from Heaven.

Here's a dizzy story . . . That Roosevelt relative who went around the world in a Ford truck, also took films of places never before filmed . . . The Ford firm was approached to sponsor her on the air—but turned her down, saying she used a 1932 model . . . Of course. It took her two years to tour! . . . Nice way of putting it, anyway . . . I couldn't check on it but I heard that Ross Young, a promoter from Florida, came here and bought the police car that Dillinger's men shot up recently and has it on display at a dime a look-see, and that it attracts $350 daily.

It will be definitely established that Dillinger didn't use a wooden gun at all in the Crown Point jail break . . . The bribe takers were supposed to get $45,000, as I pointed out weeks ago, but because the payoff man held out a goodly part—his body was found here recently . . . More later . . . The country will be shocked and greatly pained when the famous snatch case comes to trial . . . One man who knew and didn't tell will be a former parson! . . . Imagine that, Ruth!

The mail has piled up on me in the dressing room . . . It would take too long to go through it to find what I want to use . . . At this moment I haven't found a blessed event, as a result . . . The first blabby column without one in my career! . . . I see that Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler took a rap at me for publishing the Pulitzer Prizes . . . Thank him for the ad . . . What worries me is that they'll include me when they send out the releases to all papers and then I couldn't break the rule—but so long as I have to dig up my own news . . . tell them I will continue to do so . . . And be sure and tell Percy Hammond I was right all the time about "Mary of Scotland" being the one . . . Am sending you all the shut-in mail received at theater . . . The loop here is wondering why Norma Talmadge didn't attend the dinner given by the Broadway Boosters to her new husband, Jessel . . . Considering everybody else was there.—Me.

Players and Plays

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

"Sorrell and Son," with H. B. Warner heading the cast, will open in the Fulton tomorrow. This is an entirely new talkie version of the Warwick Deeping novel. The silent version of the same book also had Mr. Warner as its star some years ago, but no other member of that cast appears in the new picture.

* * *

"Double Door," a screen version of one of last season's stage hits in New York, will be seen on the Warner screen, beginning tomorrow. Mary Morris, who acted the leading role in the play, has the same part in the picture, the cast of which also includes Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor and Sir Guy Standing.

* * *

Val and Ernie Stanton, "big-time" stars of vaudeville of the two-a-day period, head the roster of "The King's Scandals," stage show coming to the Pitt Friday.

* * *

Alex Kann, young Pittsburgh actor, is home for a couple of weeks, between cabaret engagements in New York. He has just completed a long run in one of the novelty entertainment spots of New York, the Merry-Go-Round, which has a setting that fits the name. Alex has developed a new line, having become a puppeteer, the form of entertainment he put on at the Merry-Go-Round, and which he will continue at a coming engagement in the Petit Palais, a noted speakeasy of the prohibition era, according to Mr. Kann, which has turned strictly legal with the new trend. The puppets—Sue Hastings' brand—are of persons prominent in modern life, for which Alex pulls the strings and supplies the voices. He has many, as he demonstrated first as a March of Time radio artist. As Mr. Kann, himself, he also is master of ceremonies, appearing before the audience, a la Balieff, to tell what his puppets will do next. The home folks became acquainted with him through summer theater activities in Oakmont last year.

"Men in White," which has just been awarded the Pulitzer drama prize for 1934, is one-third owned by Doris Warner Leroy, daughter of Harry Warner, film magnate, and wife of Mervin Leroy, prominent photoplay director.

Dress Taste Of Star

Adolphe Menjou asserts that the perfect Beau Brummel doesn't exist in Hollywood. One male star may represent the acme in waistcoasts but another will surpass him in the cut of his trousers.

But Adolphe has figured out a composite man for you to be guided by. If you seek sartorial perfection, follow this recipe:

Ronald Colman, he says, wears sport clothes better than anyone else. Herbert Marshall excels in full dress. But the man who is the best-groomed for all occasions, he states, is Frank Elliott, former husband of Dorothy Cummings, and the organizer of Hollywood's old 400 Club.

"The reason," Mr. Menjou says, "is that he has a perfect flair for the proper use of all accessories."

If you can believe Adolphe, Samuel Goldwyn is the best-dressed Hollywood producer, Sidney Franklin outdresses other directors, Gene Markey is tops among the writers, Cedric Gibbons is the dandy of the art directors and George Barnes (Joan Blondell's husband) is the nattiest cameraman.

Pittsburgh Coal Co. Offers Home Sites

Recommendation by C. C. Hamilton that the County Commissioners appoint a committee to help the "50,000" homeless and jobless families to find work and shelter has been referred to the Allegheny County Emergency Association.

In a letter to the Commissioners yesterday, Hamilton said he was in a position to offer for the Pittsburgh Coal Company 4,000 acres of land with several hundred houses at an average cost of not more than $100 per acre.

Tom-Tom to Beat At Mission Service

The ceremony commemorates the visit here in 1834 of Jason Lee and Cyrus Shepard. Bishops Adna Wright Leonard and Titus Lowe will address the meeting.

Pittsburgher Named To Board of Maltas

William E. Doerr, of Pittsburgh, and J. M. Pollack, of Wilmerding, were elected last night to the board of governors of the Knights of Malta at that organization's convention in Cumberland, Md. Harry D. Kirker, Beaver Falls, has been named Grand Commander to succeed George P. Lowry, Homestead.

Young Stars Want Rich Mates

By JIMMY STARR

HOLLYWOOD, May 9.—Hello! The movie village's latest crop of Wampas baby stars stepped down from their acting perch, wiped away the grease paint and make-up, became themselves for a few minutes, and admitted they all have ambitions to be great screen stars, of course, but frankly, hoped to marry millionaires, preferably motion picture executives.

Selected by the Western Association of Motion Picture Advertisers to carry on the 13-year-old custom of electing future film stars, these 1934 beauties, 13 in number revealed that they will carry on in screen work. But while they sincerely hope one day to be popular screen favorites, the consensus is that in a tossup a screen career would come in a rank second.

"Yes, I hope I marry a millionaire. They are my choice of dates right now."

Jean Gale, tall brunette, one of the two pair of twins known as The Four Gale Sisters, smiled and said:

"As long as I can attract men, I might as well get a good one, don't you think?"

Lu Anne Meredith chirps:

"Marrying a millionaire would be ideal. Now that I'm on my way to film fame, I'm going to use my head!"

And so on it goes. It would seem, if I'm not too pert, that the ancient wheeze, "money talks," is just a mere whisper in the lovely shell-pink ears of these young ladies of the cinema.

Super-snooping . . . Jack Oakie double-crossed the Paramount praise dept. when he did a hide-out routine for the Ben Bernie ether wave program. Jack didn't like the idea of appearing on the gratis side of the evening, and also that he had been promised without his consent . . . Guy Robertson, Broadway musical comedy laddie, gets his second crack at the movies—this time in "King Kelly of the U. S. A." A mythical kingdom yarn of a goofy press agent, with Monogram Will Film . . . Peggy Wood and her sonny boy have headed back east to their summer home . . . The Mae West-James Timony fuss has Hollywood giggling. Jim's face is redder than usual.

Kinema Knick-Knacks — The Buzz Berkeley-Sam Goldwyn-Warner battle over the former's services has reached the frowning and sneering at each other stage. Bert Wheeler's hopped a rattler (still a train, if you've forgotten) for New York and another attempt at the radio mikes.

Wanderings Around Town . . . My word! Dougie Fairbanks, according to a London snooper, is carrying on with a monocle! . . . That Buzz-Buzz noise you probably hear overhead, especially in San Francisco, is Clarence Brown airplaning it around while wifey's in New York . . . Art Lasky, the fisticuffer, will probably make his movie debut in a Jesse L. Lasky (no relation) flicker for Fox . . . Lady and Sir Montigue Bolton had such jolly times in San Francisco for a few days and are now chasing all over Hollywood. Sir Montigue is England's biggest clothier, if you're interested . . . Mrs. Purnell Pratt is the best cooker of baked beans (Boston fashion) in town. Now, don't try to prove otherwise. The last time I made a crack about Barbara Kent baking a cake, she sent me one. Just forget the whole thing, will ya? . . . Hollywood cab artists haven't yet recovered from the shock of the Corinne Griffith-Walter Morosco divorce, it was that sudden.

A lad from Chinatown writes in to say that his language has 40,000 characters—almost as many as one of C. B. DeMille's films! . . . My bright thought for the day—television will be perfect when an artist can see the audience . . . George Lewis (remember him in the "Collegian" series?) is getting another break in "The Merry Widow" . . . Gary Cooper and wifely gave the early-summer tourists a thrill by cooing in the Brown Derby t'other noon.

Tech Drama Night Class In Four Plays

By GEORGE SEIBEL

That there must be a great deal of dramatic talent, and a great deal more of stage ambition, dormant in stores and offices of Pittsburgh was demonstrated yesterday at the Tech Little Theater when the night classes of the Drama School put on four plays. If this had been a Drama League contest, the Peach Blow Vase would have been awarded to the group that played "The Last Man In," a bit of effective melodrama by W. B. Maxwell, the English novelist. In this playlet Heyward Moore acted a cockney comedy role very vividly and Charles Haber was quite pathetic as the murderer. Janet Feather had done the direction in judicious and thorough style.

Mr. Seibel.

As a light farce, "The Rest Cure," by Gertrude Je. . s, furnished a happy relief. Edward Kamperda as the author who seeks quiet and finds anything but, Irene Cyphers and Alice Dunlany as a pair of loquacious nurses, a parrot off-stage and a coal-scuttle on, furnished mild amusement and some wild hilarity. Leo Dashbach directed.

Edna Louise Conn gave a sympathetic portrayal of the first wife in another comedietta, "The Fourth Mrs. Phillips," in which Joseph Dolan as an actor aged 62 has a visitation from three of his ex-brides who discourage the prospective one. Roy Minet directed well.

In the opening playlet, "The Window at the South," by Mary Katherine Reely, Margaret Buerkle did exceptionally good work, and the direction had been capably managed by Dorothy Neumann. The entire evening was really a revelation of histrionic treasure trove behind desks and counters of our stage-struck city.

Bing Crosby To Become Rancher

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD May 9.—Crooning has put Bing Crosby on easy street, but the film and radio star will now raise horseflesh on the side. Bing has just laid some of his four-figure salary checks on the line to buy 5 acres in the Rancho Sante Fe, were, with Douglas Fairbanks, Victor Fleming and other cinema celebrities as neighbors, he plans to breed race horses on a commercial scale.

The star's new property is inland from Del Mar and about 25 miles north of San Diego. It includes two 125-year-old adobe houses with modernized interiors. Bing plans to use these as guesthouses and to put up a rambling ranch-home for himself and Dixie Lee. One of the star's dreams also is a fine private golf course.

Horse raising not only will provide the star with a paying hobby, but it will put him in business, and, since he is incorporated, Bing has to be in business of some kind.

* * *

Take it from Irvin Cobb, his biggest thrill in California was the ride Will Rogers gave him behind a pair of runaway mules.

"You should see the road we came down," said the humorist. "I'm sure the thing must have been originally laid out by an intoxicated tapeworm."

* * *

Superstition is no new thing in Hollywood, but Bruce Cabot has topped them all by making RKO put a clause in his contract that he doesn't have to work on the thirteenth of the month. Before his marriage to Adrienne Ames the young star had more than 50 good luck pieces. She has talked him into discarding all of them but a rabbit's foot, which he always wears on the end of his watch chain.

Not only does Bruce refuse to work on the thirteenth but he scarcely stirs from the house on the so-called unlucky day.

* * *

Marlene Dietrich's youngster, Maria Sieber, has the strangest pets in the film colony—a pair of white lambs. One escaped the other day and the whole staff of bodyguards was called out to recapture it. And, speaking of bodyguards, the German star takes one precaution that other film stars would do well to follow. Each one of her watchmen must came with recommendations from the local sheriff's office.

Derby Race In Hearst News

The Kentucky Derby is shown from start to finish without interruption in the current issue of Hearst Metrotone News, together with all of the thrills, excitement and color afforded by the record crowd of 60,000 persons in attendance. The final contest between Discovery and Cavalcade down the home stretch, with Mrs. Dodge Sloane's entry capturing the prize, is shown. The Globe Trotter describes the race in detail. Last come pictures of the crowning of the new king of the turf and of his game little jockey, Mack Garner.

Spectacular pictures show the $3,000,000 fire that swept a Brooklyn pier, with hundreds of firemen fighting the blaze as the pier, with its contents, is destroyed.

Primo Carnera and Max Baer sign final articles for their fight in June before Matchmaker Jimmy Johnston in Madison Square Garden. Challenger and the champion each strive for the last word in predictions of success.

Note—Because of necessity upon theater managers to arrange programs in time schedules, it is possible that some of the subjects in above issue of Hearst Metrotone News may not be shown in your theater.

Advice to Mr. Lyons

THE SIX followers of this column should, by this time, be well acquainted with the name of Leonard Lyons. For some four years Mr. Lyons has been contributing various items to this space—and he is now about to be punished. Beginning next week he will write a column of his own for a New York evening newspaper. He'll find out.

Mr. Lyons dropped into my office yesterday for a few pointers. He doesn't need much advice because, unless I miss my guess, he'll be leading the field in a few years. Since he was kind enough to ask me, however, I am only too happy to offer several suggestions.

I trust that the young man will not object if I make the entire thing public. After all, I might as well get a column out of the situation. . .

1—If I were you, Leonard, I would write gossip. The public demands it these days. Weave in as many names as you can and take slaps at people as often as possible. Then you can't miss.

2—Don't write gossip. People will look upon you as a man who doesn't wish to interfere in the affairs of others. You will be invited, everywhere, and folks will have no hesitation in discussing their private doings with you. No gossip—and you can't miss.

3—Always fight with the advertising department on your paper. That will teach the boys to respect and fear you, and you'll be able to be the boss of your own space. Don't let them bulldoze you.

4—Get chummy with the boys in the advertising department. Play ball with them—and they'll play ball with you. If you can plug a client, go to it. The best way to get along in your game is to cater to the advertising department.

5—Keep your stories short. People haven't time to bother with long-winded things these days. Give them plenty of gags, and keep them short. If you do, success is yours from the start.

6—Write long stories as often as possible. If you write short gags, people are bound to say that they've heard them before. When you write a good long one, they never forget it. And when they don't forget you success must be yours.

7—Always pay your checks on Broadway and refuse absolutely to take anything for nothing. You will then be regarded as a spendthrift and a wastrel, but you will have your self-respect. That counts a great deal, Leonard.

8—Get all the graft you can at all times. Don't pay any checks unless you have to, and see if you can't chisel your hats and suits in exchange for a line in the column. In that way you'll be able to save your money—and you must have money to be accounted a success.

9—Marry a sweet girl as swiftly as you can. You'll need a home and companionship to balance the ugliness of the Broadway grind. Then, in a year or two, you must have a little kiddie who will climb into your heart and provide you with a lot of copy. A successful marriage will do a great deal for you, Leonard.

10—If you want to be a success in the columning racket, forget marriage from now on. Marry, and your wife will want to be with you while you're digging material for your column. She'll never understand why it is sometimes necessary to be alone. And if there's a child, you'll have no peace at home while you're trying to pound out your copy. Stay single, my boy.

11—While you're a columnist, stick to your columning exclusively. Don't try books, or pictures, or plays, or personal appearances. No man can do two tasks at the same time, and expect to have them both turn out well. Be content to turn out a good column, and leave the other fields to those who are better qualified.

12—In addition to your column, Leonard, always go in for something else. Keep your name before the public in every way possible. Turn out a book or a movie as often as you can. To be a top-notch columnist today, it is necessary to have a number of outside interests.

13—In your copy, make yourself a personality. Don't be afraid to talk about yourself. Tell 'em all about your early struggles; about the time you were fired as a gigolo and about the days when you didn't have the price of a cup of opium. Wear out the "I" on your typewriter. Too much modesty never got a columnist anywhere.

14—Don't boast. Let the other fellow take the bows. If you must talk about yourself, use the "we" style instead of "I." Why get rapped for being an egoist when it isn't necessary? Don't tell your readers what a great guy you are. Let them find out for themselves. Be modest, Leonard. It pays.

15—Never steal from the other fellow. If possible, read carefully every column that is published and scrupulously avoid using anything that resembles another man's style. An imitator is never a true success, Leonard, so create your material yourself.

16—If a rival columnist hits upon a good idea, my boy, grab it for yourself the very next day. Don't worry about being called an imitator because, no matter what you write, you'll be called that anyhow. Steal all you can from the other fellow and, if he squawks, to hell with him.

17—Print as many contributions as you can. People like to see their names in the paper. If you don't print a lot of contributions, the folk will squawk because you're not giving them a break. Remember that.

18—Watch out on the number of contributions that you print. Don't go in for that angle too heavily. If you publish too many contributions, the folks will squawk because you're being lazy. Remember that.

I regret that I've come to the end of my space, Leonard, because I have many more things to tell you about the gentle art of columning. I hope that the foregoing will be of assistance to you, as it is the product of years and years of experience.

Don't mention it, my boy. Don't mention it. . .

COUNTESS-WIFE AIRS RYAN SUIT

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—Clendennin J. Ryan, Jr., grandson of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, seeks to annul his recent marriage to Countess Marie-Anne Von Wurmbrand-Stuppach, of Austria, on the ground that she misrepresented her wealth before they were married, her counsel disclosed.

The disclosure was made yesterday by Nathan Burkan, counsel to the countess, after Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy signed an order appointing a guardian for the countess. The guardian is Miss Rose oRthenberg, a former assistant District Attorney. The countess is under 21 years of age an dthe appointment was necessary so that she legally could defend the action.

yan and the countess were married at St. Patrick's Cathedral April 20 last. The sountess is a member of one of the oldest families in Austria.

Moves for Retrials Speeded by Court

Criminal Court judges have issued a rule that motions for new trials must be made immediately after receipt of the verdict, instead of anytime within four days, as previously. The new rule states that reasons must be given for asking the new trial at once, although on written order of the court permission may be given to file additional reasons within four days.

East Liberty Woman Robbed in Street

An unidentified man jumped from an automobile in Collins avenue, near Broad street, early today and took two rings, valued at $65, from the fingers of Mrs. Marie Collins, 22, as she was enroute to her home at 301 North Sheridan avenue, she reported to police.

The thief had no hat or coat, she said. He was about 25.

"I know how Steel Protects You in a Warship or a Car"

1. "WELDING STEEL in a Navy Yard, I see plenty of examples of the punishment steel has to stand. And anybody knows that if a battleship wasn't made of steel it wouldn't stand the ghost of a chance when it had to go into action on the high seas today."

"I bought a Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body... Lucky for me that I did!"

YOU'VE SEEN THE STEEL ARMOR on warships. It's Merritt's job to help make it. He knows how strong it is. Small wonder that, when he wanted a car, he picked Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body.

But he never thought that this precaution would one day save his life!

The drawing shows what happened. A foggy night. A parked car ahead. A sudden stop. Crash! Rammed by a truck from behind . . . catapulted into the air. Smashing down! Bouncing up! Turning over and over!

Yet Merritt lived! He came through whole . . . in a Safety-Steel Body!

"I'd read about folks in other cars being hit like that," he told us. "Most of them got off much worse than I did. The Safety-Steel Body was all that saved me!"

• • •

Experiences like Mr. Merritt's are not common, but they do happen. That's why Plymouth engineers stressed safety. They gave Plymouth a Safety-Steel Body—a modern body of steel reinforced with steel. And they equipped Plymouth with Hydraulic Brakes . . . the safest, surest brakes on any car.

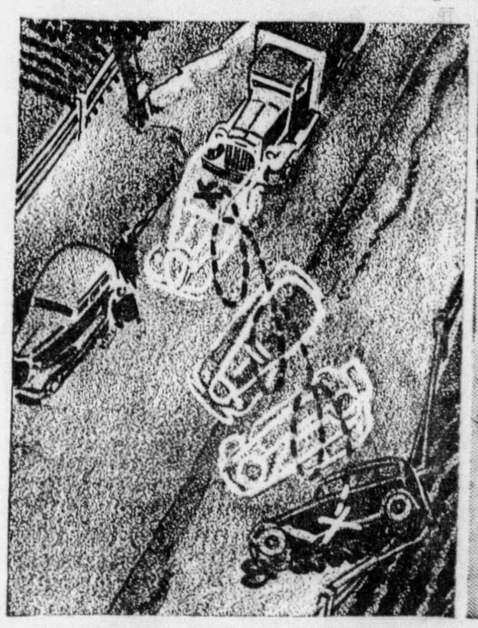
But the engineers went further! They also made Plymouth more comfortable!

With patented Floating Power engine mountings, all motor vibration stays under the hood—away from the frame and body. With Individual Wheel Springing, a rough road no longer means a rough ride. Each individual front wheel "steps" right over the bumpiest spots. No more nose-bounce and road fight!

In the lowest-price field, Plymouth is the only car that has all four of the vital features you need for complete comfort and safety. Hydraulic Brakes. Safety-Steel Body. Floating Power. Individual Wheel Springing.

So "look at All Three." You'll see why Plymouth offers extra value. Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer will gladly demonstrate.

2. "THERE'S NOTHING BUT STEEL PLATES on the hulls of today's warships. And steel is what I wanted in the body of my car, though I never thought I'd be in a serious accident."



3. "ONE NIGHT it happened! I'd pulled up behind a parked car. A truck roared out of the fog and sent me sailing. I rolled over and over. But, thanks to that Safety-Steel Body, I lived to tell it!"

4. "MY PLYMOUTH SAVES my money, too. I get by on a tankful of gas a week. And no extra oil between drainings! Yet it has a roominess you'd never expect in a low-priced car."

5. Merritt with his new De Luxe Plymouth Sedan (above). Plymouth prices begin at $530 at the factory, subject to change without notice. You may arrange to make convenient time payments that will meet your own budget requirements. Ask your dealer about Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.

TWO BOMBINGS PERIL MANY IN COKE REGION

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 9.—Bomb terrorism in the coke region of Fayette County flared anew early today as two bombings eight miles apart endangered 13 persons, nine of them children.

On the second floor, the two brothers, and wife and four children of Tony Puskarich, were blown from their beds.

Windows in the building were shattered, and a marble counter broken by the force of the explosion. Damage was estimated by fireman at $3,000.

State police attributed the bombing to a beer war between rival miner groups. A sign on the front of the store read "100 per cent union, United Mine Workers." Tony Puskarich, in addition to the general store, operates a beer garden in Uniontown.

Fifteen minutes later a heavy blast shattered windows in the home of Constable John Danko at Bitner. Danko, his wife and four children were badly shaken and windows in the house were broken.

HEPBURN FREE TO WED AGAIN

International News Service.

MERIDA, Yucatan, Mexico, May 9.—Katharine Hepburn American screen actress, and Ludlow Ogden Smith, her New York broker husband, each were to be notified today that they no longer are man and wife, and that each is free to re-marry.

"Incompatability of temperament" is written into the record of the Second Civil Court of Yucatan as the ground for granting of Miss Hepburn's application for a divorce, which was allowed yesterday.

The decree is classed as one of mutual consent, and Smith's acquiescence was the chief reason Miss Hepburn was able to break her marriage so soon. An ordinary 30-day rule was waived. She filed her petition April 30.

Special Patrolman Struck by Auto

Special Officer Harry Farmer, 38, of 6605 Frankstown avenue, was struck by an automobile while patrolling his beat on Washington boulevard early today. He was taken to Mercy Hospital with a fractured ankle.

North Side Man Found Injured

John Joyce, 62, of 526 East Lacock street, North Side, was in Allegheny General Hospital today with a possible fracture of the skull. He was found lying in front of 516 East Lacock street. Police were unable to learn if he had been struck by an automobile or slugged.

Lodge to Inaugurate Summer Activities

Replant Shrubs, Sentence Meted To Youth

A sentence to replant shrubbery he admitted taking from the lawn of Frank A. Gample, 1161 Portland street, was meted out today in Morals Court to Henry Borasso, 19, of 9 Orphan street.

Patrolman Albert I. Schaffer testified he had chased three youths in Bryant street, early today, after they had dropped a bundle. He caught Borasso but the others escaped. Two bushes that had been dropped were found nearby.

Magistrate J. W. McGowan admonished the youth and discharged him on condition that he replace the shrubs.

ICKES FIGHTING 'KICK-BACK'

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—"Loaded" payrolls and the "kick-back" extortion racket were being fought today by Secretary of Interior Ickes as a Senate committee recommended an investigation of reports that workers on PWA jobs were victimized by contractors, who are benefiting by the expenditure of more than $3,000,000,000 in public money.

The "kick-back" is the workers' description of the practice of some bosses who force workers to secretly remit or "kick back" to them a part of their pay on public works contracts.

Ickes said:

"I have posted orders on every job that if any worker is being made to 'kick-back' I want him to report it to any state or federal inspector or representative on the spot. I will act in every case reported to me."

Troops Stand Guard In Fatal Ore Strike

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 9.—(AP.)—The muzzles of machine guns, mounted on the slopes of Red Mountain, kept peace today in the iron mining district where two Negroes were killed, a dozen persons were known to have been wounded and many more were believed hurt in skirmishes between officers and striking ore miners.

Exchanges of fire were reported from several vicinities on the southern end of the mountain. National guardsmen were rushed to the district last night.

OHIO GAS STRIKE SLOWS AUTOS

CLEVELAND, O., May 9.—(AP.)—New strikes cropped out in Ohio industries yesterday as labor disputes in Cleveland dried up the few gasoline oases remaining there, and halted operations of one taxicab company.

As independent gasoline stations in the nation's sixth city joined company "chains" in a shutdown, Dr. W. M. Leiserson, chairman of the petroleum labor board, made another suggestion to break the deadlock between major oil concerns and 2,000 striking attendants.

The federal official suggested that the companies abandon their group committee and bargain individually with striking employes.

Mayor Harry L. Davis opened two city-owned gas stations to provide emergency service for physicians and nurses, and for firms engaged in moving perishable merchandise. Individuals, however, could not obtain gas at these stations unless they could prove an emergency need.

Sleuth Opens Fire On Fleeing Suspect

Surprised while trying to break into an automobile in a parking lot at First avenue and Wood street early today, a man, about 25, was fired upon by Patrolman Ralph Bartlett, of Central Police Station.

Bartlett fired when the man refused to obey a command to halt.

PA. RUM TAXES TOTAL MILLION

HARRISBURG, May 9.—(AP.)—The state's tax and license revenue from liquor has passed the million-dollar mark.

Receipts of $353,727 in April increased to $1,019,999 the amount which has trickled into the Treasury since repeal.

The principal source of revenue is the floor tax, levied on intoxicants in storage up to midnight, December 5, 1933.

Fees totaling $2,120,712 have been collected for retail liquor licenses, this money reverting to the municipalities in which the licensed establishments are located.

In February, $1,692,950 was distributed. The second allocation—$427,762 to 477 municipalities—now is being made.

Too Many Dates For Daughter Held Better Than None

CLEVELAND, O., May 9.—(AP.)—Too many boy friends for daughter are not to be feared as much as none at all, Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, Norton, Mass., told a group of mothers. He said:

"A girl who has never been taught to swim, can't be expected to keep her head above water when thrown into the sea."

Young women at his college get all the masculine company they want on week-ends, he said, and it is "a very healthful situation."

GREEN UPHOLDS WORKS FUND

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Industry cannot carry the recovery burden alone, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the Senate Labor and Education Committee today.

Appearing in support of the La Follette bill to appropriate ten billion dollars for public works, Green said:

"Codes of the NRA have provided three or four million jobs, but ten million persons still are unemployed. We also must count on a seasonal period of unemployment soon."

MEDICOS SCORN 'TEST TUBE' BABIES

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP.)—False and groundless hopes have been raised among many childless women, the New York Academy of Medicine declared today, because of the recent "test tube babies" announcements.

The academy, after consulting several of its experts, issued this statement through its information bureau:

"The earliest human documents speak of the problem of fertility and sporadic references to artificial impregnation occur in the medical literature of earlier centuries.

"In more modern times, as the function of reproduction was better understood, veterinarians were able to utilize artificial breeding in some animals owing to their seasonal characteristics. In man this procedure was used chiefly in rare cases.

"During the past two decades great progress has been made in our understanding of the many factors which may prevent conception. Refinements of investigation have demonstrated that a barren marriage may be due to one or more causes occurring in either one or both partners, and that the hopes of successful treatment, therefore depend upon the correction of the abnormal conditions revealed by painstaking diagnosis.

"Obviously, the mechanical transference is rarely a solution to this problem and if injected deeply is not without risk of causing inflammation and permanent sterility in many patients.

"Even under expert auspices the technique is not without difficulties and must be repeated month after month to constitute a fair test of its effectiveness."

'Y' SANCTIONS BIRTH CONTROL

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(AP.)—The Young Women's Christian Association of the United States approves dissemination of birth control information "under authorized medical direction."

The indorsement was given yesterday at the closing session of the association's national convention, on a recommendation of the public affairs committee.

The convention also approved minimum wage and maximum hour legislation, unemployment and sickness insurance, old age pensions, abolition of child labor and equalization of educational opportunities through tax revisions.

President Roosevelt was urged to refuse further appropriations for naval construction pending the 1935 naval conference.

The 2,000 delegates to the convention elected Mrs. Harrie R. Chamberlin, of Toledo, president; Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, of Winnetka, Ill., first vice president; Mrs. Henry E. Corner, Baltimore; Miss Frances Vogel, Pasadena, Cal., and Miss Marie Whiffen, New York, secretaries.

Former President Of Allegheny Dies

MEADVILLE, Pa., May 9.—(AP.)—Dr. James A. Beebe, 56, eleventh president of Allegheny College died at his home in Newtonville, Mass., college authorities here were notified yesterday.

Dr. Beebe, prominent as a Methodist Episcopal minister and educator, served as dean of Allegheny College from 1926 to 1930, retiring because of ill health.

Whiteman's Wife Sues Partners

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—(AP.)—Mrs. Paul Whiteman sued her associates in a Hollywood apartment house venture for $50,000 yesterday, charging fraudulent representations induced her to invest $26,997.93 in the project before her marriage to the orchestra leader. Defendants are Violet R. Widley, Otto G. Widley and others.

This is the third of a series of Safety Cartoons drawn by a CWA artist for the Better Traffic Committee as an educational aid in reducing the growing number of traffic accidents in Pittsburgh. The artist, Frank McFeatters, was one of 100 CWA workers assigned to the Traffic Committee and his art ability was an accidental discovery.

One drink may not make a man drunk, but it may so affect his driving as to make him twice as 'accident prone.'

In the final analysis, the measure of a good driver is his speed of reaction to sudden danger. The reaction time in the ordinary driver varies from one-half to one second. Tests have shown that the time doubles with as few as one drink.

That added half-second or more of "reaction time" may mean death.

COYNE ENTERS FINLEY ROW, SUGGESTS 'SUCCESSOR'

POLITICS

Davis Slow to Indorse Margiotti Candidacy

By MARK SHIELDS

Senator James J. Davis, scheduled to indorse Attorney Charles J. Margiotti as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination last Saturday at Sharon, did not do so, but has a radio address scheduled for Sunday at 8 p. m., which will reveal his attitude toward the primary campaign.

Mark Shields

Publicly the Senator is not ready at this time to reveal the subject matter of his speech, saying it must tell its own story.

However, it is a fairly safe prediction that the Senator finally will come into the open, make a declaration of preference, and it will be for Mr. Margiotti. Just why the Senator will wait so long to clarify his position is one of the mysteries of politics. Unless he has privately communicated his views to his friends, most of them by Sunday will have made their commitments, and whatever the Senator has to say will be influential only with those voters whose minds remain open up to two days before the primary.

The Senator's pre-primary attitude, his private pronouncements that he would insist upon a candidate with a platform meeting his opinions on legislation and administration, had led to the assumption that he would take an active part in the campaign. However, the Senator, who at least has discovered how to be twice elected to the Senate, appears to have thought such precipitancy and direct statement was not the part of wisdom.

But it is unfortunate for whatever candidate the Senator does indorse that this approval has not been available earlier, for whatever use could have been made of it.

McNair's Candidacy One of Mystery

One of the mysteries of this campaign concerns the number of votes Mayor William N. McNair will receive as a Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Whatever impression he may appear to give, the Mayor is deeply serious about his candidacy and is hopeful that he will receive a substantial vote, though there is no thought that he will be nominated.

Inversely, there are some regular Democratic leaders who hope that he will be stunningly defeated in his own city and county, an event which might make him more amenable to their discipline, some think.

It would be no surprise should the Mayor receive the bulk of the city payroll vote, together with the relatives and friends the city employes could influence. That can be accomplished without any coercion whatever, and would be something of a measure of self-protection.

The city employes know that were Democratic ward chairmen and their superiors running the game in City Hall there would have been a sweeping out some time ago. This reference is especially pertinent to the Department of Public Works, headed by Leslie M. Johnston, whose refusal to reward faithful party workers on that score alone has been the sorest spot to the whole Democratic organization.

He is one cabinet head whose departure would cause a wave of rejoicing among the party chiefs, and a licking of patronage chops by those who have hoped for jobs through the jettisoning of old-time Republicans who have hastily whitewashed themselves as Democrats—and by and large intend to vote for Republican regulars who are running on the Democratic primary for Congress and the Legislature.

Big Vote Would Be Aid To City's Executive

They still can do this and vote for Mr. McNair, and a good vote for him would make him feel superior to the organization leaders, and perhaps spur him on to continue his own methods of administration.

Just as a hesitant guess, let it be recorded here that the Mayor will get a pretty fair vote in this vicinity. You needn't make bets on that, for last year I prophesied he would be defeated in the November election.

It might be just like Mr. McNair to double-cross me this time as he did then, and not get many votes.

But he will do well if he gets no more than the various gentlemen he has suggested for the Traction Conference Board. He has tried four candidates for the place of Charles Finley, the board's chairman, and more than can be remembered for the other place to which he can nominate.

Real work by the city payroll is being done in the Thirty-second Congressional District for the Mayor's secretary, Theodore Moritz, a candidate for the Democratic nomination. It is in this district that Congressman M. J. Muldowney, Republican, is running for both nominations.

The conference which occurred yesterday between the Mayor and Senator James J. Coyne of course could not have surrounded any deal on these nominations. It was, the Mayor said, just to furnish him with another nominee as chairman of the Traction Board.

2 FIRES CAUSE TRAFFIC JAM DOWNTOWN

12 Companies Battle Two-Alarm Blaze as Thousands Look On

Several thousand persons watched 12 fire companies battle a two-alarm fire that swept through the unloading platform of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad at Fourth avenue, last night.

The wooden platform which is on an overhead above Fourth avenue, between Liberty avenue and Ferry street, was enveloped in flames when the firemen responded to the first alarm. Fearing the blaze would destroy the railroad's train shed which adjoined the burning platform, Battalion Chief William Graves sounded a second alarm. Dragging hose lines up the overhead, firemen soon brought the flames under control.

Traffic in Liberty avenue, Ferry street and Third and Fourth avenues, was re-routed. Clouds of smoke poured through open windows of the Wabash Building and several persons there fled into the street. The fire apparently was caused by a lighted cigaret, firemen said. Fire Chief John Heinz estimated the damage at $2,000.

As the firemen were bringing the platform blaze under control an alarm was sounded for a fire in the waste paper baling room of the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor, 428 Duquesne Way. Hampered by dense smoke, the blaze was extinguished by firemen after an hour's battle. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

A large crowd was attracted by flames leaping from the roof of a building formerly occupied by the Keystone Brewery, South Thirty-fourth and Carson streets, late yesterday. Battalion Chief Alex Reed placed the loss at $2,000.

OLD RIOT LAW USED IN VAIN

A law making it a criminal offense to interfere with employes of a railroad, passed in 1877 after the railroad riots, was dug up yesterday in Criminal Court.

Joseph Crawford, of Mifflin Township, and Samuel DeNillo, of Turtle Creek, were tried under the old act before visiting Judge William T. Darr, and acquitted.

It was charged that they, as striking employes, interfered with other employes of the Union Railroad at Dravosburg last October 20, by throwing stones and calling names.

Hill Top Church Marks 60 Years

Reports of activities during the last year were submitted by the Rev. Richard G. Stacy, pastor, at the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Mt. Washington Baptist church, Sycamore and Shiloh streets, last night. The celebration will end Sunday.

Former pastors and old members will be guests at the meeting tonight. Speakers will be the Rev. M. R. Japhet, evangelist; the Rev. C. Embrey, president of the Western Pennsylvania Bible Institute; the Rev. George T. Street, of Philadelphia, retired, and the Rev. N. B. Cox, of Pittsburgh, missionary to Central America.

Insurance Ordinance Awaited by Council

At the request of Controller James P. Kerr, City Council has turned over to the city law department a number of extensions on insurance policies arranged through William B. Foster, the Mayor's insurance advisor.

The City Solicitor has been requested to draw an ordinance to put the insurance policies in proper form.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 9.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

The big news in the papers this week is Insull and silver. Before he went away it would have been Insull and gold. They say it would be "inflation" to make silver a money. Well, maby it would be, but it wouldn't be exactly like taking a perfect stranger into the family. You would be surprised at the things it will buy now.

Will Rogers

This is a silver town, everything under $5 is all silver. That's how they can tell a "dude." Argueing the money question sounds learned, but its never made anybody any money yet. Yours, WILL.

Wyoming Youth Held On Mann Act Charge

Rene Eugene Schaeffer, 17, of Laramie, Wyo., was committed to jail in default of $5,000 pending action of the federal grand jury, under the Mann act. A 15-year-old girl is said to be involved. The youth was arrested in Altoona by Deputy United States Marshal Thomas J. McFarlane and brought to Pittsburgh after a hearing before United States Commissioner W. J. Bartram, of Altoona. A kidnaping charge is reported to be pending against him in Wyoming.

ROSALIND WIKANDER

SOCIETY GIRL IN TECH PLAY

With the first night's proceeds slated for the benefit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Bachanalians of Carnegie Tech will present a comedy, "Love Is Not Important," at the Nixon Theater on Friday and Saturday.

Rosalind Wikander, socially prominent student in the Carnegie Tech drama school, will have an important part in the cast. Miss Wikander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Wikander, of 900 South Negley avenue, is a graduate of Thurston Preparatory School and of Vassar College.

Turn Aside, Stop At Siren Sound, Autoists Told

Motorists were warned today by Fire Chief John Heinz to turn aside immediately and stop at the sound of a fire siren.

Giving fire apparatus an immediate right-of-way will make possible quicker runs and result in cutting down property loss by fire, Chief Heinz points out.

Ready compliance wtih the city ordinance giving fire apparatus the right-of-way will also aid in insuring safety to motorists, he says. He cautions drivers that disregard of his warning will result in their summons to traffic court.

PRESBYTERIAN UNION URGED BY MODERATOR

World Needs Merger Of Denominations, Says Dr. M'Dowell

Union of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. and the United Presbyterian Church appeared a step nearer today following a joint fellowship meeting last night in the Third Presbyterian Church, Fifth avenue, at which Dr. John McDowell, Presbyterian moderator, was the principal speaker.

Ministers representing both sects point out that they hope to determine the question of union at approaching general assemblies. The Presbyterians meet in Cleveland May 24, the United Presbyterians meet at Oxford, O., June 20.

Speakers last night compared the present campaign in favor of union, unanimously indorsed by a joint committee on Presbyterian unity, to "the holding of hands and the courtship preceding marriage."

AGREE IN ESSENTIALS

The combined churches, according to Dr. McDowell, would be known as the Presbyterian Church of America. As reasons for the union, he cited:

1—It is a product of long and careful consideration.

2—There is a unanimity of spirit that has marked the process of the joint committee. Every action has been unanimous.

3—There is an identity of standards. Both agree in all essentials.

4—Same form of government.

5—There is an identity of emphasis in programs of work. Evangelism is the center of both programs, with education and missions.

6—Union will bring elimination of weaknesses and waste in the work of the church both at home and abroad.

The needs and claims of the world, he said, demand that Presbyterians combine their resources and unite their efforts in the interest of a co-operative program.

'GOOD TIME FOR UNION'

Because of illness, Dr. William B. Anderson, United Presbyterian moderator, scheduled to speak in favor of union, was unable to be present. Speaking for him, Dr. Lewis Mudge, of Philadelphia, Presbyterian chief executive officer, said:

"Now is a good time for union. We have had a fine year. The only one of our boards to report a deficit is the board of foreign missions and that is because of the foreign exchange rate."

The Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. claims about 2,000,000 members, and the United Presbyterian Church about 150,000.

Mrs. Rauh on Ballot For Trade Director

For the first time in the Chamber of Commerce's history, a woman's name was included among the candidates for directors today as the group prepared for its annual election tomorrow.

Twelve directors are to be selected from the list of 18 candidates, which includes the name of Mrs. Enoch Rauh, former director of City Department of Welfare. The balloting will take place in the auditorium, Chamber of Commerce Building.

What Speed! Man Asks Mexican Divorce Data, They Sue His Wife

MRS. ELIZABETH LEIDING AND HER SON, EDMOND, READING MEXICAN PAPERS SERVED ON HER

Hubby Embarrassed, He Still Lives With Mate

Showing the speed of a first-rate mail order house, energetic Mexican divorce lawyers were revealed in Pittsburgh today as champion go-getters.

And an Edgewood husband's letter of inquiry to a Juarez (Chihuahua) attorney, had brought a reply that sent his wife on a tearful trip to her Pittsburgh lawyer.

"International complications" seemed certain after Attorney Arthur I. Zeiger said he had asked the American consul at Juarez to intervene there to prevent the action that Elmer C. Leiding, of 818 Walnut street, Edgewood, had "started" against his wife, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Leiding and her husband still occupy the same home, although Leiding, a draftsman, admitted today he had thought lately of seeking a divorce. He explained:

"But I merely wrote for information and they sent my wife a so-called complaint and asked for her side. It makes it sort of embarrassing at home."

She said:

"I still love him. I'll fight this case to the end."

Mrs. Leiding said yesterday that she did not even know he contemplated divorce until she received notification by registered mail a few weeks ago. A few hours later, she declared, a Wilkinsburg constable called on her and served the papers.

Attorney Zeiger said the serving of the papers legalized the Mexican proceedings.

He charged:

"That out-Renoes Reno."

Juarez Attorneys Shown Champion Go-Getters

Mrs. Leiding said that on receipt of the letter notifying her of the divorce action she collapsed in the street. She displayed the letter, which, under date of C. Juarez, Chihuahua, read:

"Your husband, Elmer C. Leiding, has presented through me a petition for divorce against you at this court of the state of Chihuahua in this city. Please be notified by the enclosed copy of the complaint, with its translation into English."

The letter was signed by J. M. Cuen, a Mexican attorney.

Kaiser, Inspector, Guest at Dinner

A testimonial dinner in honor of Walter Kaiser, newly appointed police inspector of the North Side district, was held last night in the Plaza Cafe. Kaiser and Police Supt. Ben R. Marshall were presented with gold badges set with diamonds. The speakers included District Attorney Andrew T. Park, Judge George V. Moore, Detective Capt. Frank R. Boyd, J. M. Loftis, superintendent of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, and Milton Howard.

IDENTITY UP TO SENATOR, MAYOR SAYS

M'Nair Asks Council Give Evans Trolley Chairmanship

Senator James J. Coyne has landed in the middle of the Traction Conference Board row by suggesting to Mayor McNair a name for the position held by Charles A. Finley, chairman.

Furthermore, the Mayor says he will make use of the Senator's suggestion if Finley is not removed by Council to make a place for George E. Evans.

Evans' name has been sent to Council along with a verbal request for a special meeting.

NAP INTERRUPTED

The Mayor would not reveal the identity of Coyne's choice for the Traction Board. He said:

"It's up to Senator Coyne to give out the name. But it's a dandy—you'd be surprised. It will get votes."

Senator Coyne called at the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, according to the Mayor, who said the Senator interrupted him during a nap made necessary by two nights on sleepers.

Later the Senator made his escape from the Mayor's office, eluding a cordon of reporters by marching out the back way.

SILENT ON 'YARN'

Today he refused to confirm or deny McNair's yarn.

The Mayor at first said the Coyne visit was entirely a social call and then, as the scribes were about to withdraw, volunteered the information that Coyne had an acceptable candidate for the Traction Board. He said:

"Sure I'll send the name in. The next one's mine but his can be the one after that. I intend to send in a name twice a week until I get Finley out of there. I'll wear (William A.) Magee down. I'll send in a name sometime that he'll have to vote for. He should vote for Evans. Evans made a place for him on the ticket."

FINLEY HELD SECURE

Evans withdrew shortly before election, allowing Magee a Democratic nomination for Council. Concerning the effect of that move, McNair said:

"Magee cost us 7,000 votes in the election. We figured it all out."

The five Republican Councilmen have thus far refused to remove Finley for four candidates: Safety Director Ralph E. Smith, City Assessor Peter J. Demuth, the Rev. W. W. Canton and William P. Witherow.

With the refusal to make a place for Witherow it was generally conceded about City Hall that any prospects which the Mayor had of removing Finley had virtually disappeared.

Desertions on Wane, Relief Aides Report

Desertion is on the wane among the city's needy, according to a report issued today by H. W. Shepard, secretary of the Association for the Improvement of the Poor. A decrease of more than 100 per cent in appeals to the A. I. P. for help due to desertion has been recorded, the report shows.

'FALLEN STAR' DECLARED SLAG

It is Brown's earnest belief that what he found was a meteorite, which shot away from a distant planet and came to rest in his yard. Some of Brown's neighbors examined his find and declared it to be a meteorite. Others had different opinions.

Dr. I. P. Tolmachoff, of Carnegie Institute, a man who knows about things like meteorites, declares it is nothing but a chunk of mill slag.

Boys' Guild Club to Hold Boxing Show

A boxing show under the auspices of the Junior Guild will be held in Pittsburgh Boys' Club, 4412 Butler street, Friday. Entertainment will be furnished between bouts.

PITT CATHEDRAL OPEN TO PUBLIC

A chance for the public to see the interior of the 42-story Cathedral of Learning in Oakland and to see the view from the top of the "tallest university in the world" will be given for one week beginning Sunday, May 20, it was announced today by university authorities.

To avoid interference with hours for church services throughout the district, Chancellor John G. Bowman said, the building will be opened to the public on Sunday from 2 to 6 p. m.

Through the remainder of the week visitors will be escorted through the structure from 3 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m., each evening, except Saturday, when the building will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., and from 7 to 9 p. m.

Elaborate plans have been made to make the visits of thousands of Pittsburghers memorable experiences. The open-house week will feature the opening of the public phase of the campaign to complete the structure by raising publicly $1,650,000 to supplement promised federal aid.

Doors Gone, Baby Can't Come Home

Papa and Landlord In Round 4 of Fight for House

With her 2-weeks-old baby boy, Mrs. Georgia A. Stepp was forced to remain in Magee Hospital today because the landlord of her home had taken off all the doors and windows of the house during her absence.

It was approximately round four in the battle between Mrs. Stepp's husband, Paul, a tailor, and the landlord who lives next door.

The fight began last winter when Stepp installed a steam presser in his rented home at 2818 Dwight avenue, Dormont. The landlord, August Mulligan, who lives at 2820 Dwight avenue, objected, and finally ordered Stepp to move out.

But the tailor, who contends his rent was paid up, says he never received the notice to move and declared he and his wife needed at least thirty days to find a new home because she had just had a new baby.

Contending that his tenant was a trespasser on the property after May 1, Mulligan removed the doors and windows a week ago while Stepp was at his business, and his two daughters, Angeline, 7, and Pauline, 10, were at school.

Stepp haled the landlord into Alderman Andrew M. Maloney's court Monday on a charge of malicious mischief. According to Sidney Sanes, Mulligan's lawyer, the landlord offered to put back the doors and windows and give Stepp a full month's rent free for May if he would move on May 31.

When lawyers for both sides failed to agree on an amicable settlement, Mulligan was held for court under $500 bond.

Stepp told reporters today he had ordered windows and doors and beaver board to cover the openings, and hoped to bring his wife and baby home tomorrow.

Jesse James Gives Way to Dillinger At Coney Island

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Mr. Dillinger is now in wax at Coney Island.

That honor is second only to being elected a Wampas Baby.

He takes the place of Jesse James who melted during Saturday's heat wave. The old bank raider ran right through a hole in the toe of his boot.

They gathered Jesse up, put him in a mold, fanned him with their hats and there was Dillinger. If he disappears the same as Jesse did it will be another marvelous escape.

You don't get featured in a Coney Island wax works unless you are famous. And like Jesse, we congratulate Dillinger on being immortal but not permanent.

Thrilling Mystery Story Begins Tomorrow

When an author writes about a detective, that's not news. But when a detective writes about a detective—that's Dashiell Hammett, universally recognized as America's foremost detective story writer, and author of the thrilling, baffling murder mystery, "The Thin Man," which begins tomorrow in the Sun-Telegraph.

Hammett gained his fame by introducing a new type of mystery story—one which avoided fanciful romance and presented the infinitely more exciting facts of actual crime methods and detective work. No one but Hammett could have created the dramatic realism and authentic mystery of "The Thin Man," for no other writer has Hammett's first-hand knowledge of detectives and the underworld. It is the kind of first-hand knowledge that only a real detective could have and it was gained by Hammett during his many years as an operative for a famous national detective agency.

In the thrill-packed drama of "The Thin Man," Hammett completely captures the stark reality, grim humor and breathless suspense which he learned to know so well as a detective. And he creates in Nick Charles, the detective hero of the story, the most absorbing character ever brought to life in a mystery story. Nick is real, a hard-boiled, level-headed gent who has no illusions about crime, who never gives a criminal a break because he knows they expect none. "The Thin Man" begins in the Sun-Telegraph tomorrow on this page.

Don't miss the first thrilling installment.

LEADERS HERE AID SCHNADER AT RALLIES

Attorney General William A. Schnader, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, was campaigning the East today, following a crowded day yesterday in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County. The climax of his local appeal for votes came at a mass meeting in Elks Temple, McKeesport, last night, where the Attorney General, before a crowd of 700, outlined his public service and declared he would make no campaign promises which he could not fulfill.

Republican County Chairman William H. Coleman presided at the McKeesport meeting, and Mayor George H. Lysle sat next to the candidate on the platform. Former Mayor John S. Herron, of Pittsburgh, congratulated McKeesport on its Republican registration, and in sadness recited the contrast with Pittsburgh, where thousands of former Republicans registered as Democrats following the Democratic municipal victory last November.

FRIEND OF VETS

William B. McFall, Allegheny County campaign manager for Schnader, also spoke, as did Attorney Benjamin Giffen, commander of East Liberty Post No. 5, American Legion, who declared the Attorney General always had been a friend of veterans.

Schnader said he did not desire to be the candidate of any faction, but pleaded for primary and general election support from all Republicans. He admitted that the party faced a hard fight in November, and could win only through unity. The greatest applause came when he declared for the principle of home rule, not only for dealing with the unemployment problem, but for acting on all measures of government affecting local communities. He said:

"I look forward toward relief by restoration of prosperity for our working people. We cannot solve this problem through either Washington or Harrisburg alone. In my opinion it must be decentralized and undertaken by the local communities. I would have the leading people and the leading groups of each community combine to center their attacks on the problem. Home rule would be in effect, with the state agencies ready to aid, not to dominate.

TAX REDUCTION

"A second pressing problem concerns the reduction of real estate taxation. The state, it must be understood, does not receive any of the taxes raised from real estate. They go to local governments. There are about 5,000 political subdivisions in Pennsylvania. That, in my opinion, is too many. I believe that we should repeal laws that interfere with local government and see that the counties get real home rule which permits them to determine the type of local government they want and put it into effect."

Earlier in the day Schnader had declared against mixing politics in the schools. He also urged security for labor, with a wage which would permit workers to plan ahead for the future, dissipating the fear which comes through emergency employment.

In the afternoon he was a guest of women Republicans at a tea in the Fort Pitt Hotel, with about 500 in attendance, and later received lawyers at his headquarters on Grant street. Representative attorneys, among them such Independents as Garfield Houston, met him there and pledged their support. At this meeting Attorney Edward O. Tabor, independent councilmanic candidate in the last Republican primary, said:

"We are through with the old political bosses and they know that their leadership is not wanted and will not be tolerated."

He did not specify the bosses by name.

M'NAIR AIDS EIGENRAUCH

Mayor McNair today issued his first written political indorsement in favor of one of his ardent supporters in the mayoralty campaign, Harry A. Eigenrauch, Jr. It read:

"Harry A. Eigenrauch, Jr., as a Democratic candidate for State Senate in the Forty-fourth District, has my support and indorsement.

"I am going to vote for him because he is a friend of mine and because he favors the extension of the Pittsburgh graded tax plan and opposes a state income tax."

Eigenrauch, in a statement issued at the same time, attacked his opponent for Democratic nomination, George Rankin, Jr., as one of the recognized leaders of the "Stop-Roosevelt" movement in the presidential campaign.

REED PRAISED BY ANDERSON

Senator David A. Reed has been termed the champion of the postal employes by James B. Anderson, former Pittsburgh postmaster.

Senator Reed's efforts were responsible in one instance for passing a bill to increase postal employes wages over the veto of President Coolidge, Anderson said.

Reed took an active part in the enactment of the Independent Offices Appropriation measure, passed over President Roosevelt's veto, which restored to Federal employes five per cent of a 15 per cent pay cut, Anderson said.

Eberharter Favors New Criminal Court

Creation of a separate criminal court for Allegheny County has been proposed by Attorney Herman P. Eberharter, candidate for Legislature in the Third District. The system would eventually enable the county to handle its court work without bringing in outside judges, Eberharter said.

Magyars Indorse Zeiger Candidacy

Candidacy of Arthur I. Zeiger for Congress from the Thirty-second District was indorsed by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Veteran Magyar Americans at a meeting yesterday. The society represents more than 100,000 Hungarian families.

WOODSIDE RAPS 'BIG MONEY'

There is more lavish spending in this campaign than in any other within the recollection of County Controller Robert G. Woodside, he declared.

Woodside supported the candidacy of Gen. Edward C. Shannon for Governor in a speech last night. There is no "big money" on Shannon's side, he said.

Recorder of Deeds Samuel D. Foster was to preside at the noon meeting in Shannon headquarters, Magee Building, today. Speakers were to be Attorneys Thomas E. Whitten and Charles H. Fleming.

Italian Democrats Holding Grand Ball

A grand ball will be held by the Italo-American Democratic Club of Pittsburgh at the Elks Hall, Seventh street and Duquesne way, tonight. William Affatigato is chairman.

Candidates Asked Stand on Revenues

The Pittsburgh Motor Club has requested all candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and state legislature to report their attitudes on annual expenditure of approximately $60,000,000 in state motor revenues.

The candidates are asked to tell what distribution of motor funds they favor between the main highway system and rural roads, and what they think of diversion of gasoline taxes and license fees to other than road purposes.

Urges Flood Control To Aid Employment

Support of a $55,000,000 Federal flood control system for the Upper Allegheny River, to give work to thousands of unemployed, is promised by C. C. Hamilton, candidate for Congress in the Thirty-third District.

Hamilton's campaign slogan is "Taxes Must Come Down." He urges state maintenance of public schools.

RATE CUTS AIM OF MARGIOTTI

Immediate reduction of exorbitant utility rates has been promised by Charles J. Margiotti, candidate for Republican nomination for Governor.

Speaking in Harrisburg, Margiotti said he would institute a thorough investigation of all public utility rates. He also proposed that the real estate of public utilities be no longer exempt from taxation.

His opponent, William A. Schnader, whom he named as the Mellon-Grundy-Vare selection, has so far refused to meet him in public debate on campaign issues, Margiotti said.

Margiotti will make his first campaign appearance in Pittsburgh Saturday night at Carnegie Hall, North Side. Speakers will include James F. Malone, former City Council chairman.

DAVIS FLYING IN CAMPAIGN

The first political campaign to be conducted by airplane in this district will be launched tonight by Attorney Cyrus A. Davis, candidate for Legislature in the Twelfth District.

Accompanied by another ship, Davis, who holds a transport pilot's license, will take off from Bettis Field after 5 p. m. today. He plans a number of air stunts over the southwestern section of the county as part of his appeal for votes.

Monday night Davis and friends will stage the first political air parade with a dozen ships participating. Led by Davis the fleet will fly in formation over communities comprising the Twelfth District, presenting group flying acts.

COERCION LAID TO BACKERS OF REED

Pressure is being put on office employes of the Mellon companies to become "Reed volunteers," Horace J. Thomas, Jr., county chairman of the Pinchot campaign committee, charged today.

He stated:

"Faced with certain defeat next Tuesday, the Reed-Coyne-Mellon forces in their desperation have resorted to the old tricks. Friday and Saturday every office employe of the Mellon companies had placed on his desk a little white card affording him the 'opportunity' to become a Reed volunteer.

"The pressure is being put on in no uncertain terms. The old bread and butter threat is once more being exerted."

'MONEY TALKS'

Thomas also asserted that money was beginning to talk in the campaign for re-election of Senator David A. Reed. But, he added:

"The people will not allow the Mellon corporations to continue to own and operate a United States Senator. This election cannot be bought, traded or stolen for Reed."

Pinchot was praised as being strongly opposed to any special class benefits in a speech by Louis Rosenfield in Fifth Avenue High School last night. Rosenfield said Pinchot's record showed he was for the rights of labor.

Attorney Harry Pollock at Connelley Trade School declared himself for Pinchot because he "typifies" the social viewpoint. He also cited his labor attitude.

The Independent Voters' League of Shaler Township has indorsed Pinchot's candidacy, W. J. Connelly, president, announced today.

PINCHOT MEETINGS

Pinchot meetings are scheduled:

Tonight—At Stowe Township High School, Judge Ralph H. Smith and Edward O. Tabor, speakers; Leetsdale High School, Judge Smith, speaker; Peoples Bank and Trust Company, Forbes street and Murray avenue, Blair Gunther and L. Tolochko, speakers; Arsenal High School, Joe Gellman, speaker.

Tomorrow night—Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot will address a mass meeting in the Junior High School, Charleroi. Robert Nelson, of Philadelphia, Negro boxing commissioner, will speak in Continental Hall, 2157 Center avenue, with Judge Smith, Horace Thomas, Jr., John D. Meyer, Dr. W. D. McClelland, Robert J. Alderdice and Mrs. Mamie Morton. Edward O. Tabor will speak in John Morrow School, North Side; Paul Jamriska at Slovak Hall, West Tarentum; Maurice Kessler and Arcum Rack in St. Nichols' Church, McKeesport; Attorney John G. Bell in Carnegie Library, Hazelwood.

John D. Meyer will address a noon meeting tomorrow in the Y. W. C. A., Chatham street.

Reno Recalls Veto In Pinchot Attack

HARRISBURG, May 9.—(AP.)—Judge Claude T. Reno, chairman of Senator David A. Reed's campaign for re-election, yesterday recalled a veto by Gov. Pinchot to charge that Pinchot is responsible for "blocking" one method that would help local governments to "make both ends meet."

The bill authorized the state to reimburse counties for court cases and expenses of prosecuting prisoners for violating laws that directed fines and penalties to be paid to the commonwealth.

Kaufman Indorsed By Avalon Attorney

Attorney William A. Walker, of Avalon, has announced his indorsement of the candidacy of David E. Kaufman for lieutenant governor. Kaufman's nomination, Walker said, would aid the Republican party in the general election.

REED CAMPAIGN COSTS $498

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator David A. Reed has received no contributions toward his campaign fund for re-election, and his expenses from March 26 to May 2 were only $498.08, according to his preliminary expense account on file today with the secretary of the Senate.

The largest item is $50 for automobile hire. Other incidentals are comparatively small amounts for telephone and telegraph tolls, postage, taxicab fares, etc.

The expenses were incurred by William M. Furey, treasurer of the campaign committee in Pittsburgh, and Charles F. Zimmerman, of Philadelphia, and Livingston E. Jones, of Huntingdon other committee treasurers.

Moelter Is Indorsed By Voters' League

Albert F. Moelter has announced his indorsement by the Voters' League of Allegheny County as a candidate for Legislature in the Twelfth District. The indorsement urges support of Moelter as standing for social legislation and the rights of labor consistent with justice and reason.

M'SPARRAN NOT TO QUIT RACE

HARRISBURG, May 9.—(AP.)—John A. McSparran, Secretary of Agriculture, issued a statement yesterday saying he has no intention of withdrawing as a candidate for Governor and that he will run independently if necessary after the May 15 primary.

McSparran, a dry leader, seeks both the Republican and Democratic nominations.

The statement said in part:

"Reports which I take this means of emphatically denying, are being circulated that I will withdraw as a candidate for Governor. These reports are coming from my opponents who know my strength is growing and that my success is assured."

Democratic Club Backs Candidates

The Roosevelt-Garner Club, claiming a membership of nearly 3,500, has announced indorsement of Charles M. Schenecker, for Congress in the Thirty-fourth District; Constantine Jamison, for State Senate in the Thirty-eighth District; George A. Schenecker, for Legislature in the Twelfth District, and Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, for Governor.

Electrical Workers Indorse Candidates

Indorsements of the Electrical Workers' Political Association were announced today by James E. Bown, chairman. They are:

TENNEY FAVORS RELIEF BOOST

Increased assistance for the needy and permanent legislation to prevent a recurrence of the present unemployment situation are advocated by George L. Tenney, candidate on both Republican and Democratic ballots for nomination in the Third Legislative district, comprising the Fourth and Fifteenth Wards.

Tenney favors adequate old-age pensions, unemployment insurance and a more comprehensive workman's law. In addition, he advocates an increase in appropriations for hospitals and other charitable organizations benefiting the needy.

—With—

Patricia Pitt

Several hundred women in smart sport fashions for spring were at both the Allegheny and Longue Vue Country Clubs yesterday for the opening golf day for women.

But very few played golf! Many more played bridge and chatted with friends and knitted on the terraces. And instead of retiring to the shady part of the terrace, as they usually do for a rubber or so of bridge, most of the players—and the chatters and the knitters—sought out tables and chairs in the welcome sun.

Because of the chill in the air, despite the bright rays of the sun, most of the golfers wore sweaters over their sport frocks.

Among the devotees of sweaters was attractive Althea Robinson, whom I saw at Allegheny. She wore a white cardigan over her green and white diagonally striped sports frock.

Blonde Collie Jennings not only didn't wear a sweater, but her white pique frock had a sun-tan back. Finishing the neck and forming the belt of her frock were woven strands of white, red and green string—ever so colorful and different.

Variety of Beautiful Sweaters Seen

I particularly liked Evelyn Evans' jaunty sports skirt of white, with a broken plaid design in green and black. And with it she wore white twin sweaters. Mrs. Lewis A. Park had a blue cardigan over a white knitted skirt. Also golfing were Mrs. Charles Lockhart and Mrs. Putnam Goldsbury, who was in a gray hand-knitted boucle dress.

Watching the players start out were Mrs. Ledlie W. Young and Mrs. John Laughlin, both looking notably smart. Mrs. Young had chosen a soft rose homespun wool suit with a rose straw hat and a white knitted sweater. Mrs. Laughlin's dress was knitted—navy blue, interwoven with a white design.

Just as we were driving off I saw Patsy Mellon arriving at the club with Bertha Brooks, dressed in a riding habit.

At Longue Vue Country Club there were 127 at the luncheon. But luncheon had to be served indoors instead of on the terrace because of the high wind.

Scores of Patrons For Campus Week Play

Just a reminder—that interesting eighteenth century exhibition of French paintings at the Junior League closes Monday. Between then and now, you may see the exhibit at the league headquarters, Clark building, any day from 9:30 to 5. And there's no charge.

* * *

For Carnegie Tech's campus week play, "Love Is Not Important," by social registerite young Rosemary Casey, there are scores of patrons for the first night—Friday—at the Nixon. The play will be repeated Saturday night.

Heading the patron list are Mrs. W. L. Mellon, Mrs. Roy Arthur Hunt, Mrs. D. M. Clemson, Mrs. A. W. McEldowney, George S. Oliver, Mrs. Thomas R. Hartley, Mrs. Henry Chalfant, Judge James H. Gray, Mrs. William U. Follansbee, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, Mrs. Margaret J. Borntraeger, Thomas A. Dunn, Judge Thomas Marshall, D. E. Jackman, Mrs. William Scott, Mrs. W. Terrell Johnson, Alexander H. Patterson, Mrs. Herbert DuPuy, Mrs. F. A. Leovy, Mrs. Albert E. Curry, J. W. Marriman and many more than I have space to mention.

East End Girl To Marry Tonight

At 6:30 o'clock tonight in the home of Mrs. Thomas C. Stephens, of Wellesley avenue, her daughter, Miss Jean Lucille Stephens, will marry Robert H. Fulton, son of Mrs. Robert A. Fulton, of Brookside Farms. The Rev. George Fisher, pastor of the Highland Presbyterian Church, will officiate.

The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Joseph T. Stephens. Her sister, Mrs. James H. Young, who was a bride in January, will be matron of honor, and John Fulton will be his brother's best man.

After an Eastern honeymoon, Mr. Fulton and his bride will be at home in the Center Court Apartments.

Recent entertainments for the bride included a party given by Miss Margaret Seibert, another party on Wednesday evening at which hostesses were Mrs. Emma Manning and Miss Elizabeth Manning, and Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Braun, Jr., of Avalon, gave a bridge dinner for 20 guests, at which Mr. and Mrs. James H. Young shared honors with Miss Stephens and her fiance.

Saturday afternoon Miss Vivian McLaren entertained with a bridge luncheon and Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Connelly gave a bridge party.

School of Arts Card Party Planned

On Monday evening, May 28, the pupils of St. Joseph School of Practical and Fine Arts will hold a card party and dance in the Venetian Room, Webster Hall, Fifth avenue.

The affair is one of the features of the silver anniversary celebration commemorating the founding of the art school.

Miss Marie Heil, president of the Art Club, is chairman of the card committee, and Miss Catherine Carroll, president of the senior class of St. Joseph's High school, is chairman of the patron committee.

Bessie K. Sack To Speak at Banquet

Attorney Bessie Kann Sack will address the mother and daughter banquet of the McKees Rocks Section, National Council of Jewish Juniors, to be held Sunday in the Ahavath Achim Synagogue, McKees Rocks. The muiscal program will be presented by Mrs. Sara Davis Abrams, vocalist; Miss Alma Harris, pianist, and William Harris, violinist.

Miss Cecil Stalin, chairman, is being assisted by Miss Rose Burger, Miss Esther Zinnamon and Miss Mildred Levin.

Dr. Hollinger Federation Speaker

Dr. John A. Hollinger, of the Board of Education, who was recently appointed to the motion picture Board of Reviews, will address the motion picture council of the Allegheny County Federation of Women's Club. The meeting will be held Friday morning in the Gulf building.

East Liberty Club Will Meet Monday

Mrs. Albert Trusch will assist Mrs. C. H. Good, hostess for a meeting of the East Liberty Woman's Club's executive board, tomorrow. The monthly meeting of the club is scheduled to take place Monday in the East Liberty Y. W. C. A.

Miss Boyce Speaker For Federation

Miss Ella Ruth Boyce, director of kindergartens in Pittsburgh public schools, is speaker for the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women's broadcast tomorrow at 3:45 over KDKA. "Parent Education" is to be her sugject.

Mrs. Lois McBride Banquet Speaker

Mrs. Lois McBride, of the Counsel Service Society, will address a mother and daughter banquet at the Edgewood Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock.

* * *

Dr. Gerald T. Whitney, of the University of Pittsburgh, will speak on vocational training during the weekly radio broadcast of the City Council Parent-Teacher Associations, tomorrow at 4:15. The station is KDKA.

* * *

The St. Lawrence Parent-Teacher Association will hold a Mother's Day bake sale and card party in St. Lawrence Hall, Penn and Atlantic avenues, Saturday, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Democratic Club Card Party Set

Wilkinsburg Club Officers Named

Holding office next season in the Wilkinsburg Woman's Club will be Mrs. Harry C. Nagel, as president; Mrs. F. F. Rohrer and Miss Elizabeth Gilmore, as first and second vice presidents; Mrs. George V. Sands and Mrs. H. W. Keller, recording and corresponding secretaries; Mrs. Delle Sampson, assistant secretary, and Mrs. J. C. McQuiston, treasurer.

Brighton Women To Meet Tomorrow

Mrs. J. T. Taylor, of Lytton avenue, Schenley Farms, will be hostess for tomorrow's meting of the Brighton Women's Club. Mrs. Charles Rodgers will have a paper on "Pittsburgh in Verse" and Mrs. Charles M. Bregg, club editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, will give "My Garden of Memories."

Supervised Movies Are Shown

The idea of supervised movies for children is taking on among the women's clubs. In addition to the Enright, programs especially selected for children are being shown now at the Rowland in Wilkinsburg every Saturday morning, both of these programs being chosen by Mrs. S. B. Cuthbert, district motion picture chairman for the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, and her committee.

The Mt. Lebanon Women's Club's community service committee is choosing programs for children in that district, where a line forms before the South Hills Harris Theater at 8 o'clock each Saturday morning for a 10 o'clock program. Nearly 800 youngsters attended the first performance two weeks ago.

In order that the children may have no excuse for returning in the afternoon, the serial is included in the morning bill. Mrs. Charles G. Eicher, Mrs. Harold T. Hanson and Mrs. Clarence W. Scheck comprise the club's movie committee. Boy and Girl Scouts assist as ushers and buglers at the Wilkinsburg theater.

Successful Year At City Club Reported

Reports made last night at the annual meeting of the Woman's City Club all showed a successful year and gave a most encouraging outlook. The meeting, which followed a buffet supper, was in itself followed by a delightful musical program. Miss Marguerite Lang, accompanied by Miss Evelyn Parker, sang, and Milton Thomas, violinist, gave several numbers, with Ralph Lewando at the piano.

The nominating committee's ticket, headed by Mrs. C. L. Peirce, Jr., as president, was elected.

Hard of Hearing Group Elects Officers

At the annual business meeting of the Pittsburgh League for the Hard of Hearing on Monday evening, these officers and directors were elected:

B'nai Brith Card Party Set

Local Folks Visit Atlantic City

Among recent Pittsburgh visitors registered at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Heichert, William H. Jamison and Henry P. Hunter.

Mrs. Martinek Memorial Planned

The Tuesday Musical Club will have a room in the Stephen C. Foster Memorial to be known as the Belle Hershman Martinek room, as a memorial to Mrs. Martinek's interest in the Foster project and the work of the club. In this room will be the silver service which she presented to the club and several cathedral chairs upholstered in exquisite petit point and needle point in a design telling the story of King Arthur and his court. Mrs. Martinek bought the chairs abroad in 1932. Mr. Martinek is having a portrait of Mrs. Martinek painted and it, too, will be hung in the memorial room.

At the Tuesday Musical's annual meeting yesterday in the University Club, Mrs. Will Earhart, in whose administration the Foster Memorial idea originated, showed architect's drawing of the proposed building soon to be erected on the Cathedral of Learning campus. In recognition of the services of Dr. Charles N. Boyd, who is retiring after 16 years as choral director, Dr. Boyd was presented with a purse. The choral gave part of the post-luncheon program on which the Rev. Dr. Schuyler E. Garth was the speaker. The Foster Singers also appeared.

Mrs. M. W. St. John, program chairman, announced a series of morning musicales to be held Tuesdays during May and June to familiarize the club with all its program talent available for next season. The first of these will be held in Mrs. David V. Murdoch's home, Wellesley avenue, May 15.

The nominating committee's ticket was elected. Mrs. Murdoch continues in office as president.

Junior Women To Celebrate Music Week

As its celebration of National Music Week, the choral group of the North Boroughs Junior Woman's Club will present Frederic Cowen's cantata, "The Rose Maiden" tomorrow evening in the Bellevue Baptist Church. Assisting as soloists will be Miss Betty Cruikshank, contralto; Mrs. Howard Womsley, soprano; Walter E. Close, tenor, and Robert Stephens, baritone.

Mrs. C. Fitzhugh Lee is directing and Miss Mary Orr Wilson is accompanist.

Miss Susan Shock Missionary Speaker

Miss Susan S. Shock, of the Allison-James School, Santa Fe, N. M., will speak next Wednesday before the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Pittsburgh Presbytery in the First Church, Sixth avenue.

'Graduate' Elected in Dormont

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

The first "graduate" from junior ranks to be elected to the presidency of a senior organization is Mrs. Ronald L. Thompson, who has just been made president of Dormont New Century Club. Before her entrance into the senior organization Mrs. Thompson served as president of the New Century Juniors and for the past two years has been doing publicity for the senior club and has been a member of the social committee.

Mrs. Thompson

In her official family will be Mrs. Wayne McKee, as first vice president, and Mrs. W. R. Rauck, second vice president; Mrs. Edward C. Shriner, recording secretary; Mrs. E. S. Lawrence, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Verner V. Kendall, treasurer.

Mu Phi Epsilon Meeting Saturday

★ How Rouge Can Change Facial Contour... Properly applied, rouge can make a round face appear more oval; a thin face appear fuller. ★ High Cheekbones or Hollow Cheeks! What to do?... Rouge, if artistically applied, can help a lot to conceal high cheekbones or hollow cheeks. ★ Why Color Harmony Make-Up?... Nature harmonized the colorings of skin, eyes and hair, so to enhance beauty naturally, face powder, rouge and lipstick must also be in color harmony.

"First Nights in NEW YORK" muses the Epicure, "Remind me of life at The Warwick at all times. Celebrities in abundance, the atmosphere of glamour, the anticipation of something new (excepting that at The Warwick there's scarcely ever a whisper of criticism from the sophisticated). There's good reason for the choice of first nighters who call this home. And not the least of these is a famed cuisine and a genuinely whole-souled hospitality."

Refrigerating news for a sultry day! One of the best-known makes of electric refrigerators has sprouted a new gadget on its insides . . . the inside of the door, to be exact. This being a little shelf on which to set bottles and jars and whathaveyous whilst rearranging the contents. And it folds down flat when you're ready to close the door. Just another of those ingenious devices that all good manufacturers with an inventive twist to their souls are using!

* * *

Mother's Day suggestions are lurking at every corner . . . and we fall under their spell. With the result . . . that we see potential gift-items in almost everything we nose over. And these beautiful mirrored boxes are no exception!

For even shoppers lots younger than we can remember the not-long-past day when such a box would cost $1.00 or more ALONE. And now, with them sitting tandem on a mirrored tray for $1.00 the set, we can do nothing less than wave our arms and admonish you to let no grass grow under your feet getting down there for them. Excellent shower gifts . . . bridge prizes . . . graduation remembrances!

And from the same gift-haunted hall come pillows to tuck into the corner of your neck (for reading purposes, we mean, not necking) . . . or under a flapping elbow. Exquisite little squares of fine satin . . . with the Beauvais embroidery that's so much in demand . . . and every pastel shade that mind could invent! Filled with Kapok . . priced 2 for $1.00 (and regular $1 values if we ever saw any!)

Here's how we are about things! Just so steeped in this pursuit of the perennial "buy" that we all but smell a "hot" item a block away! And these are one . . .

The 4 pairs of chiffon hose that you get now, packed into a beautiful hosiery box, the whole business costing you but $2.60! We were on our way by a window when our eyes struck this . . . and there we stood, rooted to the spot! For these are marvelous . . . These are grand! These are what any feminine heart would cherish . . . and when they come in a little treasure-chest type of box besides . . . well! Two styles of boxes . . . any color hose you want . . . service weight as well as chiffon . . and prices that range upwards from $2.60 for four pairs, according to the increasing fineness of the hose! In other words . . . a browsing patch for any would-be hosiery buyer! Put your minds on your legs for the time being . . . or rather, on your hose!

GUFFEY AVOIDS WNBO BATTLE

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP.)—Examiner George H. Hill refused to halt a radio commission hearing today despite the continued absence of Joseph F. Guffey, Democratic candidate in Pennsylvania for the United States Senate, for whim a subpena had been issued.

Counsel for the operators of radio station WNBOat Washington, Pa., who are seeking renewal of their station license, moved for a postponement of the proceedings until Guffey appeared. The examiner refused to entertain the motion.

The examiner also is considering the application of Tri-State Radio, Inc., of Pittsburgh, for the wave length now assigned to WNBO.

A subpena was issued for Guffey at the request of counsel for WNBO who, in a supplemental statement filed with the commission, asserted Guffey and Robert L. Vann, of Pittsburgh, special assistant to Attorney General Cummings, engaged in a "political conspiracy" to force WNBO off the air.

Indorsement of Pinchot Tabled at Labor Meet

PITTSBURGHER ACTS

P. J. Bagnell, of Pittsburgh, seconded the resolution, and George W. Pohlsen, of Philadelphia, opposed a motion to send it to the political policy committee.

Those who urged that the resolution be committed to the policy committee included John A. Phillips, federation president, and Joseph Richie, organizer of the A. F. of L., in Philadelphia. Their effort was lost by adoption of a motion to table the resolution.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins was unable to attend the session, and her speech was read by Edward F. McGrady, assistant to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson. The address declared there was an increase of $79,000,000 in weekly wages in private industry last March, compared with March, 1933.

PINCHOT'S CLAIMS

Gov. Pinchot in his address advocated greater labor representation on NRA code authorities.

The Governor reviewed liberal labor legislation he supported during his two terms as chief executive, and pledged his continued support of labor in event of his election as United States Senator to succeed David A. Reed.

Continuance in power of the Republican organization will mean continuance of "ruthless exploitation" of labor, Pinchot said.

The Governor is an independent Republican.

Reed, Pinchot Trade Blows Over Campaign

PHILADELPHIA, May 9—(AP.)—Gov. Gifford Pinchot calls Senator David A. Reed "a millstone around the neck of the Republican party," while the Senator dubs the Governor "the millionaire who never gave 15 cents to any charitable institution in his life."

And above these sounds of battle as their campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination entered its final week yesterday rose hisses directed against the Governor's red-haired wife for her attack on Reed at a session of the Pennsylvania League of Republican Women.

The Senator denied Mrs. Pinchot's charge of obstructing unemployment relief, and the argument waxed so warm Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, league president, stepped between the combatants and directed:

"You two settle this after the meeting is over."

Mrs. Pinchot, undisturbed by the hisses, remained. Reed left early.

Both had been asked to avoid personalities in their addresses. The Senator complied, but the state's first lady said she was "sorry I cannot oblige."

In a statement before the meeting, the Pittsburgher blamed Pinchot for indulging in personalities and credited himself with sticking to the campaign issues.

PINCHOT 'MILLIONAIRE'

At a Negro rally after the meeting, he gave the Governor his newest "millionaire" label. He said:

"I have done more for the plain people of Pennsylvania in a single year than Pinchot has done in the 69 years of his life."

Reed renewed his charges that state employes are being forced to contribute to the Governor's campaign.

Meanwhile Pinchot was predicting that if Reed is nominated by the Republicans, the Democrats will win the Senate seat in November. He said:

"Reed on the ticket would insure Republican defeat. Thousands who have never supported me before are supporting me now on that ground alone."

The Governor pointed to yesterday's sale of $20,000,000 in veterans' compensation bonds at 2.9 per cent interest as "complete and conclusive answer to all the wild, false and foolish talk concerning the extravagance of this administration.

Leviathan to Sail Atlantic This Year

NEW YORK, May 9.—(INS.)—The Leviathan, long the queen of the American merchant marine, will go back into overseas service this year, according to an announcement made today by P. A. S. Franklin, chairman of the United States Lines. The ship will make its first eastward voyage to channel ports June 9.

EYNON TO URGE GAS TAX CUT

Benjamin G. Eynon, former state motor vehicle commissioner and candidate for Governor, is to speak Friday at a luncheon of the Bent Fenders Club.

Eynon's talk will include his recommendations for solving the motorists' problems, chief among which will be legislation for reducing the operator's license tax from $2 to $1 and a one cent per gallon cut in gasoline taxes.

Following the luncheon, Eynon will meet groups in the Beaver and Tarentum Valleys. He will speak at 7:45 p. m., in the Beaver Falls Carnegie Library and at 10:45 p. m., over KDKA. He will also attend a benefit sponsored by the Laurel Gardens volunteer fire company the same evening.

Bethany to Observe Anniversary of Frat

BETHANY, W. Va., May 9—Dedicatory exercises to be held Saturday in commemoration of the founding of Delta Tau Delta fraternity here 75 years ago were being arranged today.

A memorial tablet will be presented to the college by Harold Tharp, national president of the fraternity. The Pittsburgh alumni chapter and other chapters from the Pittsburgh district will attend.

2 Women, 1 Man File Divorce Suits

MOYER OUSTER OF 4 UPHELD

The Civil Service Commission today granted Health Director Ray T. Moyer the right to dismiss four city food inspectors who appealed when they were dropped recently from the department by Moyer.

The commission ruled that the 1934 salary ordinance changed the duties of the inspectors, and that the four, formerly classified as meat inspectors, may be dismissed.

Voters League Plans Meeting for Marcus

A meeting in behalf of the candidacy of M. A. Marcus for Legislature in the First District will be held by the Jewish Women's Voters League at the Roosevelt Theater, Center avenue, tonight. Mrs. I. Rabinovitz will preside.

Change of Party Rule Excludes Pittsburgh

HARRISBURG, May 9.—A ruling that voters desiring to change their party affiliations must do so 62 days before the primary election does not apply to Pittsburgh, where a different election law is in force, Secretary of the Commonwealth Beamish explained here today.

Beamish's ruling yesterday applies only to counties and boroughs still operating under the 1913 election law, he said. The ruling will not affect any change in the recent heavy switch from Republican to Democratic registrations in Pittsburgh for the forthcoming primary, but added since those registrations were all initial enrollments under the new permanent registration act.

Guffey and Earle Rallies Scheduled

Meetings in the interest of the Democratic slate headed by Joseph F. Guffey, for United States Senator, and George H. Earle, for Governor, will be held tonight in St. Joseph's School, Ormsby avenue; Lithuanian Hall, Wilmerding; Polish Hall, Tenth and Market streets, McKeesport; Fineview School, Fineview avenue; Sterrett School, Fourteenth Ward; Wentzel Hall, Swissvale, and the First National Bank, Tarentum.

M'NAIR TALKS TEMPERANCE

He had delivered a dozen brief lectures on the evils of drink, discharged 12 "drunks" and was hearing a disorderly conduct case in Central Police Court this morning when Magistrate J. W. McGowan arrived.

McNair had stopped in at Central 10 minutes before hearings were listed to start, took the bench and went right ahead. McGowan was only a few minutes tardy.

The Mayor conferred with McGowan when Della Bobrufhin, 42, grocery proprietor of 700 Fifth avenue, and Louis Carroza, 31, of 602 Wylie avenue, were arraigned charged with operating a lottery. Both were discharged by Magistrate McGowan.

Berlin Wins Delay Over Salary Suit

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 9.—In an order made by the courts here, Congressman William M. Berlin, defendant in a suit for $900 salary filed by Miss Magdalen H. Woods, of Southwest Greensburg, is given until June 1 to file answer to the suit.

Berlin's attorneys stated in a petition that the additional time is needed because the Congressman is attending to duties in Washington.

:-: Glances Into the Realms of Domesticity and Romance :-:

By MARION BRUNOT

Playboy 'Frost' When He Stays Home With Girl

She ran around with a PLAYBOY . . . He believed in a good time, spent freely, took her places that made her the envy of the other girls . . . She was always on the go, go.

But when the two of them sat down for a pleasant evening at home, he was a FROST. He wanted to PET all the time, or was MOODY. He never would play cards with a foursome without showing the silly side of his nature. . . .

Miss Brunot

So along with this wild gadding about, this at-home unpleasantness, and also her office work, the good sensible girl grew weaker and weaker until at last she had to rest in a sanitarium.

That is Puzzled's story. . . .

Dear Miss Brunot:

I am 22 years of age, and am coming to you with my troubles. All last winter I went with an attractive man of 26. He was a foreigner, but Americanized. He dressed well and had a nice car, and was progressing well in his work. Everyone was attracted to him because of his pleasing personality.

CALLED SPORT

People called him a sport because he was always eager to be here and there, and full of fun. He spent lots of money and everyone would say, "You are lucky." I thought maybe I was. He took me every place, bought me everything I wanted, and even offered me presents of money, which I did not take. I almost blubbered in his face, he was so kind.

But here's what got me . . . He made a big showing when we were out at dances or gadding about, but at home he was so quiet. The only thing he seemed to enjoy was PETTING. When I tried to converse with him he was silent. And when another couple was there and we played cards, he was sort of silly . . . He said a man was different after he married. But I was afraid that if he couldn't sit down and be pleasant for one evening, marriage would be a very stale proposition to him.

Well, he worried me into insomnia. There did seem to be many nice qualities to him. But I'm domestic, and he was always sort of a dummy about the house.

Between my office work, his moodiness and the insomnia, I became very much run down, and had to go to a sanitarium. I didn't see him while I was there. But he kept sending me flowers. And just when I was ready to come out, I learned from more than one he had been running around with other girls, and that he had even asked a married friend of mine to go out with him.

FEELS GUILTY

That didn't seem right to me, I decided the case was hopeless, and stopped seeing him. But far from reason and common sense, I cannot forget him.

Do you think I'd be a fool if I saw him again? Different ones tell me he is dissipating, and I feel guilty. Mother says he would have done the same thing whether he knew me or not. But I wonder. He likes to appear happy-go-lucky, and yet I keep thinking he has another side to his nature.

PUZZLED.

I would certainly see the man again, if it were only to set my heart and mind at rest. Maybe he won't seem so interesting to you in person, as he does when sitting alone and thinking of him. If you are domestic, and show it, he must have been attracted to you partly for that reason. Think that over! You are right when you say an apparent playboy often has another side to his nature. The fact that this one runs around with many girls, but no one in particular rather indicates he is faithful to you. Many young men ask young married women out for an evening. It is up to the young married woman whether she accepts or not. The men do this as a tryout. Nothing else.

I would not take other people's gossip too seriously. However, be sure you are physically strong enough, before you start stepping out at night again.

Dear Miss Brunot:

I am not popular. I am ashamed of myself, too, because I have advantages in my favor that other girls do not have. And yet they seem to get along nicely. I am 16 years of age, average looking, and wear good clothes. I am allowed to have boys visit me and many other girls are not allowed this. But they do not. I have one boy friend, but he moved recently. He was everything a girl could want, but was rather old for me. He was 21. He once told me I was self-conscious. I have tried to cure myself of this, but it is not so easy.

JUST OVERLOOK HER

I do not smoke, drink, nor pet, but do not think it a crime for others to do so. It puzzles me when a boy takes me out, and never comes to see me again. I am careful of my personal appearance. It worries me that other girls have two or three boys asking them to go to a dance, and nobody asks me. People do not seem to dislike me, they just overlook me.

I try to console myself in thinking there are other things as important as having lots of invitations—such as being kind to my grandmother and brother and family, but it hurts, anyway.

D. M.

I agree that it hurts when a girl is not popular. It is fine to be so kind at home, though. You do not seem to be prudish, and have many other companionable qualities. Maybe if you would be less serious, and would try hard to get over your self-consciousness, things will be different. Try to cultivate more individuality. You seem to be a little drab, in that people just overlook you. It may be, however, that you are old for your years and appeal more to the older lad.

Opportunity Often Disguised as Mis ortune, Observes Fay King

By FAY KING

Opportunity seldom presents itself exactly as we expect it, so it is often unrecognized and spurned.

Even misfortune and disappointment have been opportunity in disguise. What seemed a discouraging "detour" was a "short cut" after all.

How many have said later in life: "If I had only known—that was my real chance!" While others say: "Little did I dream at the moment that unwilling step was really in the direction I wished to take!"

What we resent most may in time prove a much-needed rung in our ladder of progress.

Results have proved, too, that it is best to take things as they come. Some row too hard against the current of events only to discover they have taken the wrong route, delaying their success.

TRICKS THAT SPELL INDIVIDUAL STYLE

By PRUNELLA WOOD

DRESSES AND costumes which fit into the timely scheme of styles, but which have little independent expressions of their own, are often the sole stunt by which certain women become known as "individual" in their appearance. It's no blague that a clever woman with very scant blessings on the part of nature can outshine her more beautiful sisters if she has captured and subsidized the best hairdresser, the best dressmaker and the best tailor available.

* * *

AND THE DAY is past when tons of money and time to search out and employ these "bests" is necessary. Shops that offer them are rife on avenue and side streets; the woman of taste and imagination can find plenty which will fit nicely within her budget.

* * *

IF IT IS A woman's back that is her beauty, let her look for the gown with an important back treatment. If the woman whose features are more arresting through intelligence than regularity will keep an eye peeled for costumes that combine unusual fabrics or colors, she will hold her own with women more conventionally garbed, no matter how pretty their faces.

The three models sketched below are distinctly individual, although they sound commonplace enough—a lace dinner ensemble, a printed chiffon, and a novelty cotton tailored suit. They would, however, set off the beauty or the wit.

Unique and smart, this navy lace tailored dinner suit. French belting in a lighter blue borders the model, but it is run through a casing of the navy lace. The light blue comes out in the open, however, for the broad girdle which is finished with a nosegay.

It is a beautiful back on this botany printed chiffon. The apron tiers are crimped in shirred effects and they meet under a chiffon sash of azure blue. Pink and blue poppies at the waist.

A novelty cotton net has been manipulated for the suit above, which should help a woman through lunch, the cafe hour and even the dinner date. Its brown and white threads give a beige effect, and the moire strip over which the cape fastens is a rich brown. So is the suede belt, which has a swell composition buckle in front.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Quinsy 'In Season'

Dr. Copeland

Quinsy sore throat is an uncomfortable and painful affliction. Many persons have the false impression it is merely an inflammation or irritation of the throat. It is really an abscess located in the throat near the tonsil. It is a common affliction of persons who are victims of tonsilitis and, in most instances, can be traced to diseased and infected tonsils. It is often confused with tonsilitis, but differs from this infection by being more painful and involving only one side of the throat.

Like tonsilitis, the sufferer from quinsy sore throat is unable to swallow food and has pain on eating or talking. High fever, headache and general discomfort are other signs of this disorder. As a rule, there is a throbbing and painful sensation in the ear of the side affected. For this reason it is often mistaken for an infected ear.

The only cure for quinsy sore throat is incision and drainage of the pus. Like any other abscess within the body, cure can only be brought about by evacuation of pus. Unfortunately, most persons fear the knife and avoid this simple operation. This is an unwise attitude, for although the acute pain might subside and the infection seem to clear up, it will recur at frequent intervals. I have known patients who have had as many as 6 to 10 attacks of quinsy sore throat within a short period of time.

Of course, quinsy sore throat can be prevented by removing all centers of infection within the throat. Since infected and enlarged tonsils are the most common causes of this disturbance, I would recommend that tonsils which are really diseased be removed. If you are the victim of diseased tonsils and quinsy sore throat do not hesitate to have this operation. If you have never suffered from this form of sore throat, but have had trouble with your tonsils, you can save yourself from a great deal of unnecessary pain by having the tonsils removed.

Diseased tonsils are a stumbling block to health. They are often the underlying cause of such physical disturbances as heart disease, kidney disease, arthritis, neuritis and neuralgia. This menace is especially great in young children. Enlarged and diseased tonsils retard the normal growth of children. Though it is not the cause of chorea and acute rheumatism, it is often a contributing factor in the onset of these dreaded infections.

In what I have said, I do not mean to imply that all tonsils should be removed. This is a mistaken idea, and I am strongly opposed to such a procedure. The tonsils should only be removed when they are enlarged and infected.

Bear in mind that in quinsy sore throat the seat of infection may come from diseased and infected teeth or nasal sinuses. This is especially true in adults. Do not neglect quinsy sore throat, but make every effort to determine the underlying cause.

Answers to Health Queries

Mary. Q.—My father, who is 70 years of age, has had asthma for many years. I have recently learned that this disturbance is often aggravated by animal fur and similar substances. Is this theory true?

A.—Yes, some individuals are particularly sensitive to such substances. There are a number of tests which may be made to determine the underlying cause. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

W. A. F. Q.—What would cause dizziness and pain all over the head? Is this a symptom of high blood pressure or stomach trouble? I am a woman of 51, what should my blood pressure be?

3.—These symptoms may be due to either source. Have the blood pressure tested. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Contract Bridge -:- HOW TO PLAY and HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

Slam Inferences

Without the aid of the most precise information, the bidding of a Grand Slam at Contract becomes a great gamble. Players who disdain the aid of such splendid helps as the Four-Five No-trump Convention undertake Grand Slam contracts when they should not, and often fail to reach them when they should.

In a recent Duplicate game held in New York City the only players to reach the correct final contract on the hand below were those who availed themselves of the benefit of all the means of exchanging information between partners. The Grand Slam, which is easy to fulfill, was reached by only one pair out of 11 who held the North-South hands.

North—Dealer.

	♠ K ♡ Q 9 ◇ A Q J 10 7 6 5 ♣ A K Q
♠ 8 7 2 ♡ 7 6 3 2 ◇ 8 2 ♣ 9 8 7 3	North West East South	♠ J 9 5 4 3 ♡ 5 4 ◇ K 9 4 3 ♣ 10 2
	♠ A Q 10 6 ♡ A K J 10 8 ◇ — ♣ J 6 5 4

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡ (1)	Pass
3 ♣ (2)	Pass	3 ♡ (3)	Pass
4 ◇ (4)	Pass	4 ♠ (5)	Pass
4 N T (6)	Pass	5 N T (7)	Pass
6 ♡ (8)	Pass	7 ♡ (9)	Pass
Pass	Pass

1—Though South has 3½ honor tricks, the simple One Over One response is probably better than a Forcing Takeout. Void of partner's suit, it is possible that a Forcing Takeout might carry the bidding far too high.

2—North has a mild fit with his partner's heart suit and a very long and strong suit of his own. He decides to make a Forcing Rebid in a three-card suit in order to assure plenty of opportunity to further explore the hand's possibilities.

3—Of course South's heart suit should be rebid.

5—This is a mild Slam try. South is much encouraged in view of his partner's club bid, and the bidding of a higher ranking suit at the game level is in no sense a signoff.

6—The conventional showing of two Aces and the King of a bid suit. As a mater of fact, since South has bid spades North now has the Kings of two bid suits.

8—South has never suported North's diamond suit. North believes there is a Grand Slam in the hand but, on the other hand, it is possible that there is a trick off the hand somewhere. The bid of six hearts does not deny Grand Slam possibilities but leaves the final decision to South.

9—With South's strong hand and a trump suit which partner has supported after a rebid, South of course should bid the Grand Slam.

Tommorrow's Hand

North, Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.

Household Hints

A small piece of butter added to the water in which vegetables are to be cooked will prevent them from boiling over.

When making an apple tart, add a few dried apricots (which should have been soaked for a few hours). They make a change from clove and lemon flavoring.

Watercress is rich in phosphates, iron, sulphur and iodine. It should be carefully washed and picked before serving. It should not be cooked. Add a few drops of vinegar to the water in which it is to be washed.

To French fry onions, select a mild one, Bermuda suggested, and cut crossways into one-eighth-inch slices. Soak 10 minutes in cold milk to cover, then drain, dip each slice in light batter and fry until light brown. Drain well and serve with chops or steaks.

Wedding Announcements

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1—How soon after the wedding should announcements be sent out?

2—The bride's friends are all young people. Should an announcement be sent to them as well as to their parents? W.

1—As soon as possible. That is, they should be all ready . . . engraved, addressed, stamped and sealed . . . so that they may be dropped in the mail box after the marriage . . . This means that the friends who live in the city receive the news the morning following the wedding.

2—Marriage announcements should be sent to the list of friends who have not been invited to the wedding. The fact that they cannot come does not make any difference. It is the fact that they have not been invited.

Notes of Thanks

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Should I send a card or note of thanks to each giver of a gift? I had the most beautiful surprise baby shower in my honor recently, and I would appreciate your advice. E.

Yes, it's the gracious, the polite, the appreciative gesture to make to these kind givers who made you so happy—to write a note of thanks to each one.

Seating the Guests

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When inviting a minister and his wife to dinner, and there are no other guests, does the minister sit at the head of the table or at the hostess' left? E.

The hostess sits at the head of the table, and her husband, the host, sits opposite her, at the foot of the table. The minister who is the man guest of honor, would be seated at the right of the hostess.

Madge Sends Release to Hugh

"I am sorry to disturb you," my father said, as at his summons Lillian threw open the nursery door and ushered him in, "but it is necessary that we run over these astounding events of tonight, and determine what is best to be done. No, as Lillian started to close the door again—"leave it open. Harry will be along presently, and, as the football boys say, we'll go into a huddle."

"It seems to me that you already have been in one," Lillian said audaciously. "At least the sounds that floated in to us indicated some kind of rumpus was on."

"Ah, yes!" my father replied. "Of course you could not help but hear. A sad affair; all the more sorrowful because it is so hard to understand."

A firm, heavy tread sounded outside the door, and the next instant Harry Underwood came through the doorway.

"He's quiet now," he volunteered. "The paroxysms seems to be over, though he's weak, of course. But I think he'll sleep for a while. I hope so, at any rate. What do you think, Chief, about getting Hugh back here?"

UP TO MADGE

My father looked at me.

"I'm afraid that rests with my daughter," he said. "She left her husband at the hospital upon the understanding that Hugh would stay there and guard him. Unless she releases Hugh from that promise, I doubt that he would leave Richard, even to come here."

I saw a reflection of that doubt in the faces of both Harry and Lillian and was furious to feel my face flaming at this intimation that Hugh held my wishes paramount to anything else.

"Let me get this clearly!" I spoke quickly, nervously. "Do you mean that you wish me to decide whether Hugh is to remain at the hospital with Dicky, or is to come over here at Lee Chow's call? How can I make such a decision—I, who know nothing of the facts; to whom this is all as puzzling as a book of ancient Greek or Sanskrit?"

HUGH NEEDED

"I cannot wait to explain everything to you now," my father said. "Will it suffice if I tell you that, with Lee Chow safely bound in the other room, Harry can guard Richard as well as Hugh can? It was because Hugh feared that Lee Chow might succeed in getting into Richard's room at the hospital that he insisted upon staying with Richard tonight. Now conditions are altered, Richard is now in no jeopardy with which Harry cannot cope, and Hugh is sorely needed here. Under those circumstances — can you not——"

"Under those circumstances," I interrupted steadily, "there can be but one answer. Hugh must leave Dicky and come here. Tell him, Harry, that if he feels bound by any promise to me, which I doubt, I release him from it now and wish him to leave you with Dicky while he comes over here."

My father was the first to look at me after I stopped speaking, and his approving smile heartened me; subtly brought back my poise, sadly shaken by this contretemps concerning Hugh's care of Dicky.

"That is what I expected you to say," he said. "Harry, will you start at once? You can drive Hugh's car back, can you not? Then it will be there for him to drive back."

"Surest thing you know," the big man replied, with cheery acquiescence. "How much do you want me to tell Hugh about this rumpus tonight?"

"Nothing, except that Lee Chow is safely here under guard, that Margaret releases him from his promise, and that he is needed here. I don't want you to take time to tell him anything else, except not to worry about the speed laws in getting over here."

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Try a dry cleaning for the removal of blackheads. Eau de cologne will serve. Wash the face with soap and water, rinse with warm water, dry gently. Pour a few drops of eau de cologne on an old soft wash cloth, skim over the surface of the skin. Work well into the little creases beside the wings of the nose, and along the sides of the chin.

An excellent pack to be used for whitening discolored neck is made by combining the white of an egg with the juice of half a lemon and enough almond meal to form a paste. Spread over a clean surface, cover with gauze. Wring a small towel out of warm water, slap it on. Cover with a large towel, let the pack remain on over night.

Skin specialists — some of them—have come to the conclusion that an excessively oily skin is due to some glandular disturbance. Treatment calls for daily exercise out of doors, a diet rich in vitamines, the daily bath, sufficient sleep and six glasses of water a day. Soap and water twice a day and, after the facial tubbing at night, a powdering with boric acid. Avoid heavy, oily complexion powders; Sebaceous glands don't like them.

GUFFEY SCORED AS TRAITOR TO ROOSEVELT

Joseph F. Guffey is guilty of "treachery" to President Roosevelt, Norbert J. Fitzgerald, candidate for Democratic nomination for Secretary of Internal Affairs, has declared.

The "treachery," Fitzgerald charged, consisted in abuse of his power of patronage in Home Loan offices in the state, and in attempting to control the Democratic party in the state on a basis of dictatorship rather than on the will of the people.

An enthusiastic crowd of some 500 overflowed Fraternal Hall, McKees Rocks, last night, to hear Fitzgerald, Roland S. Morris, candidate for United States Senate, and Judge Charles D. Copeland, running for Governor, inveigh against Guffey and the organization Democratic leadership.

SPEAKER CHEERED

"I will not see the ideals of Roosevelt ignored. I will not see the workmen of Pennsylvania fooled or betrayed."

Morris, too, drew a hearty reception in advocating support of the National Recovery Act in an effort to solve the problem of distribution. He said:

"There's nothing I'd love more than defending the policies of Roosevelt against the criticisms of Pinchot or Reed."

COPELAND PASSES LIE

Copeland called Eugene C. Bonniwell, out for Governor, and Philadelphia Controller S. Davis Wilson "liars" for linking him with Mellon, Vare, Grundy and Gen. W. W. Atterbury.

He said he and his slate were in the field to allow the people and not Guffey to select their Democratic candidates.

Burgess P. J. Henney presided, and many local candidates made their appeals to the friendly audience. John B. Sweeney and Mrs. Annette T. Johnson, candidates for Democratic county chairman and vice chairman, respectively, spoke.

Sweeney characterized County Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence as a dictator and asserted he had not called a committee meeting for 14 years.

GUFFEY, EARLE TO HOLD RALLY

Statewide candidates of the regular Democratic organization will take over Pittsburgh for campaigning purposes tomorrow, winding up a full day of ballyhoo with a mass meeting in North Side Carnegie Hall, with Eddie Dowling, actor, and candidate for the senatorial nomination in Rhode Island, as one of the principal speakers.

George H. Earle, the gubernatorial candidate; Joseph F. Guffey, seeking senatorial nomination; Thomas A. Logue, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, and Thomas Kennedy, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, will be among the speakers at the night meeting.

This will be the big shot demonstration of the regular Democrats in the closing days of the campaign, and they will make an effort to put on a bigger meeting than has been held either by opposition Democrats or Republicans in the North Side hall this spring, a task which should not be difficult.

Schullman Favors Wagner Labor Bill

Alexander H. Schullman, candidate for Congress in the Thirty-second District, has declared in favor of an unamended Wagner labor bill. Addressing the Civic Community of Baptist Ministers conference, he stressed activities on behalf of Negroes, laying special emphasis on passage of the anti-lynching bill.

MOTHER GOOSE'S CHARACTERS IN MARGARET RUSE'S MURALS . . HOW MANY DO YOU KNOW?

Art Projects of PWA In District Impressive

Little Publicity, But Good Results Obtain

By PENELOPE REDD

Although Pittsburgh was not conspicious in the reports on the exhibition of PWA paintings in Washington, actually work of importance was accomplished in this town. A majority of the districts were content with easel paintings which were publicized at the Washington show. The committee in charge of the Western Pennsylvania terrain endeavored to concentrate their efforts in securing permanent decorations for the public buildings of this neighborhood. Not always with success, it is true, but in the main with satisfactory results with the committee, the artists, and the recipients.

Miss Redd

One of the recently completed decorations intended for permanent installation is the series of four decorative panels designed by Margaret Ruse for the children's ward of the Allegheny General Hospital

In two panels, one identifies familiar personages marshalled by Mother Goose. From Humpty Dumpty to Red Riding Hood on the way to her Grandmother's house just over the hill, all the congregation is in attendance.

The other two panels represent the tale of Cinderella and of Robin Hood. The Cinderella is well motivated in composition and the Robin Hood, vivacious. In the latter the drawing of the hoary trees gripping the earth makes for a powerful finale to the series. In all of them, Miss Ruse has used a fundamentally rich color theme which acts both to strengthen delicate hues and to mute the most positive one so they are resonant instead of strident.

These four panels seem entirely appropriate for the purpose for which they are intended and one may confidently anticipate that they will be a source of delight to convalescent children.

Better Highways Stressed By Eynon

Wider highways and good highway maintenance are being stressed by Benjamin G. Eynon, candidate for Republican nomination for governor. Eynon also has pledged himself against diversion of motor license, game, fish, and other special funds.

Candidate Is Foe Of Company Police

Opposing sweat shops and privately-paid police, Daniel J. Dailey is a candidate for Legisislature in the Tenth District. He describes himself as an ardent Democrat and staunch supporter of President Roosevelt.

GUFFEY, EARLE ASSAIL G. O. P.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(AP.)—Joseph F. Guffey, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, and George H. Earle, his running mate for governor, last night called on Pennsylvania voters to rebuke attacks on the Roosevelt recovery program by electing the Guffey-Earle slate.

Declared Guffey at the rally of his followers:

"President Roosevelt today is being subjected to the most intensively organized propaganda against his program in the history of our country.

"The voice of special privilege is powerful and concentraed because it finds expression through the agencies dominated for so many years under Republican rule."

Earle said there is "no better evidence of the desperate plight in which Republican machine leaders find themselves" than Senator David A. Reed's attacks on the Roosevelt "humane recovery program."

McNair and Guffey Indorsed By Foster

City Assessor William B. Foster has announced in favor of nomination of Mayor McNair for governor and Joseph F. Guffey for United States Senator.

Foster is the second member of the Mayor's official family to rally to Mayor's standard. The first was Safety Director Ralph E. Smith.

DRAVO QUITS, AIDS SHANNON

HARRISBURG, May 9.—(AP.)—Withdrawal of Lieut. Col. Charles A. Dravo, of Swarthmore, leaves an even dozen candidates in the race for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Dravo, professor of military tactics at the University of Pennsylvania, withdrew last night in favor of Edward C. Shannon, Lieutenant Governor and commander of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Voicing opposition to Attorney General William A. Schnader as "hobbled" by "political overlords," Dravo expressed fear that Schnader would win "unless we come to our senses and consolidate our forces."

Disabled Vets Pay Honor to Reed

In recognition of his efforts in behalf of disabled veterans, Senator David A. Reed has been made an honorary member of Greater Pittsburgh Chapter No. 8, Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Dr. Donald Kunkleman pinned the badge on his coat and John Rainy, commander of the chapter, presided.

Pyle Promises Aid To Bank Measures

Dr. William T. Pyle, candidate for Congress in the Thirty-first District, has pledged himself to support measures to guarantee bank deposits. A former burgess of Swissvale, Dr. Pyle served with the Medical Corps during the World War.

VAUGHAN'S PLAY OUTSTANDING IN PIRATES' SPURT

JAMES J. LONG'S SPORTS COMMENT

Brooklyn Swiff's Dish.
Seven Straight Victories.
Pirate Subs Show Class.
Six-Day Racing Spreads.
Cavalcade Out Twice.
Capable Tennis Captain.

Bill Swift yesterday showed something like his normal pitching form for the first time this season when he hurled the Pirates to their fifth consecutive victory in his initial complete game, and if he can stay in that stride it will mean another helpful prop for George Gibson's mound staff. Whether or not Swift's brace may be counted on to prove lasting can be better determined when he has faced some club other than Brooklyn, for the latter is the only team he has beaten over the route in a long time. Since last June 24, Bill has won only five complete games, and every one of those five victories was scored over the Dodgers. Swift went the distance seven times all told in that period, and his two other complete contests resulted in defeats at the hands of the Cardinals and Cubs. He has not lost to Brooklyn since August 17, 1932, and has beaten that club seven straight times.

Bill Swift

The continued spurt of the Bucs has shown the great importance of having capable substitutes, and confirms the early belief of local fans that in the possession of high-grade reserve material the Pittsburgh club is second to none in the league. There are no fewer than three subs in the lineup at present, with Tommy Thevenow, Woody Jensen and Pep Young sitting in for Pie Traynor, Lloyd Waner and Cookie Lavagetto, respectively, and the rare quality of Gibby's replacements is attested by the success of the Pirates in stretching their spring drive to eight wins in the last 10 games, up to today, and fighting their way with a crippled lineup to within half a game of first place.

PHILS BRING NEW MEN FOR BUC SERIES

One new manager follows another in the Forbes Field schedule, and with the departure of Casey Stengel and his Dodgers Jimmy Wilson came to town today to make his first local managerial appearance, leading the Phils on a four-day visit. Jimmy also presents some new players in his troupe of Quakers, headed by two former St. Paul infielders, Second Baseman Irvine Jeffries and Third Baseman Meredith Hopkins. Jeffries was obtained from the Reds in the Mark Koenig deal, and Hopkins came direct from the Saints.

Another new infielder is Louis Chiozza, from Memphis, and an outfield addition who has undertaken the sweet job of trying to fill Chuck Klein's rather spacious shoes is Bill Ruble, from Minneapolis. The most important acquisitions to the pitching staff are Theodore Kleinhans, a left-hander from Atlanta, who was bought by the Cubs and turned over to the Phils as part of the big price paid for Klein, and Curt Davis, a big right-hander from San Francisco. Having a Davis on the payroll is a habit with the Quakers. After trading George to the Giants, they still had Virgil last year, and now, after swapping Virgil to the Cardinals for Wilson, they've got Curt. Henry Oana, Hawaiian outfielder, recently was released back to Portland.

QUAKERS GIVE FRENCH AND MEINE TROUBLE

Bill Swift has been the most successful of Pittsburgh's regular pitchers against the Phils in point of percentage, the Scranton citizen having scored four victories over the present visitors while losing to them only once.

Larry French

The club now headed by Jimmy Wilson has made a lot of trouble for Larry French and Heinie Meine through the years. French boasts only 10 decisions against 11 defeats, while Meine has just broken even, eight wins and the same number of reverses. Red Lucas, while with Cincinnati, won 16 and lost 10 in competition with the Phils.

Phil Collins is the only member of Wilson's staff who has beaten the Pirates oftener than he has lost to them. He has 10 wins over Pittsburgh to his credit against eight defeats. Jumbo Elliott has won 14 and lost 15; Snipe Hansen has won four and lost five; Ed Holley has won two and lost three, and Austin Moore has downed the Bucs once in five attempts.

SIX-DAY BIKE RACING GROWS IN FAVOR

An evident slump in interest in six-day bicycle racing in New York has not prevented the game from growing in favor elsewhere. Last winter saw a decline of about 16 per cent in the metropolis. The last two six-day events there drew 152,926 customers, a drop of approximately 30,000 in attendance, as compared with the preceding year. Promoters are getting plenty of encouragement in other sections, however. Pittsburgh, which will have another race in the fall, is not the only city where the bikers have built up a strong following.

San Francisco also has been won over to the pedal pushers and is planning to stage another grind, this time with Frank Kramer as referee. Philadelphia, too, looks to be such a promising field that if the plans of a New York theatrical group hold up a track will be built at the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium.

CAVALCADE OUT OF TWO BIG STAKE RACES

Not only has it been decided to keep Cavalcade out of the Preakness at Pimlico on Saturday, in order to rest him for the American Derby in Chicago on June 2, but the Kentucky Derby winner also will be missing from another big event for 3-year-olds, the Belmont Stakes in New York.

Cavalcade is not eligible for the Belmont, to be run June 9, because he was not nominated. Two of his stablemates, High Quest and Good Goods, were duly entered, but when Mrs. Dodge Sloan purchased Cavalcade from F. W. Armstrong for $1,200 as a yearling it was too late to list him for the Belmont of 1934, nominations for that $60,000 race having closed on December 31, 1931, with 37 entries.

DAVIS CUP TENNIS TEAM IN GOOD HANDS

The United States Davis Cup tennis team may not succeed in lifting the trophy from England this year, but if it does fail it won't be because of poor leadership or coaching. Tennis men agree that one smart step in the 1934 cup campaign was the naming of R. Norris Williams as the new captain of the American squad. Williams is an ideal selection for the post from every angle, even without considering the fact that he filled the same assignment before with credit.

R. Norris Williams

It would be hard to imagine a better background than that of the 1934 captain. Dick was national singles champion in 1914 and 1916, and paired with Vincent Richards to win the doubles title in 1925 and 1926. Ten times he was ranked among the country's first 10, and he played on the Davis Cup teams of 1913-14-21-26. In addition, Williams, in his heyday, featured a strong backhand game, a department in which Francis X. Shields and Lester Stoefen, two of this year's candidates, are said to be lacking, so the new pilot is well qualified to correct that fault.

MID-ATLANTIC FLAG CHASE ON TODAY

The Middle Atlantic League ushers in its baseball season today with eight clubs on the starting line. The opening games find Dayton at Zanesville, Huntington at Springfield, Wheeling at Charleston, and Johnstown at Beckley.

The schedule calls for a split season, the first half ending on July 8 and the second half beginning the following day. The league will play 126 games, with the two winners meeting in a post-season series after the season's close.

President Elmer Daily, the guiding hand of the league, has announced that the President's Cup will be presented the team drawing the best opening-day crowd. Johnstown won the cup last season.

DYKES BECOMES CHISOX PILOT

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP.)—The task of trying to lead the Chicago White Sox out of the cellar of the American League belonged today to peppery Jimmy Dykes.

As the veteran third baseman became the ninth pilot of the club since 1920, the year the "Black Sox" scandal almost wrecked baseball, Lew Fonseca, the last appointee of the late Charles A. Comiskey, went out after two seasons on the job.

Dykes' appointment was announced last night in Washington by J. Louis Comiskey, owner of the club, after the Sox had suffered their third straight defeat by the Senators, and their eleventh beating in 15 games this season. Comiskey said waivers on Fonseca would be asked, and if no major league club claims him, the deposed manager will be given his release.

Keck to Tell Of Tragedy Of Darcy

The tragedy of the late Les Darcy, great Australian boxer, will be told by Harry Keck, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, as the feature of the weekly radio program of the Trained Seals of the Sports Department of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph over WCAE at 6 o'clock this evening.

Branded as a slacker from his native Australia during the World War, Darcy was hounded from pillar to post when he sought to display his fistic wares in this country in 1917 and finally died from a tooth infection and a broken heart in Memphis, Tenn., thousands of miles from home, after he had enlisted in the United States Reserve Aviation Corps. His death cast a pall over the sports world.

Too late came the expressions of regret from an outraged American public. A black spot had been cast upon the record of sportsmanship and hospitality of the land.

EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: LARGER THAN THE SPANISH ARMADA—The Spanish Armada, or Invincible Armada, the great fleet sent by Philip II when he invaded England in 1588, consisted of 130 vessels of a total tonnage of 57,868 tons. The approximate gross register of the new S. S. Normandie will be 75,000 tons—loaded displacement 67,000 tons. This giant super-liner was launched in October, 1932, and will make her maiden voyage from Havre to New York in May, 1935.

TOMORROW: A MAN-WOLF.

ARKY FLASHES IMPROVED FIELDING

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

The all-round play of Shortstop Arky Vaughan has been blending nicely with the daily didoes of Gus Suhr as the Pirates drive toward the top position of the National League. The speedy boy with the wallop at the plate is staying close to the terrific bating clip of Suhr and P. Waner, and Arky's fielding is an improvement over his defense play of his first two seasons in the big show.

Vaughan's contemporaries of the diamond have a great admiration for the youngster's stance and swing at the plate. Arky rarely overswings, and his manner of leevling off on the ball gives him a precision owned by very few players in the league. Moreover, the California kid has tremendous power in his shoulders, which co-ordinate perfectly with hiss trong arms and hands.

APPEARANCE DECEIVING

On account of his youth and boy-like features many fans have the idea that Vaughan is a little fellow, but such is not the case. Arky really is almost six feet, and his weight is approximately 170 pounds, without an ounce of fatty muscle. The shortstop is in the condition of a racehorse, and when he leaves the plate and starts on his dash around the paths, the spectacle is worth viewing.

Arky and his mates reached two Brooklyn pitchers for 12 safeties yesterday as the Pirates made it three in a row over Stengel's club and five home victories in succession. The score was 5 to 2. Bill Swift jumped off to a poor start, but the Scranton hurler stiffened after the second inning, and from that point until the last play the Dodgers made only two bingles off the sidearm hurler. Tony Cuccinello nicked Bill for an over-the-fence homer in the second, and the Dodgers added their other run in the same inning on a single and a double.

GUS ADDS TO STRING

Gus Suhr, ringing up his seventeenth successive game of safe hitting, drove in two runs with a triple to tie the score in the third. Two walks and Grace's single provided what proved to be the winning marker in the fith, and Tommy Thevenow uncorked a sin-

Rosenbloom Loses To Mickey Walker

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—(AP.)—Mickey Walker, old man of the ring, won a 10-round decision from Maxie Rosenbloom, world light-heavyweight champion, in a slow non-title bout which failed to create much excitement among the scant crowd of 5,000 persons here last night. Walker came in at 176 pounds, two lighter than his opponent.

There was nothing about the proceedings for either of the contestants to boast of. Walker built up an early lead, taking the first five rounds and the none too young Rosenbloom was unable to catch up.

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Ellsworth Vines can play on 'his scribe's tennis team! The lank Californian won the distinction last evening by slashing in streaks, flashes and angles to down that widely known veteran campaigner, William Tatem Tilden, II, in unprecedentedly dazzling fashion before nearly 4,000 bewildered fans, who thronged Duquesne Garden for the coming of the profesional net troupe led and sponsored by the redoubtable Big Bill. The decision read 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

In the curtain-raiser, Keith Gledhill, rangy Coast partner of Vines, took a set from Alfred Chapin, Connecticut cack, 6-4, and was trailing at 1-2 in the second canto, when further tilting was curtailed in order to put on the main attraction—a most unsatisfactory way of doing business, when a contest of the best of three frames had been definitely advertized. In the doubles windup, Vines and Gledhill, 1932 national champions, trimmed Tilden and Chapin, who held the New England premiership in '24 and '25, by a 6-2, 6-2 margin.

VINES DISPLAYS FORM

But whether or not the incidental portion of the bill was up to top-flight par, the exhibition of Vines in dispatching the mighty Tilden was by all odds the most impressive piece of tennis ever beheld on a local court.

The Californian started in wobbly fashion with three backhand errors to slip Tilden a valuable break of service in the opening game. Bill sustained his own delivery after two deuces to consolidate the advantage at 2-0 and thereafter games followed service to the end of the set, Tilden pulling up from 15-40 to snatch the final game after the third deuce as Vines netted a return of service and watched Bill click off a placement volley.

Toward the conclusion of set one, Vines had started storming the net behind service. This he continued with added emphasis in the second stanza, while Tilden, unable to handle the blistering delivery on the hard surface with proper degree of finesse, found Ellsworth bumping off placements with ripping regularity. Two outs and as many nets cost Bill his service in the second game of session two and this break, like its predecessor in the inaugural bracket, meant the set.

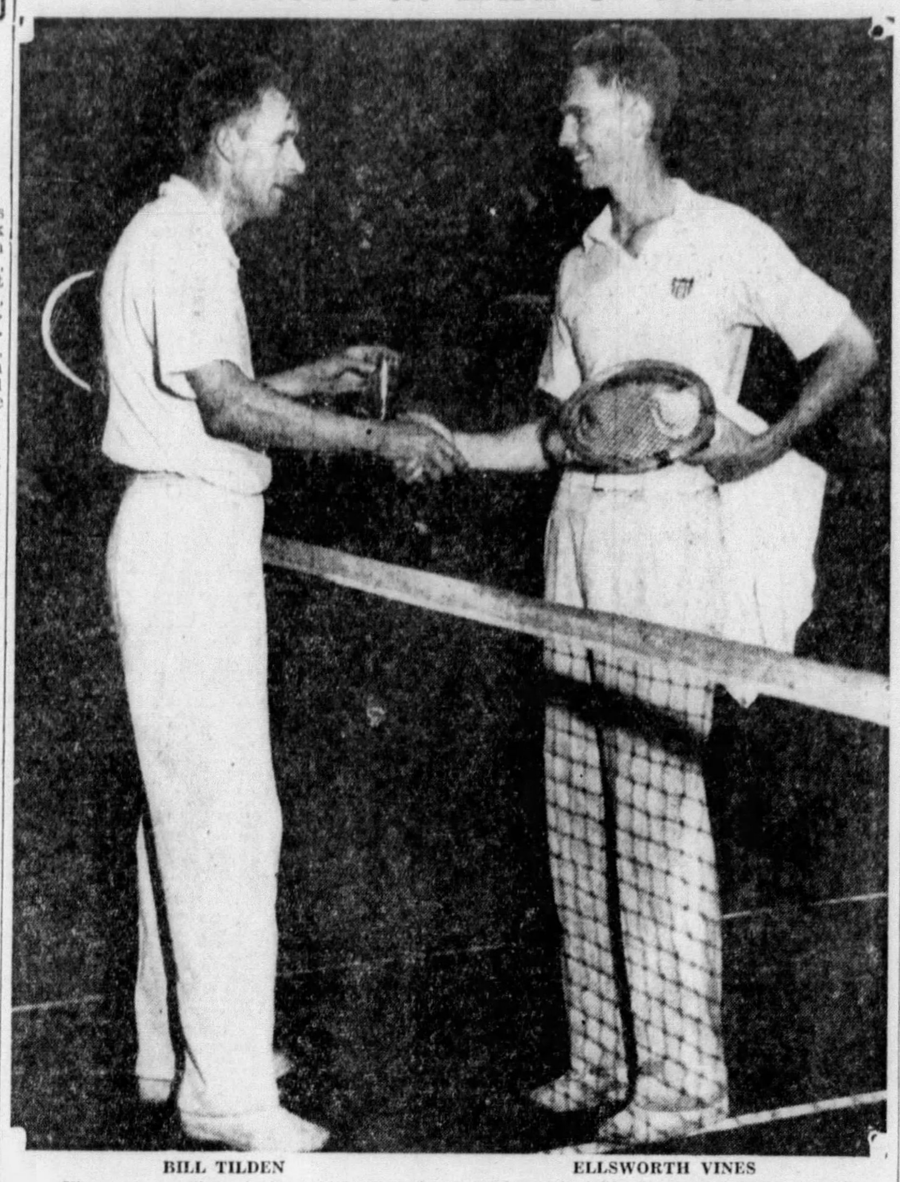
Tilden dropped service again in the third game of canto three, a double fault and a net cord shot combining disastrously against him. Bill regained lost ground, however, in the ensuing game as Vines netted thrice. Delivery then prevailed until Vines held 5-4 edge, at which juncture Tilden committed three bad outs in a row for love-40, whereupon Vines clouted return of service to the corner for clean, passing thrust and set point.

TILDEN CRACKS

Tilden cracked in the fifth game of set four after leading at 40-love, a backhand drive down the line scoring the decisive point for Ellsworth. Bill blew service again in the seventh to trail at 2-5, but he picked one up on his opponent as the latter netted a trio in the eighth. Two double faults, plus a questionable line decision, put Bill in the hole at 15-40. Vines rectified the error by blowing two points for deuce, but a short backhand placement slipped Ellsworth the advantage and it was all over as Bill netted to terminate a brief driving duel.

Vines' terrific service and spectacular volleying and overhead would be enough to ensconce the Coast ace among the tennis greats if he had nothing else. But he supplements these features with a most effective driving style that makes up in unrelenting speed what it lacks in diversity. Even allowing for the possibility that he was better last night than he would ordinarily be—no man could produce such astounding tennis on all occasions—he must be conceded a lofty place among the racquet immortals, both in singles and, with the classy Gledhill, in doubles.

Pro Stars at End of Battle



BILL TILDEN — ELLSWORTH VINES

TENNIS PARTY SATURDAY

The anual pre-season tennis night party of the Pittsburgh Tennis Association has been scheduled for the Pittsburgh Golf Club next Saturday. Following the pattern inaugurated successfully a year ago, the program calls for an abbreviated doubles tournament and the serving of a buffet supper.

Entries are being received by Frank Marcley, manager of the Westinghouse Club. He may be 'phoned at Churchill 0280. All names must be in by 6 p. m. on Friday, the pairings and draw to be made that evening for release in Saturday's papers.

Local varsity net stars are idle today. Dr. Dave O'Loughlin and his Pitt Panthers left this morning for Washington, D. C., where tomorrow they will begin the active portion of a three-day Eastern invasion by taking on Georgetown. On Friday, the Blue and Gold will encounter George Washington University in the capital and on Saturday they will move down country to Annapolis for a clash with Navy. The Pittites are undefeated thus far.

The Panthers were hard pressed to vanquish Carnegie Tech on the Trees Field courts yesterday, but edged through at 5-4. The Pitt Freshies defeated the Tartan Yearlings by the same count. In other collegiate matches, Washington and Jeff downed Geneva, 4-3, at Washington, and Westminster trounced Slippery Rock, 7-0, at New Wilmington.

Robertson Speaker At North Side Y.

Jimmy Robertson, former Carnegie Tech football star, will be the principal speaker at the first annual athletic banquet of the Allegheny Y. M. C. A. at 6:15 this evening. Awards will be given to the boys who served as volunteer leaders as well as the athletes.

gle with the bases jammed in the sixth to add two safety markers.

Van Mungo had so much stuff to show the Pirates he fanned five of them in three innings, but the big boy with all the speed lost his effectiveness as the battle wore on. Suhr's timely triple shook Mungo up considerably. Recruit Herring worked the last two innings for the Dodgers.

Secondbaseman Harry Lavageto was out of the Pittsburgh lineup with severe pains in his back, and Floyd Young went to the second sack, where he performed in a satisfactory manner.

CHILLYSAUCE

Bill Swift seemed to find himself after the Dodgers had socked him for a homer, a double and a single in the second round. The invaders connected for two solid blows in the first, but from the third to the last round the tall righthander made things miserable for Casey and his men.

Bill was in a little jam in the seventh with runners on every base and Dan Taylor at bat. There were two out at the time, yet Taylor came within a few feet of hitting a homer into the rightfield stands. Paul Waner was almost against the concrete when he hauled in the rocket.

Suhr's hitting pace is one of the highest spots in the play of the National League. Gus' three-bagger that tied up yesterday's game had the elements of timeliness and power. Two were out when the slugger drove a fiery blast into the right-center pocket.

Arky Vaughan is the sort of batter who can be used in any important part of the attack. Batting in the cleanup notch since Capt. Traynor's sore arm took him out of the lineup, Arky has uncorked a lot of long hits. He would be a big success as a leadoff batter on account of his speed and punch, and he would fit in well in the second and third notches.

Cookie Lavagetto's illness has been creeping up on him. He has been placed in the care of a physician.

The Pirates pared their roster down to the 23-player limit yesterday when four players were sent out under option. Infielder Bill Brubaker, Catcher Hal Finney and Pitcher Cy Blanton will leave Saturday to join the Albany club of the International League. Southpaw Lloyd Johnson is to go back to the San Francisco Missions for more experience.

YANKEES FACE HARD FIGHT

Associated Press.

If seven other clubs can "gang up" to stop the Yankees, the prospects look very good for the closest American League race in many seasons.

The Yankees today held a 2½-game lead, but the pack, in full cry on their trail, included five clubs bunched within the compass of a game and a half in the standings. Washington's Senators, pursuing a four-game winning streak, took the second notch with a 7-to-6 victory over the White Sox yesterday. Cleveland, victim of Joe Cascarella's pitching and a 2-0 defeat by the Athletics, dropped into a virtual tie for third place with the Detroit Tigers, who whipped Boston, 5-1. The A's and the Red Sox, in turn, tied for fifth, a half game farther back.

Cascarella turned in a brilliant effort as he limited the Indians to three fruitless singles, while Pinky Higgins' triple with one on and a passed ball brought two Philadelphia runs. The Tigers also got good flinging with Tommy Bridges limiting Boston to six blows and holding Carl Reynolds hitless for the first time this season.

Buck Newsom ruined a good pitching job by making two wild pegs past first base in the eighth inning and the Yankees rushed over six runs and beat the St. Louis Browns, 8-3, for their fifth triumph in a row.

The Pittsburgh Pirates advanced into second place in the National League by beating Brooklyn, 5-2, while the Cubs took a 13-6 trimming from the aroused Phillies. The Pirates won easily behind Bill Swift, who gave only three hits in the last seven innings. The Phillies slammed Lynn Nelson to cover before he had retired a man and rolled up 18 hits off three Chicago pitchers to offset Chuck Klein's seventh homer.

The league leading Giants also took a beating when Cincinnati ended an eight game losing streak, 7 to 3, by driving Fred Fitzsimmons to the showers and scoring six runs in the first. St. Louis tightened its hold on fourth place by defeating the Boston Braves, 5 to 4.

Honus Says:

By HONUS WAGNER

Former Star, Now Coach of Pirates.

To the Sports Editor:

I think it was last Sunday that I told about the fellow who never had heard of most of the men who were well known in baseball. Now baseball is not the only thing that brings new spaper fame to people, as there are lots of others who get publicity.

Honus Wagner

But this thing has started me on a funny trail and now somebody tells me this fellow I mentioned is not the only one, as he heard of a woman who never heard of Tammany Hall, which has got publicity for years.

If anybody hears of things like this, why just write me about it, only don't make up stuff, as this is on the level. I want to find out what it's all about.

Regards,

HONUS WAGNER.

Short Sport News

The Chicago White Sox have announced the return of Pitcher John Leon Pomorski to the Montreal club of the International League.

The internal revenue office at Los Angeles has filed a lien in Federal Court, contending Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, owes the government $1,892 as income taxes on his 1931 earnings.

Chuck Klein, of the Cubs, took undisputed possession of first place in the major league home run parade yesterday when he hit his seventh of the season against the Phillies, his former teammates.

The Greensburg club, of the Pennsylvania State League, will open its exhibition schedule Sunday when it plays Jeannette of the same loop.

The Homestead Grays invade Ford City tomorrow for an independent game. Saturday they open a two-game series with Cleveland at Greenlee Field. The second game will be played at the same place Monday. Sunday finds the Grays in Charleroi.

Max Baer, heavyweight title contender, has been suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission for failing to appear when summoned. He is scheduled to meet Primo Carnera for the title in New York, June 14.

X-ray pictures taken in a Washington hospital have disclosed that Al Simmons' skull was not fractured when the Chisox outfielder was hit by a thrown ball in Sunday's game with the Senators. He was reported "feeling fine."

Jimmy Robertson, former Carnegie Tech football star, will be the chief speaker at an athletic banquet of the Allegheny Y. M. C. A. tonight.

Zola Alpert, former Schenley High and Pitt football and basketball star, is home for a visit from Scotland, where he is studying medicine at the University of Glasgow.

The Downtown Y. M. C. A. has set Saturday, May 19, as the date for its annual table tennis tournament.

BOOKS OPPOSE DORMONT IN CITY LOOP

The City Baseball League will offer a curtailed program this evening due to ground conditions encountered by two of the clubs scheduled to play at home. As a result, only one of the three scheduled games will be played, and that will bring together Books, last year's champion, and Dormont on the Dormont High School field.

Charles Chamberlain, burgess of Dormont, will throw the first ball to Bill Maisch, president of the Dormont club, and a band will assist in the flag-raising ceremonies.

The Homewood nine was slated to play Parmelee at Frick Park and the J. J. Vaughans at Mt. Oliver, but both games have been postponed until later in the season.

There is considerable importance attached to the Books-Dormont game inasmuch as Dormont is heralded as the club that champis heralded as the club that the champions must beat to retain their laurels. Co-Managers George Falconer and Billy Fuchs have banded together a strong team to represent Dormont in the City League.

BOOKS, DORMONT WIN

The Books pulled a big surprise yesterday when they signed Leo Carroll, local mound veteran. Carroll apparently could not agree on terms at Dormont and promptly shifted his allegiance to Books. He should prove a valuable addition to Heine Boll's staff.

Books, Homewood and Dormont scored victories in the three City League games played last evening. Books encountered little or no trouble vanquishing the J. J. Vaughans, 11 to 3; Homewood eked out a 3-1 victory over Parmelee and Dormont had a field day in beating Beltzhoover, 14-0.

Johnny Casey, pitcher for the Bellevue Club, just missed hurling a no-hit game as his team defeated the Waner Penn State nine in a West Penn League opener. Casey held the losing aggregation to one hit, his team scoring a 7-1 victory.

The Strip A. A. Club will clash with the Morrison mushers at 6:30 o'clock this evening in a North Side Mushball League game on the Oliver High School field. The Strip team won a slugfest from the Rex Club, 19 to 14, last evening.

The scores of the City League games:

Books	4	2	5
	R.	H.	E.

Batteries—Richards and Lees; Motchie and Sintz.

Lefty Brinker, southpaw pitcher, of Greensburg, was signed by Manager Bill Dalzell, of the Homewood club of the City League, last night. The addition of Brinker should give the East Enders a capable pitching staff for the early season games.

HURLS NO-HIT GAME

FREEDOM, Pa., May 9.—Stanley Phillip pitched a no-hit no-run game here yesterday as the Ambridge P. and A. defeated the Freedom Merchants, 8 to 0, in a Beaver Association baseball game. In the other league game Ambridge Alumni tied the Monaca Merchants, 5 to 5.

Long-Distance Swim Season Opened Here

The long-distance swimming season was opened here this morning when Jack Carson, of New York, plunged into the Ohio's chilly waters at the Point and churned 18 miles downstream in the unofficial time of 3 hours 15 minutes. Clarence Pinkston, former Olympic diving champion, accompanied Carson in a rowboat. The finish was somewhere between Ambridge and Bradley.

Some close and exciting games marked contests played by City League and W. P. I. A. L. baseball teams yesterday.

In the feature game in the City League, Westinghouse defeated Peabody in a thriller, 2 to 1, McMahon's home run in the seventh breaking up a pitchers' battle between Olivo, of Westinghouse, and Amend, of Peabody. Westinghouse got three hits, while Peabody made four.

In other City League tussles, Oliver vanquished South Hills, 6 to 2, while Allegheny Vocational and Langley battled to a 4-4 stalemate. The last-mentioned game was called after nine innings of play.

Edgewood, with the ever-dependable Garbark on the mound, continued its success in the W. P. I. A. L. by disposing of East McKeesport, 7-1. Garbark pitched three-hit ball. McKeesport defeated Elizabeth, 24-4; South Fayette vanquished Cecil, 9-3, and Trinity nosed out Hickory, 3-2, in other W. P. I. A. L. duels.

PANTHERS MEET DUKES

The tri-state intercollegiate golf championship safely in their grasp, the Pitt Panthers are top-heavy favorites to add another victory to their string this afternoon when they meet Duquesne University at the St. Clair Country Club.

On the form shown in previous matches, the Panthers are picked to win with points to spare. The match will enable the Blue and Gold golfers to tune up for their return match with Detroit University in Detroit Saturday. The Panthers defeated Detroit in Pittsburgh earlier in the season, but the Titan linksmen had the misfortune to figure in an automobile accident right before the duel and they were off their game. If Pitt succeeds in passing this hurdle it should go through the season undefeated.

Capt. William A. Palmer, of Shady Side Academy, secretary-treasurer of the Interscholastic Golf Conference, is hard at work arranging plans for a 36-hole medal play tournament for high school golfers. The tourney, if it materializes, will be played at Shady Side Academy Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9. Eighteen holes will be played Friday and the second 18 holes on Saturday.

Under the arrangements planned by Capt. Palmer, the coach of each of the 24 teams enrolled in the Interscholastic Golf Conference will send two players to the tourney. An individual and team champion will be crowned.

TECH TIES WASH-JEFF

Bellevue, Allderdice and Kiski scored victories in their interscholastic golf conference duels yesterday. Allderdice defeated Oliver, 10½ to 4½; Bellevue vanquished Allegheny Vocational, 9 to 6, and Kiski topped McKeesport, 12-3.

Ouimet Announces Walker Cup Lineup

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 9.—(AP.)—Capt. Francis Ouimet has decided upon the lineup of his American squad in the Scotch foursomes which open the two-day Walker Cup golfing series with Great Britain here Friday.

Johnny Goodman will team up with Lawson Little, Ouimet with George Dunlap, Max Marston with Chandler Egan, and Gus Moreland with Jack Westland.

Leonard Crawley, the only Briton to win a single engagement in the last Cup matches, today was substituted for Lionel Munn in the British lineup. Illness forced Munn to withdraw.

BETWEEN ROUNDS

The boxing show planned for Motor Square Garden next Monday night is off. Promoter Jules Beck announced today, due to injuries of two boxers who were to have appeared in feature bouts. Marty Gornick, who was to box Mike Barto, has a bad hand and Charley Burns, who was to meet Mose Butch, injured his nose in training yesterday. Pete Latzo and Anson Green were to box the main bout.

Nick Maloy, Duquesne heavyweight is back in training following the mending of a bad ankle, and would like to meet any of the big fellows. Andy Black is his manager.

The Yarosz-Vince Dundee bout for the middleweight title now is planned for the first week in July instead of in mid-June at Forbes Field. Jules Beck and Lew Raymond have opened negotiations for the use of the baseball park and Max Waxman, manager of Dundee, is due here tomorrow or Friday to close the match.

The amateur boxing show under the auspices of the Red Raven A. A. at Hickey Park, Millvale, planned for tomorrow night, has been set back one week.

TEXAS GIRL MEDALIST

NEW ORLEANS, May 9.—(AP.)—Thirty-two Southern women golfers went into the first round of the annual Southern golf tournament today, the qualifiers in a field of more than 100 which started around the New Orleans Country Club course yesterday. The medalist, youthful Miss Anella Gorczyca, of Fort Worth, Tex., who shot an 81 yesterday, was paired today with Mrs. Dell Guthrie, of Memphis.

HUGE PLAQUE AND FIVE GOLD MEDALS TO BE FORMALLY PRESENTED TOMORROW

For winning the eastern championship in the William Randolph Hearst annual rifle shoot for universities, colleges and essentially military schools, the Carnegie Tech R. O. T. C. team will receive this large silver plaque and individual gold medals. They will be presented at an assembly and review at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow on the campus by Maj. Gen. Adelbert Cronkhite, war-time commander of the 80th Division. This is a Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph picture.

Hearst Events to Boom Summer Sports Here

SOFTBALL ENTRY BLANK

Amateur Softball Tournament Editor,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph:

Please enter my team in your Western Pennsylvania Amateur Softball Tournament.

..... (Team) ..... (Manager).

..... (Address) ..... (Section of City).

(Upon receipt of entry, cards to be filled in with additional information will be sent to managers.)

With two big sports promotions under way for the summer season, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is showing the way in sports recovery under the New Deal in this section.

Both ventures, the William Randolph Hearst Gold Cup outboard motorboat regatta, to be held in conjunction with the Oakmont Boat Club at Oakmont on Saturday and Sunday, July 14-15, and the Western Pennsylvania amateur softball tournament, the senior team winner in which will represent this region in the national tournament at the World Fair in Chicago, appeal to both young and old alike.

Softball, a comparatively new sport hereabouts, will receive a big impetus through the staging of this tournament, and it is expected that within a few years hundreds, if not thousands, of teams will be playing the game, as has been the history in other large communities.

Motorboating, too, will get its first big boom in these parts under the Sun-Telegraph auspices. With the event still more than two months away interest in the speed events already is acute.

An entry blank for teams desiring to play in the softball tournament is published today and will continue to appear daily until entries are closed. Managers are urged to fill it out and mail it in as soon as possible.

Coal Producers Expect Gain In Output

By GEORGE H. SNYDER
Business Editor

THE COAL INDUSTRY in this district is in a dull state at present but a revival is expected as soon as shipments to lake ports start.

The period of exceptional activity in the latter part of March has been followed by extreme dullness. Consumers have been using stocks which they accumulated when there was fear of a strike. With this fear removed, they have been using their surplus supply.

With the exception of producers which have their own docks at lake ports, mines in this district are working only one or two days a week. Large producers with lake docks, such as Pittsburgh Coal Company, have been shipping to the lakes in anticipation of the demand for coal in the Northwest this summer. Mines of such companies have been working at a higher rate.

* * *

Lake Coal Buyers Wait for Prices

THE CODE AUTHORITY for this district has established the price for lake cargo coal from mines in this vicinity. Buyers, however, are waiting for the announcement of prices for competing mines of other territories. As soon as these prices are announced, the usual summer movement of coal to lake ports will start and this business is expected to increase production substantially in the Pittsburgh territory.

A large portion of the coal output of this district each summer is sent to points on the lakes to be loaded into vessels to be sent to points in the Northwest. Most of these boats take coal on their outward trips and return with iron ore from the upper lake regions.

Companies with their own docks have been sending coal to the lakes in anticipation of this business while producers with no lake connections must wait for actual orders.

* * *

Railroads Start Buying More Coal

RAILROADS ALONG with other consumers had accumulated large stocks of coal during March. As a result they bought little coal during April. Since May 1, however, they have resumed buying.

This demand, along with the expected lake business, leads to the belief that coal production will increase materially during the present month.

Naturally, this will be an important contributing factor to the state of general business activity in the Pittsburgh district.

STOCK MARKET HAS DULL SESSION

NEW YORK, May 9.—The stock market's silver lining was not so bright today and trading turned dull and indecisive following the failure of most shares to follow through on the brisk rally of the previous session.

Speculative circles, while conceding that "permissive" legislation for the nationalization of silver and the incorporation in the money reserves of 25 per cent of the metal was entirely possible, apparently were not clear as to just how much or how little of the "permission" might be used by the administration.

Silver futures and some mining shares were reactionary. Grains and cotton were somewhat hesitant. Rubber sagged under further profit-taking. Bonds displayed scattered signs of improvement. Dollar rates were relatively narrow despite the inflationary implications of renewed activities in behalf of silver.

Shares of United States Smelting yielded more than 3 points of their Tuesday's advance and American Smelting was down about a point. Chrysler was firm and Consolidated Gas and Montgomery Ward steady. Declines of fractions to a point or more were registered by Allied Chemical, American Telephone, United States Steel, Goodyear, Case, du Pont, Johns-Manville, United States Rubber, Union Pacific and Santa Fe.

Neither the sugar stocks nor futures were particularly stirred when the President signed the Jones-Costigan sugar bill adding sugar beets and cane to the list of basic commodities. Most of the sugar category was believed to have already discounted the signing. The President, at the same time, announced he had signed the proclamation under the flexible tariff provisions reducing the rate of duty on sugar.

DISCUSS BILL

In addition to the silver problem, Wall street continued to debate the stock exchange bill and speculate upon the form in which it may finally be passed by Congress. It was considered probable that the Senate would make several changes in the measure which, consequently, would have to go back to conference. Another week, or possibly a fortnight, therefore, is expected to elapse before the bill becomes law.

The failure of equities to substantially reflect the recent recovery in commodities was attributed by various commentators to divergent business and economic sentiment. Trade analysts have been attempting for some weeks to figure out profit schedules for different industries under the higher cost basis. Estimating the "net" for some organizations was said to be exceptionally difficult under the circumstances.

POWER DROPS

Electric power output for the week ended May 5, was still considerably ahead of the total in the same period last year, but the rate of increase showed a rather sharp decline. The gain was 13.7 per cent compared with 16.8 in the previous week. For the May 5 week an aggregate of 1,632,766,000 kilowatt hours was recorded as against 1,668,564,000 in the week of April 28. The decline was believed to have been caused by the lowering of production rates in some industries as well as the inauguration of daylight saving time in most sections of the country.

DURABLE GOODS TALK CAUSES CONFUSION

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics, New York University

NEW YORK, May 9.—Talk about the "Durable Goods" industries, as constituting a special problem, continues. It is so illogical, and causes so much confusion in thought, that I wonder if there is some "alibi" or "red herring" back of it.

To get right down to causes, one of the industries that has held up best is automobile production, while coal has been hard hit. But automobiles are "Durable" Goods, while coal is not.

Again, many "Consumer Goods," which are said to be different from "Durable Goods," are highly durable—residences, jewelry and pleasure cars, for example.

Nor is there any clear difference as to the use of credit. Retail grocers extend large credit to consumers. Instalment plans for clothing, etc., require much credit.

1—Producers' goods, or capital goods:
(a) Durable: Industrial buildings, machinery, etc.
(b) Transient: Fuel, raw materialas, goods in process.

2—Consumer goods:
(a) Durable: Houses, automobiles, jewelry, etc.
(b) Transient: Food, Clothing, etc.

OLD ECONOMISTS NEEDED

Some say that the old economists were dealing in economic abstractions, while so-called modern economists are thinking in terms of business recovery. If that is true, it is high time to get back to economic principles. We will never have "business recovery" till we do.

Anyone who does not see the difference between anthracite coal and bituminous coal, residences and industrial buildings, motor trucks and pleasure cars, is blind. And the difference in these cases is the difference between capital goods and consumer goods. In each of these three cases, the durability is similar.

This is the problem which is concerned with high wages and short hours. You see, industrial production is a joint affair. That is, Capital Goods (plant and equipment) and labor have to be used together in producing consumer goods. Both capital and labor have to share in the joint product.

It follows that if we try to give labor too large a share of the product, there will be too little left for capital. Then the capital goods industries will suffer.

RAILROADS HARD HIT

This is one problem of industry today. Under NRA we are in danger of forcing industry to give so much to labor that in many cases there is nothing left for capital. The railways use capital goods, but I read that 34 railways did not earn fixed charges in the first quarter. This is partly because railways are required to employ more laborers and pay higher wages than their earnings allow. And they will never buy much equipment while this is true.

Don't misunderstand me: Laborers have to be provided for. But this is because they are human beings, and as consumers they must have consumer goods in order to live. As producers, however, working in co-operation with capital goods, they have to share with capital and enterprise. And if we force "capital" to pay the necessary "doles" under the disguise of wages, the capital goods industries will continue to suffer.

Other problems may be seen in the effect of high taxes on the demand for capital goods, and in the uncertain value of money as affecting saving and investment in capital goods.

Capital Goods are created only by saving and investment.

All this should make it clear how utterly futile are the various schemes now proposed to stimulate "Durable Goods." From amendments to the securities act, to RFC and "intermediate" Federal Reserve credit loans, all are vain.

The capital goods industries will languish as long as wages are too high, taxes are too high, and the dollar is uncertain as a standard for deferred payments. When it becomes reasonably sure and profitable to save and invest in industry, the capital goods industries will take care of themselves.

GMO Sales Abroad Best Since 1929

NEW YORK, May 9.—Sales abroad of General Motors trucks and cars totaled 20,201 units in April, compared with 18,016 in March. The April figure is 104 per cent greater than April of 1933 and 14 per cent above April 1932. It was the largest total for any month in the corporation's history with the exception of the 1929 and 1928 period. In March General Motors foreign sales were 88 per cent above 1933 and 123 per cent above 1932.

Gasoline Stocks Lower for Week

NEW YORK, May 9.—Gasoline stocks during the week ended May 5 declined 322,000 barrels to 55,689,000 barrels, according to the American Petroleum Institute. Domestic crude output in the week averaged 2,429,500 barrels daily, off 20,750 from the previous week.

Rubber Market.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Crude rubber futures opened weak, 82 to 106 lower. May, 14.00 bid; July, 14.25-30; September, 14.55-89; October, 14.74.

Confidence Of Buyers Restored

By B. C. FORBES

SOME OF my friends are taking advantage of the fall in stock quotations to make rather heavy purchases. They figure that the downswing has gone about far enough.

Mr. Forbes

ONE IMPORTANT investment trust, sponsored by heavyweight financial and business interests, has made a comprehensive investigation into conditions and developments throughout the country. The findings have moved its directors, who were apprehensive not so long ago to make extensive purchases of securities. Here are the conclusions:

"The results of this check confirm us in our opinion that the business recovery is proceeding along conventional lines in surprising degree. The ease in the money market, the existence of a huge untapped credit reservoir and the strength of the bond market combine to support this confidence.

"While, during the first quarter, we felt that the uncertainties of the industrial situation were such that it was desirable to consolidate our position by reducing the holdings of common stock, we have, more recently, and in spite of the many political uncertainties still existing, reinvested approximately half of the sum then realized in dividend-paying common stocks."

The mail coming to this column reveals that many persons of moderate means are now contemplating investing part of their savings. They are hopeful that Congress will act rationally and that, as a consequence, the Nation will enjoy a larger measure of business improvement.

PRESIDENT L. S. CATES, of Phelps-Dodge, tells me that the newly-adopted copper code promises to bring substantial benefits to the industry.

As in the case of oil and many other commodities, the copper industry has been plagued by over-production. And, inevitably, unregulated over-production brought about unprofitable prices.

A representative copper code authority has been set up, clothed with powers which, it is believed, will prove effective in preventing further demoralization of this important industry.

Incidentally, the high prices now obtainable for silver and for gold have greatly benefited many mining companies, including Phelps-Dodge. The tariff of four cents a pound on copper imports has greatly helped American producers not dependent heavily on foreign subsidiaries.

WASHINGTON'S PROPOSALS to make loans for renovating homes are more sensible than many other species of public expenditures.

Private building operations long have been disastrously stagnant. Nor has public construction yet reached anything approaching the maximum for which Federal funds have been appropriated.

I have questioned bankers and other visitors from many states as to the condition of farm and other buildings. In almost every instance the reply has been that vast amounts of improvements are urgently needed but that the owners have not had the necessary money for several years.

One vital part of Britain's recovery program was a nationwide home-building program.

If funds could be borrowed on easy terms, repayment spread over a long period, many hundreds of thousands of individuals and families would gladly renovate and modernize their homes.

Moreover, if owners of apartment houses, hotels, office-buildings and the like could obtain the wherewithal from governmental or other lending agencies, many of them would institute air conditioning.

After a number of builders furnished domestic refrigeration, owners of other large apartment houses discovered that, in order to retain and attract tenants, it was essential that they do likewise.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE

NEW YORK, May 9.—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 3 higher to 2 lower with steady Liverpool cables offset by favorable weather and predictions of mill curtailment. May, 11.38; July, 11.48; October, 11.63; December, 11.74; January, 11.79; March 11.90.

The market showed a sagging tendency later in the morning, with reactionary sentiment encouraged somewhat by more favorable weather news. The weekly weather report said it had been fair and warm in the cotton belt with precipitation light to moderate, and that on the whole conditions were favorable for the crop.

After selling off to 11.35 for July and 11.63 for December, or about 10 to 13 points net lower, the market steadied on further trade buying or covering, and prices rallied a few points from the lowest. At mid-day July was holding around 11.39, with active months showing net losses of 9 to 10 points.

LONDON, May 9.—(AP.)—A bitter attack on "government interference" with the wheat trade was made today by Sir Herbert Robson, head of the London Grain Exchange and one of the delegates to the world wheat conference which is struggling with the minimum price plan and other problems here.

Sir Herbert spoke at a British luncheon club during a recess of the conference, which appeared today to have been blocked in its efforts to arrive at a price agreement.

Sugar Market.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Raw sugar was quiet today and no sales were reported, although it developed that late yesterday a refiner bought 36,000 bags of Philippines due the second half of this month at 2.82c, a gain of 2 points above the last sale in the same position. Holders this morning were generally asking 2.86c, with buyers at 2.82c but only in suitable positions.

Futures were quiet during the early trading awaiting the signing of the sugar bill by the President. The undertone was steady and prices advanced 1 point on the call and gained another point during the later trading on covering and buying by commission houses, promoted by the continued steadiness in the spot market.

News of the signing of the bill was followed by a little more commission house buying but the demand was supplied by liquidation through trade houses and there was little further change in values.

September contracts sold from 1.65c to 1.67c and March from 1.78c to 1.79c, or about 2 points above the previous close, with the market at midday holding around the best.

Refined was unsettled and while one local refiner reduced prices 10 points to the basis of 4.20c for fine granulated, others continued to hold at 4.30c, but were accepting orders at 10 points below this level.

Silver Market.

LONDON, May 9.—Bar silver strong, 11-16 higher at 19 13-16d.

+ OBITUARY +

Mrs. Elizabeth Gammon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gammon, the widow of William G. Gammon, died Monday afternoon at her home, 1128 Macon avenue, Regent Square, at the age of 63. She was a life-long resident of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Gammon was a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Wilkinsburg, and a charter member of the Congress of Woman's Clubs of Western Pennsylvania.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Edward Haynes; three sons, William G. Gammon, Jr., Albert C. Gammon, of Pittsburgh, and Harold T. Gammon, of St. Louis; three grandchildren; three sisters, and one brother.

Funeral services were held today at H. Sansom funeral home, 537 Neville street.

Floyd Cannon.

Requiem high mass was celebrated at the Resurrection Catholic Church this morning for Floyd Cannon, 32, of 220 Capitol avenue, West Liberty, who died Sunday.

Mr. Cannon was a candidate for district chairman of the Nineteenth Ward in the coming primaries. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Cannon; two brothers, Stephen and James Cannon, of Pittsburgh, and six sisters, Miss Hilda Cannon, of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Clarence Rice, Mrs. Paul Farrell and the Misses Mary, Clare and Nellie Cannon, of Pittsburgh.

Walter H. Scott.

Walter H. Scott, of 1311 Hillsdale avenue, Dormont, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held at his home at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

He leaves three sisters, Edith Scott, Myra Croft and Elva Graham.

Chickie's Daughter

CHAPTER LXV.

Pippin sat at her desk turning sheets of yellow paper. Paula Meade took the cigaret from her mouth, blew the smoke upward and pouted. Paula was petite and seductively made. She had dewy brown eyes and a pink mouth that was small but very full. She wore her soft brown hair always in a Dutch cut with the bangs coming down almost to her eyebrows. Paula knew and emphasized every winsome inflection of voice, face and form. Just now she wore a white sport dress which too plainly revealed her budding figure.

"You've been turning those pages for an hour, Pippin! You haven't said a word. Don't you think it's pretty good?"

Pippin glanced up, noted the languid movie-actress air with which Paula blew the smoke from her lips, noted with a flash of anger the white silk clinging to Paula's figure. She said with much more heat than she intended:

"It's impossible!"

Paula slowly pressed the lighted end of her cigaret into the ash tray.

"Prof. Brown didn't seem to think it was impossible. He told me to work it over. I thought you could probably give me a few suggestions, Pippin."

"I do, of course."

"Then you have to change the idea and brighten the lines."

Paula pouted and protested.

"I worked for weeks and weeks getting this thing together. I don't want to throw it all overboard."

"But you'll have to, Paula. This is really dull."

Pippin Rewrites Play

That was the way it started. The campus magazine had a contest for one-act plays. Paula Meade wanted to enter but she had no experience. She coaxed and implored Pippin to help her.

Pippin, busy with her own work, refused. But in a weak moment she read over Paula's effort. She changed this character, then that. She worked two or three evenings until midnight. Before long she was blazing with interest. Paula's idea was entirely discarded. Pippin substituted one of her own.

For three nights Paula worked along with Pippin. Then she grew restless. She wanted to go dancing. Men waited for her in the living room. She would run down the stairs with excuses, then run back, work 10 or 15 minutes, then run down again.

After much protesting and fuming, Paula kept her dates. Pippin didn't really care. She had a good idea. The lines came bubbling and bright. The whole thing was hers and she knew it. She was glad to be free of Paula.

Kathleen had plenty to say.

"Why should you do all the work, Pippin, and let her horn in on the glory? You know she hasn't contributed a word."

"But she suggested going in for it."

"Oh, yes, and if you win she'll take all the credit. Why don't you submit it alone?"

"I can't do that now. We've started it together and, anyway, it's a lot of fun."

But the last night Pippin said to Paula: "Now you stick around here and we'll polish up the whole thing."

Argue Over Play

"It's polished enough. How can you be so sure you're right, Pippin? Those lines don't sound any better to me than the ones you've scratched out."

"But they are better, Paula. You can begin typing."

"I have a date with Archie Ramsey. We're going to the city dancing."

"But the play has to be submitted by tomorrow afternoon, Paula. It will be a pip but we've simply got to work the rest of the night on it."

Paula went to the phone, pretended to ring up Archie Ramsey. She came back and said to Pippin:

"I can't reach him. Can't we work on this tomorrow?"

"No, we can't! I have an anatomy lab from eight till twelve and pathology from one to five. If you want the glory of writing this play you can give up the pleasure and we can get it finished by midnight. After all, Paula, you started this. You got me into it."

"Well, I only wanted you to help me a little, Pippin! I think the skit is all right now. I'm going to submit it just as it is."

Pippin looked at her in surprise. "YOU'RE going to submit it?"

"Oh, don't get sore, Pippin. I'm grateful for the help you've given me and all that, but after all, as you just finished saying, I started it and I had the idea."

Pippin looked at her with narrowed eyes and flaming cheeks.

"Let's get this straight right now, Paula. The plot is mine. You helped write some dozen lines. The rest is written entirely by me. You were not even present. Have you the nerve to think you'll submit it as suits your pleasure and I have nothing to say?"

Paula winked very rapidly.

"What are you getting so angry about, Pippin? Of course you have something to say. I only meant that it's a darby as it is. We'll spoil it if we work over it any more."

"All right, Paula. You go dancing. I'll finish up the skit. But you've got to type it tomorrow."

Pippin worked until 2 o'clock that morning. The one-act play was finished. She thought it a gem. It was gay with a breeze-like, singing quality. The best thing she had ever done. She felt very proud.

Two weeks later the magazine was published.

"Amazon Isle," a one-act play by Paula Meade, received the prize. The morning and evening newspapers of San Francisco carried pictures of Paula. They quoted from the play.

There was no mention of Pippin's name.

"What did I tell you?" said Kathleen, smothered with fury. "I knew that little rotter would crook you somehow."

They went to Paula.

Pippin said: "You typed off the play. How did you come to omit my name? That's worse than thievery."

Paula started to speak, changed her mind and stuttered: "I can't understand it. I don't know how it happened."

They went to Colleen Lowell, who was the head of the sorority. Colleen made Paula admit just what had happened.

Admits Play Theft

Colleen said: "I've had enough of your kind of chiseling! What DID you do? You either tell it here or I'll have it blazed all over the campus. Take your choice."

After a long hot hour, Paula admitted the facts. She had typed the play and deliberately left off Pippin's name. But really the idea was hers! She had a darby of a skit all written. It was better than the prize winner! It would have won. Pippin threw it overboard. And after all, she was the one who suggested entering the contest.

And yes, she had posed for the newspapers. She had taken all credit. Also she had been notified six days previous that "Amazon Isle" had won. She had not shared the happy news with Pippin, nor told anyone that Pippin was co-author.

When they were alone, Colleen said to Pippin:

"I'll do whatever you want about this. She'll be punished. That won't help you. You can of course go to the committee and get your rights. But it will get into the newspapers. There'll be a nice mess—sorority sisters knife each other for college honors. Does it mean that much to you?"

At that moment, Pippin thought it meant more to her than anything else in the world. All those sparkling, happy lines of which she had been so proud! And the way she had boasted joyfully to Kevin!

The skit would be produced as a curtain-raiser for the Drama Club's play. She would have to sit quietly and let Paula take the credit.

Too Late

Trembling and afraid that she might cry, Pippin looked straight before her. Then she got up and walked quietly from the room.

It was too late to do anything now.

Kevin drove down that same evening.

He said: "How did it happen?" and was angry for her and wanted to wring Paula's neck.

She could scarcely bring herself to talk of it.

"It's hard, isn't it, when someone you trust steals up and cuts your throat. I worked with a fellow on a chemistry problem in my first year of medicine. When we were finished, he got the bright idea of writing a paper. Didn't say a word to me but quietly included all my work as his own."

"It happened to you, too, Kevin?" She felt warmed and comforted and near to him.

"I love it that you came to see me," she remarked.

A TRAITOR GENERAL—A HEROINE, SOLDIER'S WIDOW

In June, 1778, the British evacuated Philadelphia, troops under Gen. Clinton moving across New Jersey toward New York. Gen. Washington ordered Gen. Charles Lee to attack the British. Lee manoeuvered treacherously and commanded, after little skirmishing, a retreat. The arriving Washington deprived Lee of command, turned troops to renewed attack, near Freehold, Monmouth County, compelling the British to withdraw.

ACIDS, BASES, SALTS

Water solutions of acids taste sour, turn litmus (an indicator) red, yield hydrogen ions (+ charged). Salts are obtained by replacing hydrogen ions of an acid by metal ions.

Base-solutions feel soapy, turn litmus blue, yield hydroxyl-ions (—charged) and metal ions (+ charged). Base and acid neutralize each other, giving salt (by union of metal and acid-radical-ions) and water (by union of hydrogen and hydroxyl-ions), this being the main feature of neutralization. E. g. NaOH + HCl=NaCl + H2O + 13,700 cal. (freed heat-energy).

Equal volume of normal solutions of acids and bases neutralize each other. Concentration of either can be determined by titration (above) if concentration of one is known. At end-point (color-change of litmus): Volume of acid/ volume of base-solutions = normality of base/ normality of acid. (Chemistry)

JOHN PAUL JONES CAPTURES THE SERAPIS

French alliance enabled Washington to change the desperate situation of the cause of liberty in 1778 to a more hopeful one. A French fleet under command of D'Estaing appeared in American waters (July 1778). The young Gilbert Mottier, Marquis de Lafayette, already fought on Washington's side on his own account. So did the German generals, De Kalb and Von Steuben, the Polish Kosciusko and Pulasky, besides others.

The struggle took impetus all over the Atlantic when joining France, also Spain and Netherlands fought British ships, which travelled in huge convoys. John Paul Jones, a Scotchman, settled in Va., was America's foremost Revolutionary naval hero. His most gallant feat was the capture of the British Serapis out of a huge convoy near England (Sept. 23, 1779). (U. S. History)

THREE CENTURIES OF ROME TOLD BY SCULPTURES

Emperor Galba, successor of Nero (68-69) was assassinated, Otho proclaimed emperor in Rome, while Vitellius was acclaimed emperor by the legions in the German provinces and Vespasianus (engaged with his son Titus in the war against the Hebrews) by his soldiers in the East. In the ensuing civil war Vespasianus' rivals perished; he became sole ruler (69), later giving a share in government to Titus, who had destroyed Jerusalem (left) and followed him as emperor (79-81). Vespasianus' reign is also remembered for the final conquest of Britain.

The first two centuries after Christ are called good years in Roman history for their relative peacefulness, though Christians were persecuted with great cruelty and several tyrants shed much blood. The most famous and infamous emperors are shown above.

The third century brought raids of invaders and civil wars. Emperor Diocletian (284-306) restored order temporarily. Constantin, the Great (306-337), unified the divided empire under his sole rule. It fell apart after his death. Though unified once more (394-395) under Theodosius, it was bound to collapse soon under the tidal wave of the enclosing barbarians.

FIRST SUSTAINED FLIGHT WITH HEAVIER-THAN-AIR CRAFT

Orville and Wilbur Wright built successful gliders and after years of experimenting, fitted a bi-plane glider with a 16 h. p. gasoline motor at Kittyhawk, N. C.

Launching it from a track by a falling weight, Orville Wright rose into the air with the 'strange contraption" (as it was ridiculed) on Dec. 17, 1903, and remained there first for 12, then for 59 seconds. For the first time a human being flew under controlled power giving a tremendous impetus to the conquest of the air, one great achievment of man. (Gen. Science)

There's Plenty of Time

There's a town clock in Europe that ain't been right for six centuries. The butchers set their scales by it.

Strange thing about municipal chronometers if that's the word. We don't mind 'em being wrong in the daytime. But why light 'em up after dark and continue the deception?

We lived in a town where the city hall steeple was four-square. There was a clock in each square. They all acted like they were grieving for the last administration. Every one of them was as wrong as a bad boy's company.

When it was six to the south it was seven to the north and eight to the west and vice versa until exhausted. The only way we could come anywhere near the right time was to add all the dials up and divide the result by four.

That's all right. But it is complicated by daylight saving in the East. Which adds an hour to your excuses when you are late for an appointment and takes nothing off when you are early.

It compounds the mental arithmetic if you are going anywhere. City time is different from boat time, and train time is always subject to change without notice. It's a relief to see a street car come along every three minutes. A motorman banging away at a gong is far more educational and instructive than having a certified public accountant figuring out the percentage of a traveler dovetailing with a schedule at a whistle stop.

We see no reason why it cannot be 2 o'clock in New York and San Francisco at the same time. We have waited until 12 p. m. in New York to telephone at midnight club rates only to find that it is still nine in California. And when your Californian correspondent calls you up at midnight over the Rockies the day rates are on again in the East. The difference in supposed time doesn't seem to do anybody any good. The voices on both ends are sleepy, exhausted and elapsed.

The big boat lines make some provision for daylight saving time in New York. You can always catch a boat even if you're seven hours late. It takes the captain three days to pull up the anchor, the gangplanks and unloosen all the ropes tied to the wharf. Wouldn't it be a nice idea if the railroad people tried the same plan in Union Station? Every passenger in every window would have a rope and would cast off when he was sure his pal had made the train.

This is only a suggestion. But until we get some standardized time it ain't a bad one. We hope the handicap committee takes this up.

ODD FACTS

Rats are vain, according to Dr. W. Dodd, official rat catcher of Fleetwood, Lancashire, England, who gets the best results by placing mirrors behind his traps.

Oysters bought by a man at Lo Rochelle, France, were put overnight on a shelf in a larder. In the morning he found two mice with their heads caught between the shells.

A blind horse, ridden by a short-sighted jockey, recently won a trotting match at Vincennes; there were 15 other horses running.

At Pre-Depression Level

Exports of American Iron and Steel Reach Impressive Figures

In respect to one branch of industry in which Pittsburgh is peculiarly interested it appears to be.

The Pittsburgh office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce reports that iron and steel products exported from the United States in March, the latest month for which complete figures are available, REACHED THE HIGHEST VOLUME FOR ANY MONTH SINCE JULY, 1929. Note the month and year to which it has been necessary to go back to find iron and steel exports in equal volume—July, 1929—when business was booming.

Total shipments in March amounted to 261,269 gross tons, which compares with 151,184 tons in February and 80,567 in March, 1933.

One swallow does not make it summer, nor do iron and steel exports for one month at the pre-depression level necessarily mean that prosperity has returned. But they give optimists encouragement to believe that they are on the winning side of the argument.

A Job for the PWA

The Beaver-Mahoning Waterway Should Be Financed by the Federal Government.

Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, recommends that the improvement of the Beaver and Mahoning Rivers to provide an all-water route from Youngstown to the Ohio River be financed by an allotment from the Public Works Administration. It is a sensible recommendation.

Certainly local communities should not be asked to assume part of the cost. Western Pennsylvania has fared badly enough, as it is, without being asked to put up any more money for Federal projects. This section is one of the heaviest contributors of taxes to the United States Treasury, but received next to nothing of the original PWA grant of three billion, three hundred millions of dollars.

The Federal Government can finance the undertaking without misgivings. The improvement of this waterway, which may eventually lead to a water connection between the Ohio and Lake Erie, will benefit not only the communities along its banks but the whole nation; for the low-cost transportation which will be provided will be appreciated by consumers of the products of the Mahoning and Beaver Valleys in all of the states.

The enthusiastic approval given the project by the Board of Army Engineers, after an exhaustive survey of the tonnage possibilities and the physical feasibility, is another reason for going ahead with it as early as possible at Federal expense.

He Swears He Will

Frank S. Haas, of Ingram, a candidate for the Legislature in the Twelfth District, has gone before Justice of the Peace James W. Watson and taken an oath that if elected he will strive to modernize the State Constitution, so as to get rid of antiquated and inefficient governmental methods that have come down to us as a heritage from oxcart days.

Such zeal for this desirable reform is commendable. Although it is scarcely necessary to put the pledge in the form of an affidavit, it would be well if all candidates would make some such promise. Then the people could be assured of relief from the tax burden that the present multiplicity of administrative units and officeholders imposes.

Let some of the counties, townships, school districts and poor districts that were formed a hundred years ago, when the means of travel and communication were primitive, be consolidated with others, and there will be a marked improvement in local government, in respect to both economy and efficiency.

Low-Cost Vacations

The State Forests Are Inviting, and So Is the Appalachian Trail

Secretary Lewis E. Staley, of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, makes a suggestion that should appeal to lovers of the outdoors who are looking for an attractive place in which to spend an inexpensive vacation.

"Come to the state forests," he says. The Commonwealth has 1,647,880 acres of public forests. There is good fishing in many of the streams traversing these woodlands. You can lease a camp site from the State for 10 years at a low rental and put up your own cottage if you like. Fifty public camps are administered for tourists.

The American Civic Association calls attention in a current publication to another kind of vacation that should make an appeal to many Pennsylvanians—a walking trip through the mountains. Did you ever hear of the Appalachian Trail? It is a 2,050-mile footpath which follows the Appalachian Mountain ridges from Maine to Georgia.

The Potomac Appalachian Trail Club, of Washington, D. C., has published a guide book covering in detail the 612 miles of the Appalachian Trail from the Susquehanna River, near Harrisburg, to the Virginia-Tennessee boundary. This takes you through the Shenandoah National Park, two national forests and two state forests and includes some of the finest scenecy in the eastern United States.

Not a Quaker

Some Gratifying Information Is Given Out About John Dillinger.

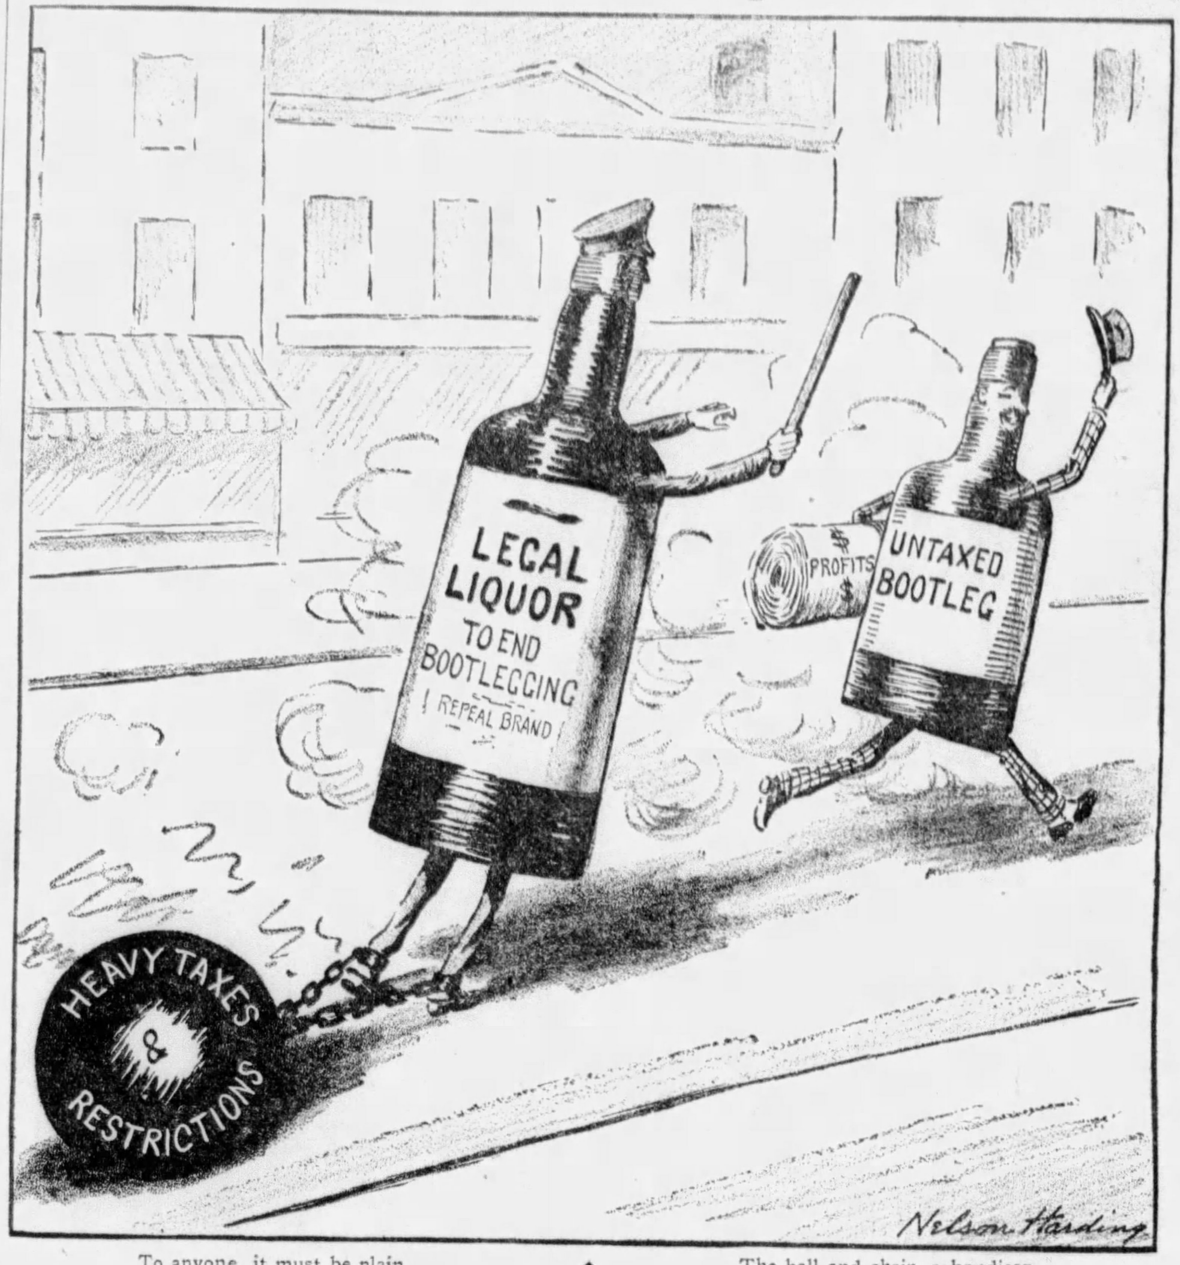
This state was founded in large part by Friends, or Quakers, and takes its name from a Quaker. Pennsylvanians, to a greater extent, perhaps, than the people of other states, hold the sect in high regard.

Hence the report that John Dillinger, the outlaw, is a Quaker was disconcerting. It is gratifying to learn that it is untrue.

Some Pennsylvania Quakers have taken the trouble to investigate. They say that the outlaw's father and stepmother are not members of the Society of Friends and never have been, but that some of their children have attended the Friends' meeting at Mooresville, Ind., and two of the girls have united in membership with the meeting.

While aware, of course, that even the finest families sometimes produce scoundrels, Pennsylvanians will take a peculiar satisfaction in this clearing of the skirts of the Quakers of any responsibility for Dillinger.

Another Outlaw Still at Large -:- By Nelson Harding



To anyone, it must be plain
Why this pursuer cannot gain
Upon the fugitive we see
Still prosperously roaming free.

Prevents the closing of the gap.
The legal brand cannot compete
When manacles retard its feet.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, May 9.—Charles G. Shaw, often a first nighter with George Jean Nathan and Ernest Boyd, seems the most conspicuous dilettante in the town at the moment. He is in appearance perhaps the perfect model if C. D. Gibson had drawn his Gibson men in this decade.

As a gourmet, he has written one of the most satisfying books on New York restaurants. He knows as much about wines of France as Julian Street, has contributed numerous essays to Vanity Fair and was a substitute critic of the drama on the New Yorker for a while.

Recently he shelved all literary aspirations to turn to painting, transferring impressions of the Manhattan scene to canvas in a brand new style, neither imitative nor conforming to the strokes of any other school. His efforts won him an exhibit at Valentine's.

Those who know the surprising depths of his genius, although he has never displayed any musical talent, expect his next artistic venture to be in the realm of tone harmony. It would not surprise to hear of him giving a piano recital at Town Hall any day now.

* * *

It strikes me, incidentally, the modern pianist has entirely stifled the flourishes that added so much to the art. The leading piano player in our town used to twirl the piano stool several times, then fix her skirts, place her hands just so on the keys, indulge an affected little cough, and, as Earl Mauck used to say, "thumb off a tune."

* * *

New York has many beautifully named newspaperwomen. Among them I notice such as Peggy Foldes, Ethel Ince, Mary Dougherty, Helen Worden, Julia Blanshard, Jean Lyon, Jane Dixon and Josephine Ober. But my favorites of all writing names continues to be Faith Baldwin and Kathleen Norris.

* * *

Theatrical producing seems to foment the bitterest rivalries. Ziegfeld was constantly rowing with George White and Earl Carroll. The Shuberts and Klaw and Erlanger battled royally for years. Even the more docile Sam H. Harris and George M. Cohan quit speaking for a long stretch. And more recently Jed Harris canceled a liner reservation when he learned Max Gordon was aboard. The serenest of the entrepreneurs is likely Brock Pemberton. He travels alone—bowing to all but waltzing with none.

* * *

Social Registers no longer coalesce into the great leveling of the American scene. They have always suggested the high nosed sniffs of star boarders in second-rate boarding houses, but lately they have become laughable. Dropping, for instance, Mrs. Gene Tunney because her husband happened to be a champion boxer. This year Philadelphia added to the hilarity by summarily booting Mrs. Ludlow Ogden Smith out of its newest edition. And at exactly the same time Mrs. Smith who is none other than Katharine Hepburn, was with loud beating of cymbals given the highest motion picture award for artistry in the land. One of New York's social leaders recently demanded her name be dropped. "It brings me too much circular advertising," she croaked.

* * *

In a Madison avenue shop one day I recognized in the saleswoman a person about whom there had been much newspaper buz-fuzz as a Social Registrite in reduced circumstances. Her alertness was rather anguished and I felt depressingly low caste. In the cliche, an aisle manager loitered up within ear shot and all of a sudden I felt desperately sorry. I purchased a trifle I did not need but so the overlord in the ledger-ruled trousers might hear, I said: "I've always wanted to be waited upon by a Social Registrite. This is a thrill!" I think the lady believed me, for she fairly beamed. Just a boy scout!

One of those old-fashioned and brightly lit homemade candy parlors has opened on West 44th street. A mustached Hercules, a ringer for Tommy Meighan, in a natty sport shirt and flannels lassoes huge saffron strands of taffy on wall hooks in breathless one-man tugs of war until they are pulled cream white. Next day when I went back to the fascinating spot I noticed a window card "Boy Wanted." If there is a juvenile career topping that of assistant to a candy puller, I don't care to hear of it. My youth was—curses on the inventor of the mandolin!—entirely too mis-spent as it was.

Teach Them to 'Snap Into It!"

If I were revising our present educational system, I'd create a new course of instruction, to be included in the program of every year, from kindergarten through college. I don't know what academic name I'd give this course, but I know what its purpose would be.

IT WOULD TEACH THE YOUNGSTERS HOW TO "SNAP INTO IT"!

In my job, I'm a trouble shooter. Every day several hundred letters from unhappy human beings come to my desk. Most of these human beings are unhappy because they're unsuccessful. And they're unsuccessful because—

THEY'VE NEVER LEARNED HOW TO "SNAP INTO IT"!

They are good people. They have sensible ideas. They're willing to work. If you gave them a job, they'd work at it eagerly, conscientiously, tirelessly. Yet nine out of 10 of them would fail. Why?

BECAUSE THEY DON'T KNOW HOW TO FIT THEIR JOBS TO THE TEMPO OR SPIRIT OF 1934.

They can do what is needed, "if you give them time to think about it." They can turn out a satisfactory job, "if you let them do it in their own way."

BUT THEY GO TO PIECES IF THEY'RE HURRIED OR WORRIED, IF THEY'RE FORCED TO WORK UNDER MASS PRESSURE, MASS SPEED.

In other words, the majority of people today are being taught to work by the conditions of 1834 rather than the conditions of 1934.

Workers (and bosses as well) had 12-hour days in 1884, as against our eight or six hour days. BUT THEY WERE LEISURELY HOURS. And the pace was adapted to the HUMAN MACHINE OF FLESH AND BONE, not to some fierce, swift nerveless STEEL MECHANISM.

Fifty years have passed and, if one reckons by changes, the world has whirled ahead 500 years. But our youngsters are still being taught to work by the tempo of 1884. Why?

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE BEHIND THE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM ARE, FOR THE MOST PART, STILL LIVING IN THAT LEISURELY INDIVIDUALISTIC WORLD OF 1884. THE MACHINE AGE HAS NOT AS YET INVADED THE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Educators still exist in a place apart. They work hard, but they work at their own pace and under specialized conditions. They have long vacations. They have unique protection and privileges. They know little or nothing of the ruthless speed and pressure which other workers must face. And so they seldom prepare their pupils to face such speed or pressure.

Our schools (private, parochial or public) give excellent instruction in technique. They perform splendid service. But much of that excellent instruction and splendid service is wasted.

It is wasted because the instructors do not teach the one essential thing—THEY DO NOT TEACH THE CHILD HOW TO SNAP INTO IT.

They do not teach this to the child because few of them know how to snap into it, themselves!

This is not an attack on our school system. Nor is it a eulogy of our present speed age. Personally I consider our speed age an abomination, but until we have something better children must live in it; must learn how to work in it. And the schools should teach them.

But in only one department does a youngster receive adequate preparation for modern life. What's that? THE FIRE DRILL.

Am I kidding? I am not. A child is taught to SNAP INTO IT in the fire drill. He isn't allowed to "think it over" or "do it in his own way." HE SCRAMS!

The work life of 1934 is a continuous Fire Drill. If you don't teach a youngster to SNAP INTO IT he's lost. But he can be taught. How? In countless simple ways. By both oral and physical exercises. By SCRAM drills at every age, along every line of thought.

MARRY-GO-ROUND

By Helen Rowland

No-Man's-Land

What chance has a man against a woman, at this time of year? What SAY has a mere husband in the things which concern him most—the place where he shall live, the sort of bed in which he must sleep, or even the chair and the corner in which he must sit to read his newspaper?

Not a glimmer — not an ectoplasm of a chance! No man has ever been consulted about such things. No woman has ever thought to ask a man what color scheme he preferred for his own room or where he wanted his bed set up. Yet, every spring, a man is practically torn up by the roots and planted in a brand new environment, so that he feels like a gold-fish out of its bowl.

* * *

Whether the Little Woman is opening the country house, refurnishing the beach bungalow or merely "doing over" the old apartment and changing the furniture around, this is the most painful period of the year for the man, who doesn't know what terrifying new thing he is coming home to, evenings.

* * *

A man is a creature of habit, and he HATES change! Even a new chintz cover on his favorite padded armchair or a new shade on his reading-lamp makes him feel like a "lost soul" for weeks.

* * *

Woman has tormented men for ages by her passion for the vagaries of interior decoration. She has put him through the endurance test of stiff Queen Anne furniture, the horrors of back-breaking mission furniture, the rigidity of Colonial furniture and the painful insecurity of Louis Quinze furniture. And now, she is trying to fold him up into modernistic furniture, which scarcely gives a normal-sized man room to stretch his legs.

* * *

But she never asks a man what he wants or what he LIKES! When a woman decides on a color scheme or a "period," a man HAS to take it and like it!

* * *

A man likes colorful, cheerful, welcoming rooms. These cold, operating room, modernistic effects depress his spirits and suppress his soul. They seem to be calling him to the monastic life and eternal bachelorhood.

* * *

A man likes a simple, inviting, uncluttered living room with plenty of space to spread out in and plenty of places where he can scatter newspapers, pipes and books. But some women just can't bear a room in which every spot is not filled or "decorated"—like a showroom at an auction sale.

Most of all, a man likes to feel, after a hard day at the office, that he can go home in the serene confidence that he will find his favorite armchair, his old housecoat, and his comfy old slippers waiting for him. And it's always a shock to discover that the chair has been sent to the upholsterer's, the slippers have gone to the ashman and the janitor is wearing the old coat (burnt holes and all)!

But what can he DO about it? This is the time of year when HOME is "No-Man's-Land"!

Crucial Hearing Due Soon On League Court

By James T. Williams, Jr.

NEXT week "THE great committee of the Senate"—as the Committee on Foreign Relations has long been known—will hold a hearing which will virtually concern every American, whether native born or naturalized.

This hearing will be upon the proposal now before the committee that the United States enter the League of Nations by accepting membership in the League Court. This court is called the World Court by its proponents who seek in that way to divert the attention of the American people from the fact that the court is in reality the judicial branch of the League.

The court was organized by the League, paid by the League and serves the League by rendering advisory opinions upon questions submitted by the League. The official title of the court is "the Permanent Court of International Justice of the League of Nations."

The nickname "World Court" has been devised for home consumption on this side of the Atlantic. It is just a trick of the League propagandists to fool gullible Americans into believing that the League Court is independent of and separate from the League of Nations.

There is much to be said for the propagandists who are trying to get the Senate to ratify the treaty by the terms of which the United States would be dragged into the League through the back door of its court—these propagandists know from experience that no senator can be returned to the Senate who makes the entrance of this country into the League, whether by front or back door, the paramount issue of his campaign. The experience of previous national elections since the armistice proves this.

* * *

Hard for Senators To Dodge Issue

TO protect Senators from defeat on this issue the League Court protocols are always referred to as World Court protocals and signers of petitions for their ratification are never told that the court is really a part of the League.

This year with war threatening to break out any time between Russia and Japan, and with warlike preparations going steadily forward in Europe, it will be hard for senators who are up for re-election to dodge the question of where they stand upon the League and the League Court.

At the hearing on May 16 the arguments of American organizations and patriotic societies and representative citizens who are opposed to the ratification of the League Court protocals will be delivered in the presence of the entire Committee on Foreign Relations. No member can afford to be absent from that hearing without subjecting himself to the suspicion that he is running away from the greatest issue now before the committee.

The members of the committee who have most at stake in this hearing are those senators who are up for re-election this year. These senators are: Pittman, of Nevada, chairman; Connally, of Texas, and Bachman, of Tennessee—all Democrats. Also, Senators Johnson, of California; Reed, of Pennsylvania; Fess, of Ohio; La Follette, of Wisconsin; Vandenberg, of Michigan, and Robinson, of Indiana—all either Roosevelt Progressives or Republicans.

Leading the fight for the report and ratification of the League Court protocals is Senator Pittman, who was one of the original advocates of the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles, which included the covenant of the League. Senator Pittman is also advocating the abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine on the grounds that it is obsolete. Of the internationalists in the Senate today the senator from Nevada is the most aggressive leader.

* * *

Senator Johnson Leads Fight

LEADING the fight against reporting the League Court protocols at this session is Senator Johnson of California, who was in the forefront of the victorious fight that kept the United States out of the League in 1920.

Whether the remainder of the Roosevelt relief program is to be put in jeopardy and Congress kept in session indefinitely will depend in large part on what happens within the next two weeks in the Committee on Foreign Relations. If that committee votes against reporting the League Court protocols at this time, the Roosevelt relief program will be put through and Congress will adjourn within a month.

The members of the Committee on Foreign Relations whose votes upon this question will probably determine the verdict of "the great committee of the senate" are Connally of Texas, whom Vice President Garner is supporting for re-election, Senator Bachman of Tennessee, democrats; Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, Senator Fess of Ohio, and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. All these Senators are candidates for renomination and re-election this year.

Human Side of the News

The Return of the Sealing Fleet—Capt. Abram Kean, Nearly 80, Who Has Taken a Million Seals

By Edwin C. Hill

THE MEN who went up to the Arctic in ships are coming home. The shrill sounds of the sirens are flung back in echoes from the sides of Signal Hill and South Side Hill, as, one by one, the sealers break through the ice of the Narrows, steer true between Chain and Pancake Rocks and sail into the land-locked harbor of St. John's far off in Newfoundland, the most easterly city of our continent.

There has been jubilation along Water street and the wharves of St. John's this season. For the pelts are many, more than 200,000, a record catch by the little fleet of eight ships. And the man of the hour is bronze, trim-bearded Capt. Abram Kean, who, man and boy for 69 years, has sailed the north seas. Capt. Abram, approaching his eightieth birthday, has returned with his millionth seal and is the king of the sealing masters. No doubt about that. No one has ever come near his record, climaxed when he sailed the Bethic to her dock, beneath the black cliffs, with 47,000 pelts aboard, making his lifetime kill, one million, seven thousand seals.

* * *

Small Remuneration Satisfies Them

GREAT RISKS and small pay—such is the lot of the seal hunter, and such it has been since Elizabethan days. Into one month, each year, he crowds adventure and hardship enough to do an ordinary man a lifetime. And if his pay for that month is $125 he has had a good season. And he is counted fortunate if he gets one-third of that sum. Giants of men, they look ponderous and slow in their boots, heavy clothing, and caps which cover their ears. And yet bred into them by generations, which have wrestled with seals on cakes of ice, is the agility of acrobats.

They set out, 150 of them to a ship—an old steel tramp, or a stoutish bark of oak and iron—in mid-March for the ice floes off the coast of Labrador. They have only from the 15th of that month until the first of May to get their seals, with Sundays excepted, because no killings are permitted on the Sabbath and each ship has a parson aboard who sees to it that this restriction is obeyed.

The herds of seals have preceded them to the north. These mammals travel in great migrations, coming south in the fall to feast upon millions of cod on the Grand Banks and starting back for the Arctic in February. And it is during this return that the young are born, altogether in the space of two days around the 28th of February. And this breeding season, which occurs on the ice floes off the Labrador Coast, is the killing season for the sealers. The young are the rich prizes, because of the thick layer of pure white fat which is found under their hides. The North Atlantic seal has no fur value. He is hunted for the leather tannery and not to adorn a shop window, or a lady's back.

But sometimes the seal-hunters who take to the ice-floes do not get back to the ship. There is the story of the crew of the Greenland, 48 men, who were frozen to death in a blizzard in 1898, and the tale of the fate which befell the 77 of the Newfoundland in 1914. Fire, ice and snow are ever-present perils. Seven out of 10 of the sealing ships make the one trip too many from which they never return.

* * *

Fur-Seal Herd Returns to Alaska

LET US turn now to another ocean, to another drama put on by Mother Nature and to the seal of the North Pacific, the true fur-seal, which gives the ladies their sealskin coats. The herds are on their way back to the rookeries of the Pribiloff Islands, in Bearing Sea. Where they have been all winter, no one knows, but they have been far south, and now, driven by mysterious instinct, they are returning to their breeding grounds in the north. And with them travels the Alaskan patrol of the United States Coast Guard to see them safe from marauders.

Almost too late did the government step in to save the seal from extinction. Scarcely more than 100,000 animals were left in 1911 from the millions of 1870. Piracy, battles and international disputes marked the rivalry of the American, British, Russian, Japanese and Canadian fur hunters while the wanton decimation of the herds went on. But the treaty of 1911 stopped all this. No longer was the Alaskan seal coat to be the common badge of affluence for Main street and Broadway. Uncle Sam took the seal under his protection and has seen to it since, that he goes unmolested to and down the Pacific. And the result has been that his number has increased almost ten-fold.

As I write, more than a million of the fur-bearers are making their way from the balmy waters of the tropics to their rendezvous in Bering Sea. Along the 3,000-mile highway of the sea, the Coast Guard is their close protector. Once on the rocks of Pribiloff, the giant bull seals will set up their homes and jealously guard their harems. The pups will be born, fed and reared and in the fall the herds will head back for the south. All but 50,000 of them, selected from the three-year-old males and the young bachelor class. Uncle Sam marks these 50,000 out and hires 300 Aleut tribesmen to kill them and turn them into a million dollars worth of fur.

But all the hardships and adventure and desperate chances of seal-hunting are as nothing compared to the marvellous epic of the seal himself, the story of how his instinct carries him up and down the world in his seasons, from pole to pole, but returning always to the same nurseries, as certain as the stars in their courses, one of the enthralling mysteries of the life the Creator gave this world.
